LATE BULLETIN LESS HOPEFUL FOR THE KING

The Statement That His Majesty Is in Pain Causes Gloom.

IS DISCOURAGING, BUT NOT ALARMING

Still a Belief That a Second Operation May Be Found Necessary.

CROWDS CELEBRATE CORONATION DAY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 27.—Buckingham palace was closed for the night rather later than usual. It is understood, however, that the king's strength and progress are maintained and it is not anticipated that there will be any necessity of issuing another bulletin before 10:30 this morning.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by New York Herald Co.)

London, June 26.—The first discouraging bulletin since the king's illness was issued at 11 o'clock tonight, and although not in itself alarming, caused gloom everywhere. All during the evening disquieting rumors were circulated in the lobbies of the house of commons, and a few minutes before 11 o'clock an official statement was telegraphed from Buckingham palace which stated that the king had passed a fairly comfortable day and had sustained strength. There was a return of a desire for food, which had to be very carefully given. But the alarming portion of it was that there had been a return of pain in the wound.

The fact that there was pain was taken as an indication that a second operation may be performed. Closely following this announcement came another that further advices from the palace might be issued about 1 o'clock, in the morning. It was subsequently learned that the pain undoubtedly was caused by the fact that liquid food had been given to the king. One of the symptoms of the disease is a craving for nourishment. Hospital patients usually believe when food is denied them that they are starving to death. The afternoon bulletins had been more cheerful in tone, and the change in the evening came as a great disappointment.

Still "Coronation Day."

London never looked brighter or gayer in the dazzling sunshine than it did today, which had been set apart for the coronation of the king. It was a trifle warm, but a cooling breeze rippled the flags and bunting, and threw refreshing sprays of dancing mist from the fountains in Trafalgar square.

Pall Mall, Piccadilly, the Strand and Fleet streets were jammed and congested with vehicles of all descriptions, from the cart of the gibing costermonger to the stately coach of royalty with pompous servants in red coats and powdered wigs. Different in many respects from that of the day before was the scene about Buckingham palace. Throngs of people were out early to learn what progress the king was making, but the reassuring character of the early bulletins sent most of them on their way rejoicing, and with lighter hearts.

Little of interest happened outside the palace during the long watches of the night. Occasionally the stillness would be broken by the arrival of conveyances filled with belated sightseers, who stopped to gather the latest information, and then proceeded on their way.

One incident of the night was furnished by an elderly, respectably dressed woman, who, just before daybreak, came walking slowly up the Mall. When opposite the palace gate, she dropped on her knees in the attitude of prayer.

Inquiries at the Palace.

Cyclists came early to make inquiries, but at 9 o'clock there was only a small crowd outside the railings. People came and went during the day, but manifested more curiosity in the distinguished visitors and their carriages, than in what might be happening inside the palace. The duke of Connaught and Princess Margaret of Connaught drove up about 10 o'clock. The princess left after a quarter of an hour, but the duke remained some time longer. Princess Victoria drove out about 9:30, remaining about an hour.

The crowd outside the palace was greatest between 10 and 11 o'clock, when servants bearing baize-covered boards containing bulletins came out of one of the palace doors. A rush was made for them and they were eagerly questioned, but they gave no heed, and quietly hung up the bulletin board. The man who put the board in the royal mews in the palace road was almost mobbed as he proceeded to his destination.

Prince Christian called at the palace just after the morning bulletin was issued. The prince and princess of Wales, Prince and Princess Henry of Prussia, the duke of Cambridge and most of the foreign envoys called during the day.

The duke of Connaught seemed more communicative than the rest, and authorized the representatives of the press to state the king's constant temperature

LONDON SHOCKED BY THE DISCOURAGING NEWS

LONDON, June 26.—Bad news came tonight from the king, after a day of cheering intelligence. London is again cast down and fears a fatal outcome. This, the appointed day of the coronation, was as beautiful as June ever renders, and the bulletins from Buckingham Palace were the most encouraging since the king fell ill. The physicians reported in the forenoon that their patient had a restful night, was stronger and had appetite. Royal visitors to the palace spoke hopefully when they left. The news of the afternoon was confirmatory of the earlier indications. The populace gathered comfort and the city seemed every way brighter.

Tonight comes gloom again. A bulletin issued at 11 o'clock contains the usual hopeful phraseology of medical men in charge of distinguished patients, but closes with a sentence that causes foreboding. There is increased pain in the wound. Men say this means a second operation and probably death. Experts think the pain is the effect of taking liquid food.

ON KING'S ORDER ROYAL PARDONS ARE NOT DELAYED

King Edward Insists on Coronation Favors Being All Extended.

QUEEN EXPRESSES HER STRONG HOPE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, June 27 (midnight).—Queen Alexandra sat with her husband all the evening, and only left him after he had fallen into a peaceful sleep.

The king's courage and good temper are remarkable and today he personally wrote several telegrams and one or two notes.

As evidence of the king's persistent refusal to efface himself from his connection with state affairs, and in corroboration of the statement that the physicians are satisfied with their patient's condition it is claimed that, besides personally opening telegrams on Wednesday evening, King Edward then insisted upon a full inspection of the honor list. There was one appointment of considerable importance which had not been definitely decided at that time, the king approved this nomination and gave the final order to the department interested, thus saving one of the recipients of honor from severe disappointment.

To the hopes of a favorable issue of the king's illness no less an authority than the queen gives encouragement. Writing to the lord mayor of London, Sir Joseph C. Dimsdale, today, to thank him for his expressions of the sympathy of the city of London, Queen Alexandra says, through her secretary:

"The queen rejoices to think that the bulletin of this morning gives a favorable report of the king."

Following the expressed desire of the prince of Wales the arrangements for illuminating the city which involved the costly erection of set pieces for electric and gas lights, will be allowed to remain and will be utilized. "Immediately it is authoritatively announced that the king is out of danger."

By the king's personal desire the royal pardons of offenders in the army will go into effect just as if the coronation had occurred. The last intimation suitably brings to a close the day which was to have been notable in English history and which, from the viewpoint of the public, has passed in that mediocrity which is attached to all things that are neither wholly good nor wholly bad.

The arrangements for the Marlborough house entertainment of children were carried out today in spite of the postponement of the king's coronation. About 1,300 youngsters enjoyed the dinner provided for them by the prince and princess of Wales, who were present and remained in the gardens with their little guests for a couple of hours.

SIR WILLIAM DECLINED.

Does Not Want Peerage and Seat in House of Lords.

LONDON, June 26.—Previous to making up the list of coronation honors, which was issued yesterday, King Edward sent a letter to Sir William Vernon-Harcourt, liberal member of parliament, offering him a peerage.

Sir William, in his reply, explained his appreciation of this offer, but added that after 34 years in the house of commons he was reluctant to enter the sphere of his political work, and he, therefore, declined the honor tendered.

CARNEGIE MEN ASTONISHED BY WAGE INCREASE

Fifteen Thousand Men Receive Ten Per Cent Advance.

All of the unskilled employes of the Carnegie Steel Company, nearly 15,000, have had their wages voluntarily increased 10 per cent. This will make the wages of the lowest laborer $1.65 a day. Tonnage men and men working under a scale are not affected.

The increase goes into effect without the knowledge of the men and at once. No notices have been posted of the increase, and the officials of the company refuse to give any information further than that the advance has been made. It comes as an entire surprise to the employes.

Yesterday the employes of the Edgar Thomson furnaces, Braddock, were the first to be paid. Then commenced the trouble of the paymasters and timekeepers. When the men received their checks and looked at the amount they found a sum different from that on which they had calculated. Men with knitted brows and troubled looks would hunt up the timekeepers and paymasters and tell them that a mistake had been made.

As the men would go away smiling on receiving the information that their wages had been increased, others were going up to report what were thought to be errors. For some time it was supposed that the increase had been to individuals, or to men on certain work, but as all of the men received checks calling for more money, the conclusion was reached that there had been an advance all around.

The same scenes were experienced at the Edgar Thomson steel works. All day long timekeepers and paymasters were kept busy explaining that the men were to get more money, not only for this pay, but for the future. The men were also informed that the instructions from New York were that the increase was to be in the nature of a surprise. Any number of men made the remark: "This is one of Charlie Schwab's tricks."

The men affected by the increase are those employed in the Upper and Lower Union mills and the Lucy furnace, Pittsburgh, and the plants at Braddock, Rankin, Homestead and Duquesne. Some of these will be paid today.

The lowest paid man heretofore employed has been receiving $1.50 a day. He will hereafter receive $1.65 a day. As the increase is to all men not employed on tonnage or on scale, the increase affects pipe fitters, machinists, engineers and many other high-grade men, some of whom receive $3 and $4 a day.

It was reported yesterday that the tonnage and scale men were soon to receive an advance. There was nothing authoritative to this report, but as steel is now selling at top-notch prices, the tonnage and scale men say that it is about time for them to get more money.

PANAMA CANAL MEASURE UP TO THE PRESIDENT

That Route Wins Easily in the Conference of the Houses.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
933 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.

An inter-oceanic canal seems assured, only the signature of President Roosevelt being necessary to make the Spooner bill, which favors the Panama route, a law. The senate agreed to the report of the conference by a practically unanimous vote, while in the house the vote was 252 to 8.

Amidst a general Democratic and Republican love feast, the house today adopted the senate substitute for the isthmian canal bill. In the brief debate which preceded the concurrence in the report of the conferees, all the speakers on both sides of the chamber

BLUE OF YALE FLOATS ABOVE THE CRIMSON

HARVARD FOUR WINS, FRESHMEN ARE TIED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New London, Conn., June 26.—Rowing within 10 seconds of record time, the Yale 'varsity crew this afternoon lowered the colors of the fastest eight that Harvard has yet produced. Yale won by four boat lengths. Yale's time was 20:20, Harvard's 20:33. In the four-oared race the colors of Harvard were borne to the front. The Cambridge four won by two and one-half lengths.

In the freshman race Yale's crew led over the last mile until within a few feet of the finish, where the Harvard crew by a magnificent spurt jumped their shell up even with the blue. The judges were compelled to decide that the race was a draw.

Twenty-five thousand people saw old Eli's crew row to victory in the big 'varsity race. But while the crowd was great it was the presence of President Roosevelt which made the crowd unique in the history of Yale and Harvard races.

The president saw the finish of all three races from aboard the Dolphin, which was anchored just above the finish line. He declined the invitation of the regatta committee to go aboard Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt's launch, the Mirage, preferring, he said, to remain aboard the Dolphin, where he could be with his family. The eyes of 25,000 people, however, searched yacht after yacht in hope of a glimpse of the president.

Perfect Weather at Last.

After a stormy night and a morning which seemed to mean postponement of the races until Friday, the afternoon finally became a cloudless day of almost perfect weather for shell racing. The wind blew quartering on the course from the northwest, but with the exception of the 'varsity four-oar race the crews could not have had much better water. More yachts than ever before in the quarter of a century of Yale and Harvard races on the broad Thames were anchored along the last mile and a half of the course.

Rough water necessitated the postponement of the 'varsity race from 4 until 6 o'clock. The 'varsity four-oared race was rowed a few minutes before 3 o'clock. The wind at this time was blowing a gale, and Referee William A. Meikleham decided to postpone the freshman race and also to postpone the 'varsity race.

A quarter of an hour before 6 o'clock the referee steamed over the course in Mr. August Belmont's launch, the Scout, and blew a long blast of the whistle, notifying the crews to get ready. The long observation trains on either bank of the river were by this time lying alongside of the starting flag. Filled from end to end, not an empty seat, the two big trains bearing over 5,000 people were bright with the gowns of pretty women and the colors of Harvard and Yale.

Mighty cheers resounded among the green hills of Montville and Gales Ferry as the Harvard eight rowed over to the start, five minutes before 6 o'clock. Yale

CANONSBURG'S CENTENNIAL A GREAT EVENT

STREET PARADE A UNIQUE FEATURE

BALLOON ASCENSION AND PYROTECHNICS

By JOHN P. COWAN,
Staff Correspondent.

Canonsburg, Pa., June 26.—The citizens of Canonsburg today celebrated the 100th anniversary of the incorporation of the ancient town as a borough. It was a gala day such as the old hamlet never saw before. From all parts of Western Pennsylvania throngs came to participate in the natal festivities, and more than 10,000 visitors were entertained. Men who were reared in the Chartiers valley and who have gained fame in various walks of life returned to share with the quiet country folk the patriotic pride in Canonsburg's prosperity.

The Rev. Dr. John R. Paxton, the eminent New York divine, who spent his boyhood in the old town, was upon the speakers' platform and in a characteristic address told of the interesting history of the borough that was built on a portion of George Washington's Western Pennsylvania estate. A tablet to the memory of Colonel John Canon, the founder of Canonsburg, was erected upon the walls of the town hall. Incidental to the celebration several family reunions were held and everybody kept open house. A civic and military procession through the bunting-decked thoroughfares marked the opening of the celebration and the evening was given over to concerts, a balloon ascension and a display of fireworks.

Historic Campus Gay.

The historic campus of the old Jefferson college was gay with life as in the heyday of long ago, when it was noted as the leading educational institution of the west. On the green sward and under time-honored class trees—monuments to the youth of famous men—thousands gathered during the sunny afternoon to attend the formal exercises. Gray-haired men, descendants from the pioneers who built the first log cabins in the Chartiers valley, were there. Some came on crowded trains and some drove in farm rigs many miles across the country, but all were there to listen to eloquent men tell of Canonsburg's wonderful growth and of its early history. Pretty girls—and they are famed for their beauty in Washington county—came in their prettiest summer gowns to grace the big festival.

Music of church bells and whistles at dawn was the prelude to the celebration. Special trains on the railroad and crowded buggies and wagons from the countryside in the early morning brought a crowd that soon filled the streets of the little city. At 10 a. m. the parade, headed by Chief Marshal W. H. Paxton, moved in the following order:

G. A. R. band of Pittsburgh; Paxton post, No. 126, G. A. R.; John R. Paxton camp, Sons of Veterans; centennial committee, speakers and members of the borough council in carriages; Washington Municipal Military band; Company H, Tenth regiment, N. G. P.; Knights of Pythias; Canonsburg lodge, I. O. O. F.; Allegheny brass band, local council, Junior O. U. A. M.; inmates of the Pennsylvania Reform school, Morganza; Thompsonville band, fire companies of Canonsburg and South Canonsburg; rural mail carriers, wagons containing children and more than 50 floats representing the various industries of the town.

Over 3,000 Marchers in Line.

The parade was unique in many respects. There were over 3,000 marchers in line and the floats were more pretentious than usually seen in a country town. Young women dressed in white rode in gaily decorated wagons labeled "Our Girls," and right proud Canonsburg is of its pretty girls, too. The fire companies turned out with two elderly goats attached to a sign, "Our Buttin." The goats evidently understood the legend on the banner and in an energetic manner did their best to give the pun a practical test by charging furiously into the crowds of sightseers on the sidewalks.

After the parade all eyes were directed from the street into the sky while Mlle. Zeno ascended to the heavens in her balloon, and at an altitude of 1,000 feet made a thrilling leap in a parachute. After this the hospitable homes were thrown open and the visitors were dined in royal style, the poultry yards all over Washington county being called upon to furnish the choicest birds for the chicken dinner.

W. B. Chambers presided at the formal exercises, which were held on the campus before 7,000 people. The Rev. W. F. Brown conducted the devotional exercises. S. Blaine Ewing read the history of Canonsburg, the Rev. David Reed Miller contributed an original poem, the Rev. Dr. M. F. Riddle of the Western Theological seminary, Allegheny, spoke of the early religious history of Canonsburg and Western Pennsylvania, and the Rev. Father A. A. Lambing, president of the Western Pennsylvania Historical society, read a paper on "The Early Roads and Byways of Pennsylvania," in which he made numerous references to the importance of the old pike through the Chartiers valley. A glee club enlisted from local talent sang several lively songs and Guentner's band from Pittsburgh gave a concert. The principal address was made by Dr. Paxton.

Were Reluctant to Go.

In the evening the crowd seemed reluctant to go. The guests had met so many old friends and had been so royally entertained that the poultry larder suffered a second time. The country folks led their horses in the streets and went out on the common at sundown to watch another balloon ascension and the fireworks. The bands stationed themselves at various corners through the town and music—good, old-fashioned music—filled the balmy air. The girls who had charge of the church charity booths in the streets still had lots of candy and souvenirs to sell, and the celebration went on by torchlight.

Refreshment stands were everywhere. The jubilee singers sang weird songs in a tent theater, the Punch and Judy man made the youngsters laugh and the popcorn dealer supplied the revelers with great white balls of the favorite holiday sweetmeat.

Parlors were lighted up and receptions were held in nearly every home tonight. To say good bye brought tears to many eyes when the visitors left. It was the greatest day in the old town's history.

Canonsburg's centennial did not take place on schedule time. On the 22d of last February 100 years had elapsed since the legislature of Pennsylvania granted a charter to the thriving burg in the Chartiers valley, but the people did not regard midwinter as a favorable time to hold a centennial celebration, and postponed the festivities until today. It was in accord with a plan that royalty often follows in the celebration of birthdays, and as century anniversaries so seldom come, the people hit upon a wise plan. The success of the centennial eclipsed the most sanguine hopes of the committee which has devoted months to the arrangements for the great day.

The Old Log Cagin.

It was appropriate, too, that the college campus should be selected for the celebration. When Col. Canon laid out the town in the wilderness upon ground then owned by George Washington he gave a plot for Dr. John McMillan's academy, and soon the humble educational institution, which was born in a log cabin, was chartered as a college, and henceforth gave the community some of its brightest intellects. The original cabin where the school was founded not long ago was moved from the McMillan farm near Center church to the campus, and today was visited by thousands who came to pay tribute to the memory of the illustrious educator who introduced Latin and Greek and higher mathematics among the backwoodsmen of those early days.

While Dr. Paxton told of Dr. McMillan's achievements today, Andrew McMillan, a descendant of the founder of the college, sat in the throng listening to the orator, few recognizing him as the grandson of the man who accomplished so much for higher education in Pennsylvania. Mr. McMillan lives quietly upon the farm near Center church, where the school was first founded in 1790.

Canonsburg's old buildings—The Blackhorse tavern, famous in the whisky insurrection; Ft. Job, formerly a dormitory of Jefferson college, and the scene of many boyish pranks; the site of Col. Canon's homestead where Washington was entertained, and the Paxton residence—all were decorated and attracted many visitors.

COL. CANON AND PIONEER DAYS WERE LAUDED

LIT TORCH OF LEARNING

Dr. Paxton Graphically Portrayed Early Days and the Prominence of the Man Who Was Responsible for Higher Education.

By J. N. PATTERSON,
Staff Correspondent.

Canonsburg, Pa., June 26.—A feature of the centennial celebration was, of course, the entertainment of the descendants of Col. John Canon, the first reunion of his descendants in the Chartiers Presbyterian church, and the presentation of the bronze memorial tablet to the town by the Canon descendants. After wandering up and down the picturesque, hilly streets of the town, which have lost nothing of the primitive by grading in these many years, and gazing upon the old walls of the once famous Jefferson college, the history of whose graduates will long endure to the Revolutionary leader's memory after the pomp of centennial celebrations has been forgotten, the three-score descendants watched the course of the parade as it crossed and recrossed the few prominent thoroughfares to the family reunion. Here traditions sacred to the memory of the man of Whisky insurrection fame were told and an enthusiastic rivalry was developed in regard to the possession of ancient heirlooms.

An elaborate dinner was provided and a committee of escorts was in readiness to see that nothing was missed of the historic sights and in every way the descendants were made to feel that the town was theirs, at least for the time being, as it was the property of Col. Canon, when he first received the land grant from the government.

Were Four Generations.

There were four generations of the descendants of Col. Canon in attendance, the oldest representative being Miss Matilda Baird Patterson, whose mother was Jean Canon, a daughter of the founder, and Mrs. Margaret Canon Fulton, of Burgettstown, 80 years of age, was another representative of the second generation of the descendants. As none of the sons of Col. Canon were survived by issue in the male line, there was unfortunately no perpetuator of the name to take part in the reunion.

Thomas Patterson, the Pittsburgh attorney, and a great-grandson of the founder of Jefferson college, the first institution of higher learning west of the Alleghanies, presented the memorial tablet to the town and was a prominent figure of the day's ceremony. The presentation exercises which opened the real program of the day, at 1 o'clock, were held in front of the town hall on Main street. Mr. Patterson presented the memorial from a temporary platform erected beneath the tablet to an open air audience which filled the street.

Mr. Patterson assured the burgess and members of council of the hearty manner in which the descendants had been received and dwelt upon the satisfaction which the reverence in which his great-grandfather's name was held gave to those who acknowledged him as an ancestor. As a son of Prof. Robert Patterson, who had held a chair in old Jefferson college, founded by Col. Canon, the speaker referred with especial feeling to the prominence once held by the institution, which ranked then among the first in the country, and called attention to the fact that the influence whose limits could never be definitely bounded, was the best monument to the name of the man who was a leader in those rugged times.

The Whisky Insurrection.

With delicate reference to the Whisky insurrection, in which Col. Canon was opposed to the federal authorities, his great-grandson made plain that whatever the friend of leavining and the special agent of George Washington did, was done in the open and that any mistake was the result of honest if not infallible conviction of his duty and of the supposed wrongs of the people, for whom he was acting.

The members of the Canon descendants in attendance at the reunion were as follows: Miss Matilda B. Patterson, Pittsburgh; Thomas Patterson, Pittsburgh; H. R. Allen, Washington; C. B. Porter, Burgettstown; Miss Elizabeth B. Patterson, Sewickley; Mrs. Margaret Canon Fulton, Burgettstown; T. H. Baird Patterson, Pittsburgh; William Lord Patterson, Miss Mary Baird Patterson, T. H. Baird Patterson, Jr., Mrs. Elizabeth B. Patterson, Miss Jean Canon Patterson and Joseph Patterson, Sewickley; J. A. Scott, Miss Carrie E. Scott, Mrs. Leah M. Montgomery, Miss Ella M. Montgomery, Harry W. Montgomery, W. S. Fulton, Mrs. Cynthia Lee, Mrs. W. B. Porter, W. D. Porter and Miss Elta G. Porter, Burgettstown; Miss Flora B. Daugherty, Maynard Allen and Miss Helen M. Allen, Washington, Pa.

Dr. Paxton's Address.

In the services which opened on the old Jefferson college campus at 2 o'clock, the Rev. John Paxton, D. D., the noted divine, who was born and spent his early days in Canonsburg, where he now resides, graphically portrayed the character of Col. Canon, and the early days of Washington county, in his characteristic manner. Said he:

"When the people needed higher education Col. Canon lighted the torch of learning west of the Alleghanies; when they needed salt, which was $40 a bushel in those days, and not to be thought lightly of, it was Col. Canon who obtained a requisition from the government wherewith to obtain salt from Virginia; whatever was transpiring in Washington county, or in Canonsburg, in those days he was the central, the prominent figure; he was the pivot, and, to sum it up, Col. Canon was 'it.'"

Thus the New York divine referred to the founder of the town, and then followed with a description of the ways of the Scotch-Irish stock, who settled Washington county, in a manner which held the attention of the throng and brought forth cries of remonstrance when he attempted to retire when about half through his oration, which covered an hour's time.

He told of the hunting parties, the excursions against the Indians and the extreme ruggedness of the natives who took up their sections of government property, cleared the timber and worked out a living by the sweat of their brow. After telling of a devout old woman whom he knew and who, at her request, passed away to the whistling of "Listen to the Mocking Bird," by her minister, instead of the accompaniment of long prayers, Dr. Paxton closed with a beautiful peroration.

One Sample for the U. S. S. Missouri Fails to Stop a Shot.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—A six-inch plate representing group four of the upper side casement armor for the battleship Missouri was tested at the Indian Head proving ground today.

Three shots were fired at the plate. The third one perforated it and the test, therefore, was not a successful one.

PROFESSING LOYALTY, SHARPENING KNIVES

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 26.—While professing loyalty to the ticket named at Erie, the Philadelphia Democratic leaders are sharpening knives. Ex-Judge James Gay Gordon, the principal spokesman of Wanamaker, returned today. He is chagrined over his failure to control the convention in opposition to Col. J. M. Guffey. In speaking of the ticket named by the Erie convention, Judge Gordon said:

"The Quay organs of the state, both Republican and Democratic, are circulating statements that the Philadelphia delegation bolted the convention and will not support the ticket. The first statement is false, and the latter will prove the same.

"We favored the nomination of that faithful and peerless Democrat, James Kerr, believing that he would make the strongest candidate. As Democrats desiring to see the success of the party, it was our duty to endeavor to have the man nominated whom we believed most able to bring about that success. A large majority of the convention differed with us and selected Mr. Pattison. The will of that majority must govern us, however much it may differ with our wishes or judgment.

"The Democracy of Philadelphia will heartily support all the nominees. The organization under the chairmanship of Mr. Donnelly will promptly indorse the ticket and do its utmost to poll every Democratic vote. If there are any stragglers or malcontents they will not be found in the ranks of the friends and supporters of James Kerr."

LATE BULLETIN LESS HOPEFUL FOR KING

was normal; that his majesty had passed a comfortable night. He had been able to see several members of the royal family during the day, including the queen, prince of Wales, Princess Louise, duchess of Fife, Princess Victoria and Prince Charles of Denmark.

The Queen's Devotion.

The queen is constantly in the king's room and is unremitting in her endeavors to lighten the burden of sickness. Her majesty yesterday communicated to the king the universal regret which had been shown in a multitude of ways, and the expression of which was to be found recorded in the daily press, as well as in the innumerable messages which have reached Buckingham palace. The courage which the queen has shown ever since the king's illness became serious has been an inspiration and an encouragement to all who have been brought into contact with her.

Both the prince and princess of Wales have borne the mental and physical strain of the past few hours with characteristic fortitude.

The king is deeply touched by the universal sympathy which has been manifested for himself and for the queen, and for all the royal family, in this time of sorrow and anxiety. He has repeated his earnest wish to minimize in every possible way the disappointment which has been occasioned by his illness. With this object, the king told the prince of Wales that he desired that the list of honors which was to have been published on the morning of the coronation, and publication of which, it was announced, would be postponed, should be issued as previously arranged.

Sympathy of Americans.

All the newspapers print conspicuously dispatches from the various parts of the world showing universal sorrow for the stricken king and the people; but most gratifying to the court and public at large are the evidences of good will and sympathy from the United States. News that prayers were offered in both houses of congress at Washington for the recovery of the king was especially gratifying.

At noon today a solemn service of intercession for the king's recovery was held in St. Paul's cathedral. Among the large congregation was the American ambassador and an attache of the embassy. A similar service at the same hour was held by the dean of the chapter of Westminster at St. Margaret's, the official church of the house of commons. Throughout the United Kingdom prayers were offered in the churches, irrespective of denomination and creed.

The Daily Mail says: "We understand on excellent authority that the progress of the king continues to be most satisfactory; indeed, recovery is now, humanly speaking, regarded practically certain. The greatest relief is felt in royal circles, we are pleased to be able to state, the queen, who visited the sick room several times during the day, expressing the keenest satisfaction. The king is answering every expectation of his doctors. His general condition is excellent. There are no organic troubles of any kind.

Now Permitted to Smoke.

"He is now able to see members of his family, to read the newspapers, open most of his own letters and telegrams, taking the keenest interest in what is being said and done in the world outside. He is now permitted to smoke. He also is able to take substantial nourishment, such as beef tea, milk and other light forms of diet.

"Immediate relatives of the royal family, who are now in London, will shortly leave the country. Prince and Princess Henry of Prussia will attend an informal luncheon tomorrow at the German embassy and will probably leave for Germany either Saturday or Sunday. It is generally understood, should his majesty's health permit, the coronation will undoubtedly take place toward autumn, only most probably, under quieter circumstances."

The Press Association says: "No harm whatever need be felt at the reference to a slight return of pain in the king's wound. The doctors regard it as quite a healthy natural sign. It is understood there has been no appreciable increase of temperature to correspond with the return of pain."

King's Illness Forgotten.

Anyone who had mingled with the crowds in the streets since the announcement of the coronation postponement, must have been struck by the apparent forgetfulness of the king's condition in the desire of the people to enjoy the holidays and see the decorations.

Considerable rioting was indulged in at Dunstable. A protest meeting was held and the crowd afterward proceeded to the residences of the mayor and rector, where, amid much hooting, windows were smashed. A move was then made to the Chiltern hills, where a great coronation bonfire was lighted contrary to orders.

A riot also occurred in Hemel, Hempstead, owing to the decision of the coronation committee to sell the beef and provisions obtained for the coronation dinner for the poor. The disappointed poor smashed the windows of members of the committee.

Pope Greatly Moved.

ROME, June 26.—The pope was much distressed when he heard of King Edward's illness and immediately telegraphed to Monsignor Merry Del Val, the special papal envoy, to convey his expression of sorrow to his majesty and keep the pontiff fully informed as to his condition.

SILENT THRONGS WEND THEIR WAY TO CATHEDRALS

DAY'S STRIKING FEATURE

In Every Land Where Britons Congregate Prayers for His Majesty Ascend to Throne of Grace—Impressive Scene at St. Paul's.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, June 26.—The most striking feature of Coronation day, as it is still called, was the universal substitution of services of intercession for those of rejoicing. These services occurred throughout the country and on board the great fleet that lies unreviewed in Portsmouth harbor.

At the hour when the king should have been crowned a great and distinguished gathering almost identical with that which would have sat in Westminster Abbey, gathered in St. Paul's cathedral. The approaches to the cathedral were lined by silent throngs, through which drove peers and peeresses, colonial premiers, foreign envoys, ambassadors and members of the house of commons, all in sombre clothes. In the chancel were Joseph H. Choate, the United States ambassador, and Mrs. Choate; Henry White, secretary of the embassy, and Mrs. White; John R. Carter, second secretary of the embassy, and Mrs. Carter; Whitelaw Reid, the special ambassador of the United States to the coronation, and Mrs. Reid; Mrs. W. S. Cowles, President Roosevelt's sister; Mr. and Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., and the leading members of the nobility. In the nave about a thousand of the Westminster Abbey ticket holders, mainly women, were seated.

Solemn Service Begins.

Shortly before noon the big western doors were swung open, sunlight streamed in and the duke of Cambridge, leaning heavily on the arm of an equerry, walked to the chancel.

As 12 o'clock struck there arose from the far end of the nave the clear notes of the opening sentences of the litany, chanted by four of the cathedral clergy. Their tones were in such unison that they seemed to emanate from one powerful voice. The choir took up the responses. At each supplication the procession, with the cross at its head, advanced a few steps and then stood still until the response was completed. Through the kneeling congregation the choir advanced to the chancel steps. A score of the clergy followed, and behind them were 10 bishops in gorgeous robes. Then came the most Rev. William Dalrymple MacLagan, archbishop of York; the most Rev. Frederick Temple, archbishop of Canterbury, and the lord mayor, Sir Joseph C. Dimsdale, the corporation, in full state, bringing up the rear.

With evident feeling the choir sang the three psalms of intercession, after which the Rt. Rev. Cosmos Gordon Lang, bishop of Stepney, read the lesson, Isaiah, chapter 38, verse 10:

"I said in the cutting off of my days, I shall go to the gates of the grave; I am deprived of the residue of my years."

Strong to Save.

The Rt. Rev. Arthur F. W. Ingram, bishop of London, from the altar steps, read the prayers: "O Lord, save the king." His voice rang out to the furthest recess of the dome and brought a whole-souled response from the choir and the congregation.

The anthem and the singing of the hymn "Thine arm, O Lord, in days of old was strong to heal and save," and Psalm 51, concluded the short service, whereupon the bishop of London, surrounded by the archbishops and bishops, from the altar steps, impressively pronounced the benediction.

For a few moments complete silence reigned and all heads were bowed in prayer, after which the almost blind archbishop of Canterbury was carefully led down the steps, the procession reformed and the congregation went out into the sunlight gladly discussing the wording of the morning bulletin from Buckingham palace.

THE KING'S PROGRESS TOLD IN BULLETINS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 26.—The following bulletin was posted at Buckingham palace at 11 o'clock tonight:

"The king has passed a fairly comfortable day and has maintained his strength. There is a returning desire for food, which has been very carefully given. There has been some return of pain in the wound.

"Signed, Treves, Laking, Barlow."

At 6:15 p. m. this bulletin was issued: "His majesty passed a good day and has taken nourishment well. He is less weak and his temperature is now normal.

"Signed, Lister, Treves, Smith, Laking, Barlow."

The 2 o'clock bulletin said:

"Signed, Treves, Laking, Barlow."

At 10:15 o'clock this morning this bulletin was issued:

"His majesty has had a better night and has had some refreshing sleep. He has improved in all respects. His constitutional condition is quite favorable and the state of his wound also is satisfactory.

"Signed, Lister, Treves, Smith, Laking, Barlow."

Methods of the King's Physicians Severely Criticised by Other Medical Authorities.

LONDON, June 26.—(Copyright.)—In the medical profession there are not wanting opinions which, so far from approving the course of action taken by the medical men in attendance on the king, criticise it severely.

In the first place it is asserted that they knew at least 10 days ago there was no probability that the king would be able to undergo the ordeal of the coronation. Had the public been notified at the time it would have saved thousands of pounds which have been spent in useless decorations and preparations.

But this afternoon several practitioners were even more severe. According to well authenticated reports the king has been allowed to sit up in bed and read newspapers; also that, besides the queen, who is in the sick room a great part of the time, his majesty had seen and talked to the prince of Wales and his three daughters.

"If this is true," said one practitioner, "it is running the greatest risk. For 48 hours after such an operation it is vitally important that the patient should lie as motionless as possible and see no one except the surgeons and nurses."

AMBASSADORS LEAVING.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid after the services at St. Paul's today were entertained at luncheon at the residence of Lord Lansdowne, the foreign secretary, when Mr. Reid formally took his leave as special ambassador.

The only remaining formality is his official leave taking of the prince of Wales, which will probably be arranged for tomorrow. Thereafter the American special embassy will dissolve, Mr. and Mrs. Reid, and Gen. James H. Wilson, who was to have represented the army of the United States at the coronation, and Mrs. Wilson, going to the continent, and the other members of Mr. Reid's suite scattering.

They will return later to London in their private capacity.

CITY OFFICIALS OF CLEVELAND HOLD ILLEGALLY

LEGISLATURE MAY MEET

Extra Session Seems Probable Because of Important Decisions Affecting Municipalities and County Officers' Salaries.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Columbus, O., June 26.—According to state officials an extra session of the Ohio legislature seems certain. The supreme court during the present week has declared a number of important laws to be invalid.

The court this morning declared the Cleveland charter law to be unconstitutional, and made an order ousting Mayor Johnson's government from office. The mayor alone of all his government forces will continue in office. A stay of execution is granted, however, until October 24.

The charter is knocked out on the ground of improper classification of cities. Under this decision it will require only the bringing of a suit to knock out every city government in the state of Ohio.

Decisions handed down today held unconstitutional a special law enacted for the city of Toledo, taking the control of the police out of Mayor Jones' hands. The court in the Trauger case directed Governor Nash to appoint a lieutenant governor. Lieutenant Governor Nippert was appointed probate judge of Hamilton county, and President (pro tem) Archer of the senate was supposed to succeed the lieutenant governor. The contention of Trauger that a vacancy in the office exists is sustained.

On Tuesday the court held special salary laws for county officers to be unconstitutional, so that now things in the cities named, as well as in 42 of the 88 counties, are left in a chaotic state.

CLEVELAND, June 26.—Mayor Johnson is in New York for a few days. During his absence Director of Law Beacom is the acting mayor. When asked what would be the effect of the supreme court's decision Mr. Beacom said that there would be no effect until October, when the mandate of the court would become effective.

As a result of the decision there will be a general upheaval of officials in the city's government. The directors of law, public works, fire, police and charities will be removed from office and, as a result, possibly the numerous clerks in their respective departments.

The federal plan law, under which this city is governed, centralizes all responsibility in the mayor, who is held to account for the faithful performance of duty. The law was attacked on the ground that it was special legislation.

Director Beacom says he can see no other way out of the tangle caused by the court's decision than a special session of the legislature and the passage of a municipal code bill. Cleveland was the first to adopt the federal plan, which was instituted in the spring of 1891. No other city in the state is governed under the federal plan, the enactment being such that it applied only to this city.

POSTAL WINS THE PENNSY BUSINESS

GETS TELEGRAPH RIGHTS ON LINES EAST OF THIS CITY.

Expects to Acquire Franchises on All Other Lines When Western Union Contracts Expire—Growth of the Company.

An agreement has been consummated between the Postal Telegraph and Cable Company and the Pennsylvania railroad Company under which the former company acquires exclusive right to transact commercial telegraph business on the lines belonging to the Pennsylvania railroad system east of Pittsburgh and Erie, and to string wires on the railroad company's poles and rights of way. The agreement is expected to take effect July 1, and the transfer of offices to the Postal system will be made as rapidly as possible after that date.

It is understood that similar agreements covering the remainder of the railroad company's system will be put in force as soon as the existing contracts with the Western Union company expire. The agreement just consummated will take away from the Western Union system and add to the Postal system all offices and the telegraph lines on 4,745 miles of railroad in a populous and important section of the country.

The Postal Telegraph and Commercial Cable Company's victory in connection with the Pacific cables, in which fight the Western Union company is said to have expended large sums of money, involves the loss to the Western Union of considerable future revenue.

The Postal within two years has made substantial gains in various other directions, notably in the acquiring of the branch offices in the principal hotels of the country. The company recently has opened offices in every important hotel on the St. Lawrence river, and has made numerous connections with railroads, particularly with roads extending into the newly developed copper and coal-producing territory in the south and southwest. Also, within the past few years, it has secured long-term leases in the most desirable locations in the larger cities of the country; has completely refitted its offices in those cities with new and improved apparatus, and is expending over $1,000,000 a year in the rapid extension of its lines in all directions. The Western Union Telegraph Company will lose 5,000 offices. The Postal has at present 15,000 offices, 52,751 miles of lines, 572,000 miles of wire, 13,159 miles of ocean cable, not including Pacific cable, 8,009 miles of which is now being manufactured, and will be laid and in operation some time during the year 1903.

The contract between the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Pennsylvania railroad was made in September, 1881, to run for 20 years, and thereafter until one party should give the other six months' notice of withdrawal. Under the contract of 1881, which affected all the roadbeds of the Pennsylvania within this state, the Western Union was allowed complete right of way, with free transportation of its employes and supplies. For this it paid the railroad a rental of $75,000. Out of this sum, under a later contract, $15,000 a year was deducted for privileges allowed to Pennsylvania officials over Western Union wires, leaving a balance of virtually $60,000 rental paid by the telegraph company.

Feeling that the railroad was not getting from these privileges the financial return which their value warranted Vice President Green, who conducted the negotiations for the Pennsylvania with Vice President and General Manager Baker of the Postal Telegraph, insisted upon more liberal terms in the agreement under negotiation since June 1. In consequence the annual rental was raised to $70,000, and the railroad will get a larger percentage than before of the office receipts at stations along its line. At the same time all the old advantages allowed the railroad officials will continue.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT A BIG SUCCESS

THE CLASS NUMBERED 238

An Excellent Program of Addresses and Music Was Given—The Valedictorian Was Prevented by Illness from Being Present.

The forty-fourth annual commencement exercises of the Pittsburgh High school were held last night in Carnegie music hall. The attendance was large, the program was interesting and the audience appreciative. So great was the crowd that it packed the third gallery. Outside there was a congestion of carriages, and at the close of the exercises the audience was requested to use the side exits as much as possible to prevent confusion.

Upon the stage there had been erected elevated seats, and upon these the 238 graduates sat. The misses attired in gowns of pure white and carrying huge boquets of roses, with the boys at their sides, presented a pretty picture, and when they arose to receive their diplomas the effect was beautiful.

The evening's program was void of any tiresome addresses, and at opportune times several musical selections were rendered by Toerge's orchestra. The exercises were opened with a prayer by the Rev. Frank W. Sneed, D. D., who at the close, pronounced the benediction.

Robert P. Forester, who was awarded second honor, took for his subject, "Tolstoi's Theory of Art," during which he said that the mission of art is to elevate the classics and this must be done through the agencies of the schools. Edna Theodora Demmler gave an interesting history of the Economite society from its inception. She was awarded second honor in the normal department.

Discussed Cecil Rhodes.

"Cecil Rhodes" was the subject discussed by Mortimer M. Steinfield, who spoke of the great achievements and wonderful character of that personality. In discussing the subject, "The Historical Novel," Minnie E. Schade dwelt upon the books of note, old and modern. Frank A. Vockrodt gave an interesting talk upon the matter of wireless telegraphy, and Grace R. Dodds spoke upon "The Day of Rest," declaring the question of Sabbath observance seems to be now principally with the government.

Herbert B. Jones discussed "The Renaissance in Pittsburgh," dwelling principally upon the influence of the library, public and at home. At the conclusion of the remarks of W. Norman Miller, upon President Theodore Roosevelt, the orchestra struck up a patriotic air, and the audience applauded vigorously. Emma Magdelina Notz took for her subject, "The Place For Me," in which she set forth the beauties of country life. She was awarded first honor in the normal department. On account of illness Harry Bluestone, who was awarded first honor, and was to speak upon "Republicanism or Imperialism," was not present. He was also to give the valedictory, and in his absence Director C. B. Wood took occasion to tender the thanks of the graduates to W. H. McKelvey, president of the central board of education. He also congratulated the pupils, after which the graduates were tendered their diplomas. The list of graduates is as follows:

WARD SCHOOL GRADUATES.

Closing Exercises Held at the Hiland Sub-District School.

The Hiland sub-district schools, Nineteenth ward, held their closing exercises yesterday morning. The eighth year and seventh year pupils, that is those who composed the high school class of this year, and those who will compose it next year from all the schools in the ward, were assembled at the Garfield school, where the board of directors and the faculty met them.

The exercises were opened with an invocation by the Rev. D. C. Martin. The address of welcome was made by Edna Slaskie and the valedictory by Edwin Ebbets. Recitations were given by Mildred Kirkwood and Rose Rahe. Ethel Ayres and Kenneth Banks played violin solos. Sara Writt sang and Nellie Hittner played a piano solo. D. L. Gillespie, president of the school board, presented the diplomas to the graduates and A. L. Schultz made a brief address in behalf of the seventh year class. A great many of the parents of the pupils and friends of the school were in attendance.

Claims He Was Robbed.

John Burke of Glassport claims to have lost $200 and a deed for his property during a two days' visit to Pittsburgh. Last Wednesday he drew the money from a local building and loan association and was advised not to return home that night. He was found the next night by a policeman in the rear of a blacksmith shop at Twelfth street and Penn avenue. When aroused from a stupor he said he had been robbed.

Killed by Live Wire.

George Webb, 28 years old, of Hemlock and Federal streets, Allegheny, was shocked to death yesterday, while repairing wires entangled by the storm of Wednesday. He touched a live wire and was thrown 30 feet to the street. He died a few minutes later.

Corking Little Prices for Men's and Boys' Summer Clothes.

It is not on account of the backwardness of the season that these remarkably special prices are quoted.

We do not use the backward season scarecrow.

Our time has arrived for marking-down Summer goods—especially ready-made things.

There is no apology to be made for the reductions.

Any man, for himself, or for his boys, can buy the best of clothing here today at prices that will leave him considerable spending money in his pocket.

In evidence we place these quotations before you.

Men's Suits at $12.50 that were $15 and $18. These are sack suits in fancy mixtures, stripes and checks. If plain colors are preferred (and there are lots and lots of men who will have none but plain colors), there are plain blue serges and black and blue cheviots.

Men's Suits at $17.50 that were $20 and $22. Sack suits in cheviots and mixtures. There are also stripes, checks, plaids and plain blue serges.

Young Men's Suits for $12 that were $15 and $18. Of undressed worsteds in brown and gray mixtures and dark gray herringbone stripes. Also plain blue and black in worsted, and Scotch effects in cheviots.

Young Men's Suits for $8.50 that were $10 and $12. These are mixtures, light and dark checks in cheviot, and also plain blue and black cheviot.

Big Boys' Suits for $3.50 that were $5. These are our special knee-pant suits made for us by one of the best boys' tailors in the country. Plain blue serge and striped effects in wool crash and flannel.

Little Boys' Sailor Suits for $2.50 that were $5 and $6. Serge in such plain colors as red, steel gray, dark and light blue.

Boys' Wash Suits—gingham, galatea and chambray—at $1 from $1.50—at $1.25 from $1.75 and $2—at $1.75 from $2.25 and $2.50.

Men who desire a good, serviceable Outing Suit, are invited to come today and choose at $9 from a line that sold for $12 and $12.50. Flannel Suits and wool crash suits in pretty and stylish summer effects.

Dimity Dresses, $10.

For women who can wear size 32, or any size between that and up to and including size 38.

In all fairness we must say there are only 25 suits to sell at the exceptional price named.

Just one of those neat little pick-ups that came to us—perhaps as a bid for increased orders in the future. We don't know. But this we know we never saw quite as charming suits for double the money.

Made blouse waist with white yoke effect and Bayadere folds of solid color. Skirt has long train with double flounce, edged with solid color folds.

It will interest you further to know that there are some pure white dresses in the lot, becomingly trimmed with laces.

Women and Their Summer Shoes. Q. Q.

$3.00 and $3.50 for regulation shoes.

$2.50 and $3 for Oxfords.

We carry so many different styles of boots and oxfords there is no difficulty whatever in securing a perfect and comfortable fit.

And that word comfortable is a wonderful word when it comes to shoe-fitting. No other article of dress can have it applied with so much meaning. A shoe may fit and not be comfortable. It cannot be comfortable and not fit.

Queen Quality Shoes are really the equal of many higher priced shoes, and are far, far ahead of any shoes that sell for similar amounts.

Twenty styles of Oxfords, a few styles $3, the larger number $2.50.

Forty styles of Boots, a few styles $3.50, the larger number $3.

Two New Skirts for Women.

One, a Walking Skirt of Cream Surf Serge, made in 19-gore flare style, with inverted pleat back. More style to it than we have seen in any skirt we have lately had to sell for a similar price, $7.50.

The other, Dress Skirts made of Cream Canvas. These skirts have graduated flare flounce, trimmed at top with stitched bands of taffeta, arranged in fancy designs. Price $17.50.

BRADDOCK PARK

PLAN OF LOTS

SATURDAY, JUNE 28

FREE

DISTRIBUTION OF LOTS

The thousands who were kept away last Saturday by the stormy weather from this remarkable opportunity to purchase real estate in the very heart of Greater Pittsburgh's greatest industrial section will be given another chance next Saturday.

One of the important features scheduled for this great occasion is the special free distribution of lots. This will occur at 5 p. m. Each person will receive a ticket numbered. Duplicate tickets bearing corresponding numbers will be thrown into a hat and drawn by a disinterested person blindfolded. The free lots will go to the persons holding the tickets with numbers to correspond to those on the first two tickets drawn.

But there is more here for you to think about than the free lot proposition! What we want you to consider most is the desirability of this property, how it is located, and why it is unquestionably the best real estate investment that can be found. Improvements are being made all over the plan, and many nice homes surround it and extend out quite a distance beyond it. There is no other home-site in all this region that is so close to the vast expanse of billion-dollar iron and steel industries which have made this market famous all over the world. Just ponder on this! A number of these colossal workshops are within walking distance of the plan. A five-cent car fare on the street cars, which run through the property, will carry you to any one of nearly fifty of these great works, where more than 50,000 men are employed daily, and where more than $3,500,000 are paid out in wages every two weeks.

The property adjoins the boroughs of Braddock and Rankin, and lies between the boroughs of Swissvale and North Braddock, and abuts on the Pennsylvania Railroad. The Short Line of street railway from Braddock to Wilkinsburg will pass through it.

It is just far enough removed from the works to be free from soot and dirt and has the best of water upon it. The great Pennsylvania water reservoir, from which this property will be supplied, is on the adjoining property.

The future of Braddock real estate is an assured fact. Only yesterday three purchases made in this vicinity by Pittsburgh and Turtle Creek capitalists aggregated $173,500. Just to think—a lot with these desirable features, in this community, where gigantic mills are already built and in operation, and others in course of construction that will employ a new army of 7,000 men—for the small price at which these lots are held! Is it not wonderful? Why! there is not a lot on the plan that will not double its value within the next six months.

Do you realize that lots in this cream property within five to ten minutes' ride of the greatest industries in the world, can be bought at $100 to $500 on easy terms that any workingman making fair wages can pay without feeling the outlay?

TERMS—10% down; 3% per month; 10% off for cash within 60 days; no interest for 2 years and no taxes until deed is delivered. Round trip car fare refunded to all purchasers from points within 100 miles from Braddock.

The title to this property is insured to the company by the Fidelity Title & Trust Co.

Don't forget that an opportunity to get such property at ground-floor prices cannot last long. It will pay you to make the start today. Agents are on the grounds all the time. Take the Pennsylvania R. R. to Hawkins Station, or any of the Yellow Line cars, to corner of Hawkins and Park Avenues, which are on the property.

GUTHRIE WILL PROBABLY GO ON THE TICKET

Would Rather Decline and Be a Candidate for Recorder Next Spring.

POSITION EMBARRASSING

By WALTER J. CHRISTY,
Staff Correspondent.

Erie, Pa., June 26.—The absorbing question among Democrats is whether George W. Guthrie of Pittsburgh will accept second place on the state ticket. Those well advised think that he will, even though he does so reluctantly.

Guthrie left for his home early this morning. He was accompanied by his valet. It is a bit unusual for a candidate for governor to take a valet to a state convention with him, and the action of Guthrie caused much comment among the Democrats. The rank and file is for the fellow who can buckle his own suspenders and change shirts without assistance.

Guthrie is not a happy man. He really did not want a nomination for lieutenant governor. If he could not get first place he had another ambition. He believes that he can be elected recorder of Pittsburgh next spring and does not want to go into that campaign hampered with a ticket at the November election. At the same time he knows it would be a difficult matter for him to decline the nomination.

Put Him in a Hole.

Guthrie is said to have remarked to his close friends when he learned that the convention had nominated him for second place that he had been placed in an embarrassing position. He realizes that the party expects him to accept. At the same time he knows that the place was not tendered him because of any love the leaders have for him. They believed it was good politics to name him and knew that if he declined, his action would place him in an unpleasant light with the party generally.

Guthrie knows what it means to decline an honor conferred upon him by the party with which he is supposed to be affiliated. For the past six years he has been on probation. The fact that the convention has offered him a place on the state ticket is evidence that Democracy is willing to give him another trial. In 1896 Guthrie was chosen as a Democratic elector. He took offense at the nomination of William Jennings Bryan and resigned from the ticket. The letter he wrote at that time was among a number that was used by the Republicans in their campaign. Not content with resigning from the electoral ticket, Guthrie is said to have contributed $500 to the Republican campaign fund. During his canvass for delegates he was asked if he had given the enemy financial aid and he never denied the story.

Pattison Goes Home.

Ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison, who will try for a third time to secure the gubernatorial chair, left for his home in Philadelphia this evening. He was not escorted to his native city by any of the Democratic leaders of that metropolis. During his ride across the state tonight he will have time to reflect on how things have changed since he was first chosen chief magistrate of Pennsylvania. The men who then fought like tigers for him are now at best lukewarm. Instead of riding home with him Gordon, Donnelly and Ryan left Erie almost before the entire ticket had been nominated. They will do enough this fall to keep within the party, but tears will not flow in November when they learn that Pennypacker has been elected and that Pattison even failed to save members of the legislature in those "close" counties. Yesterday Donnelly was asked to enter the same room in the Reed house with Pattison, and indignantly declined the invitation.

Pattison expects to tour the whole state this fall. His managers intend to issue a challenge to Judge Pennypacker for a series of joint debates on state issues. Where and when they propose to hold them has not been decided.

MINERS TO CURTAIL WORK.

Operations in Cambria County to Suspend Two Days of Each Week.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., June 26.—(Special.)—Forty thousand miners in the central Pennsylvania bituminous district No. 2, by order of President Gilday, will not work tomorrow and Saturday and only four days a week thereafter, for the purpose of reducing the output of coal one-third, in support of the striking anthracite miners. Every miner in Cambria county, except the large number in Johnstown and vicinity who are not members of the union, will obey the summons.

The only mines in the district that will probably not close down are the Berwind-White, employing 4,000 men, at Windber and Scalp-Level, Somerset county. The operators claim the action of the miners is a flagrant violation of the Altoona agreement of March. South Fork and Ehrenfeld, this county, are most affected.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., June 26.—(Special.)—About 50 Slavs and Hungarians were brought today to Tunnelton mines from near Scranton, Pa., to take the places of strikers. On arrival of the foreigners all the other miners still at work went out. Marshall Elliott has sent a force of deputies there to prevent Judge Jackson's injunction from being violated.

ZANESVILLE MAYOR FINED.

Is Assessed $100 by Police Judge for Contempt of Court.

ZANESVILLE, O., June 26.—Mayor Holden was this morning fined $100 by Police Judge Reed for contempt of court. The case was the outcome of Mayor Holden's insistence on his right to withdraw an affidavit charging a woman with adultery and his resistance to Chief of Police Tracy, when that officer, at the order of Judge Reed, attempted to put Holden out of the court room. He pleaded guilty, made a comprehensive public apology and promised to refrain from interference in police court matters hereafter.

FIGHT AGAINST LEAVING OHIO

Former Insurance Commissioner Circumvents New York Authorities.

GRAND LARCENY CHARGED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MANSFIELD, O., June 26.—(Special.)—When the news of the honoring of the requisition from the governor of New York for William H. Hahn by Gov. Nash reached here today, the attorneys for Hahn immediately set about to circumvent the New York authorities, and have done so, for the present, by causing the arrest of Mr. Hahn on the same charge upon which he is under indictment in New York, the grand larceny of $30,390 from the Manhattan Fire Insurance Company.

The warrant was sworn out by Prosecuting Attorney W. H. Bowers of this city, and Mr. Hahn, pleading not guilty to the charge of grand larceny, was given into the custody of Chief of Police Well who is to remain with him constantly until the preliminary hearing in mayor's court next Monday.

Sheriff Payne, who was instructed by telephone from Columbus to arrest Mr. Hahn, did not put in an appearance until after Hahn was in the custody of Chief Well, and, after telephoning the governor of the condition of affairs, the sheriff was instructed to do nothing until the arrival of the papers and the representative of the New York authorities from Columbus.

Hahn was for many years a prominent figure in Ohio state politics. He was Republican national committeeman from 1892 to 1896, when he was succeeded by Senator Hanna. He was at one time state insurance commissioner of Ohio, and was chairman of the state Republican committee at the time Mr. McKinley was elected governor. He was also president of the Mansfield National bank for many years.

Hahn was vice president of the Manhattan Fire Insurance Company of New York which went into the hands of a receiver on May 7, 1901. The company failed with liabilities of over $600,000 while the tenable assets were about $200. Just before the company failed a statement had been filed with the New York state insurance department showing the unimpaired capital stock to be $300,000 and a surplus of liabilities over assets of $40,000.

Hahn was jointly indicted with Daniel C. Myers, former president of the company. The investigation into the affairs of the company by the officials in New York, it is said, showed that the correspondence and books of the concern had been carried out of that state and the district attorney, who was acting for the state insurance department was greatly hampered thereby. Myers, was arraigned in Columbus last August, being charged with the larceny of $27,000.

SHOP INSPECTOR BRUTALLY BEATEN

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ALLIANCE, O., June 26.—C. C. Boggs, an inspector at the Morgan shops, is at the hospital in a critical condition, the result of a brutal attack made on him last night. Boggs stated to the surgeon who attended him that, while crossing Main street, about 10 o'clock, three men came behind him, and one struck him on the back of the head with a blunt instrument. Boggs was stunned, but was able to get to his hotel, and later was removed to the hospital.

The police knew nothing of the assault until late this afternoon. Boggs made a statement to the Morgan officials today, but they decline to give the names of the assailants, although they were identified. Warrants will be sworn out.

Turnfest at East Liverpool.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., June 26.—(Special.)—The district turnfest is to be held here during four days, beginning July 1. The program includes a reception to visiting societies, a torchlight procession, prize turning, competitive oratory and calisthenic contests.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

WOOSTER, O.—George Musser of this city was killed as the result of the breaking of a scaffold while decorating the ceiling in the Christian church.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—The first tube mill of the Youngstown Iron Sheet & Tube Company was started yesterday. The next mill will be started within 10 days and the third within two weeks.

STEUBENVILLE, O.—Engineer Edward Wiggins, who sustained a scalp wound in Monday's wreck on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad died yesterday at Gill hospital from inflammation of the brain.

GREENSBURG, PA.—Mrs. Thomas Baughman, the second of the Harrison City smallpox victims, died last evening, aged 22 years. A husband, who is down with the disease, and two children survive. Her sister died last week, aged 18 years.

BELLAIRE, O.—During the storm last night lightning struck the Rock Hill Presbyterian church, three miles east of this city, and the structure was destroyed by the fire which resulted. The loss, about $16,000, is partly covered by insurance.

MYERSDALE, PA.—The large grain elevator and feed store owned by Joseph Patton at West Salisbury, together with their contents, were destroyed by fire yesterday. The origin of which is unknown. Loss, $10,000; insurance, $4,300.

MASSILLON, O.—Perry Merrill, Jr., a machinist, was robbed of $35 and badly beaten by two footpads near his home last night. Both of his assailants, one of whom is a cripple, were arrested. The cripple used his crutch to knock Merrill down.

DUBOIS, PA.—The supervisors of Barnett township, Jefferson county, E. E. Dunkle and John Cook, have been arrested at the instigation of E. H. Dunkle, who charges them with neglecting to keep in repair the public road between Sigel and the Clarion river.

CLEARFIELD, PA.—Postoffice Inspector Wardell, who took charge of the postoffice at Wigton, Chester Hill borough, has found by the books that the postmaster, M. S. Adams, is apparently $1,000 short in his accounts. The office is being managed by the bondsmen for the present.

WOUNDED BODY IN A STREAM

LOST WAY IN DARKNESS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LIGONIER, PA., June 26.—The body of F. S. Kleindienst of Ligonier was taken from the bottom of Mill creek, half a mile above town, this afternoon, where it had lain since last night. Mr. Kleindienst, with his family, was visiting at the home of his father-in-law, Abram Clifford, and coming in from Johnstown last night, started to walk home. A heavy rain had been falling and the night was dark. It is thought the man lost his way in the darkness, and fell over the bank, striking his head on a stone.

The coroner rendered a verdict of death from a wound in the head, saying Kleindienst was probably dead before he fell into the water. Mr. Kleindienst was well known all over the state, having been proprietor of the Ligonier hotel some years ago, later clerk at the Zimmerman house, at Greensburg, and, in recent years clerk of the Merchants hotel, Johnstown. His widow and four children survive him. He was 45 years old.

There is no suspicion of foul play, as a sum of money and a fine gold watch were found in his pockets. The last assessment on a $3,000 life insurance policy with the Royal Arcanum had been paid this week.

WESTON, W. VA., June 26.—(Special.)—Matthew Heines, in attempting to cross the railroad bridge ahead of a train, was knocked off into Laurel creek. His body was carried down the swift stream and has not yet been recovered. He was a member of the lumber firm of Heines & Aiken.

BELLEVERNON, PA., June 26.—(Special.)—Late this afternoon the body of John P. Moran, who was drowned from the packet Rose Hite Tuesday night, was dragged from the river. Friends of the dead man had been grappling for 24 hours, but owing to a heavy wind were able to make but little progress. The coroner will hold an inquest tomorrow. Relatives of the dead man think he accidentally fell overboard. The porter on the boat claims to have seen Moran climb over the railing, then drop into the water.

Surveying Wabash Line.

WESTON, W. VA., June 26.—(Special.)—A corps of surveyors, running a route through this state for the Wabash railroad, came to Weston this afternoon and run a line through the heart of the town, traversing Third street. This route is up Leading creek from Gilmer county and down Polk into Lewis.

KING'S ILLNESS DRIVES VISITORS OUT OF ENGLAND

Railroads and Steamers Are Taxed by People Anxious to Leave London.

MOTLEY HOLIDAY CROWD

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, June 26.—Only today is London beginning to realize the practical effects of the coronation postponement. The exodus of visitors to the continent and the provinces is taxing the capacity of the railroads and steamships. This return traffic, however, in nowise makes up the railroad lines' loss of hundreds of thousands of passengers from the provinces and nearer continental points, who had delayed their coming to the last moment.

The big tourist agencies were crowded all day booking the cheaper class of "trippers," for whom London minus the coronation had no attraction. How much London's floating population has been reduced during the past 24 hours it is hard to estimate. All persons of moderate means who can go away are getting out of the city as quickly as possible. The smaller hotels and boarding houses are the worst sufferers. The big hotels declare they have been almost unaffected by the postponement of the king's crowning, the wealthier Americans and others who had come to witness the coronation making no move to go, though the next fortnight, doubtless, will witness a general migration to the continent and Scotland.

Americans Prepare to Leave.

The trans-Atlantic booking offices are flooded with inquiries for early passages by Americans for whom the coronation was the sole object of their visit to England.

The streets of the city today contained a curious mixture of Sunday and holiday crowds. All the banks and big business houses in the heart of the city were closed. Most of the retailers were open, and the saloons and restaurants of the cheaper sort did a fairly rushing business. Many of the usual "beau feater" class got out early on brakes and coaches, with horns and banners, singing "God Save the King" and presenting every evidence of mingled patriotism and beer.

Most of the railroads canceled their excursions, so the great bulk of the bank holiday makers was thrown back on the streets for amusements, and crowded the Strand, Holborn and the city parks. The motley swarm was reminiscent of Hampstead Heath or of the crowds outside a circus tent.

But it was an aimless, disconsolate crowd of holiday makers, the kind of a crowd which is created by any cause for celebration, and it drifted slowly back and forth looking at the remaining decorations, clustering around the bulletin boards and in some cases invading those of the coronation stands which had not yet been demolished, sitting in mock state and watching the passing throng.

Poor Reap a Harvest.

The majority of the holiday makers eventually gravitated to the cheap saloons and chop houses in search of rest and refreshment. The poorer classes reaped a harvest at the big markets, where was a glut of perishable foodstuffs which in many cases were given away for the sake of clearing the stands.

The great flower market at Covent garden presented a pitiful scene. Hundreds of cases of the choicest flowers were dying on the hands of the dealers. The small dealers were stocked up with roses, carnations and lilies, which were disposed of at a tenth of their usual current value. Orchids in many cases were given away.

Billingsgate market was glutted with salmon at 10 pence a pound, but meats at Smithfield farket were only a penny or a half-penny a pound below the normal price.

Erie Charged With Delay.

CLEVELAND, O., June 26.—On application of the Youghiogheny and Ohio Coal Company, Judge Phillips today granted a permanent injunction restraining the Erie Railroad Company, the Erie Coal Transfer Company and the Pittsburgh Coal Company from discriminating against it in the matter of handling its coal, it being claimed that there was intentional delay on the part of the defendant railroad company.

PRESIDENT WILL NOT CONSENT TO A LONG PARADE

In Consequence Allegheny Will Be Cut Out Altogether.

OPPOSITION TO BOULEVARD

Another Change Likely to Be Made Today Is Substitution of Fifth Avenue for Grant Boulevard, a Change That Would Please Many.

The proposed route of the parade of National guardsmen, escorting President Roosevelt to the stand from which he is to speak at Schenley park, which is to be one of the features of the Greater Pittsburgh Fourth of July celebration, must be changed. The president refuses to consent to take the all-morning jaunt that has been planned.

Members of the executive committee having the celebration in charge yesterday received word from George B. Cortelyou, secretary to the president, to the effect, in brief, that if the president was expected to appear in any parade the one contemplated would have to be materially shortened.

The route, as planned, commenced in the Allegheny parks, passed down Federal street and across the Sixth street bridge, made its way through Pittsburgh's business section via Liberty and Seventh avenues, to the new Grant boulevard and then over that thoroughfare to Schenley park.

Boulevard May Be Abandoned.

Those responsible for the comfort and safety of the president will meet today to take the action called for by Secretary Cortelyou's letter. Those who have the parade in charge will simply have to consent to changes being made. It is probable that the revised program will have the parade start from somewhere near the Union station, where the president can get into it just as soon as he arrives. He will have already breakfasted in his car when he reaches here.

And it is altogether likely that when the committee meets today to make changes that the Grant boulevard route will be entirely abandoned. A line of march out Fifth avenue can be arranged that will not interfere with the running of traction cars on Forbes street, so that all the people who want to get to Schenley park can do so without being materially inconvenienced by the temporary stoppage of cars on Fifth avenue during the passing of the president's escort.

Would Delight Thousands.

The abandonment of the Grant boulevard route would be hailed with delight by thousands. There has all along been marked opposition to that portion of the program. It was urged by those who favored that route that by taking the president over the boulevard he would have a better chance to observe Pittsburgh's diversified interests and features. The Fifth avene route offers fully as good an opportunity. From the Oakland end of Soho hill he can see the railroads, mills, smoke and hills of the South Side which are fully as attractive as those on the other side of the backbone over which Center avenue runs. The Monongahela river is more attractive than the Allegheny. It is a busier stream. Along Fifth avenue, just as along Grant boulevard, the president will see the homes of the rich and the poor.

What is more to the point, along Fifth avenue the people will have a chance to see the president and that is what many of them are waiting for. They want to have a look at the strenuous one who is at the head of this great nation whose birthday he comes here to help celebrate.

Barred Off the Boulevard.

With the Grant boulevard adhered to the people are not going to have as much of a show as they have been promised, for yesterday Director A. H. Leslie of the department of public safety announced that after making an inspection of Grant boulevard, and considering the possibility of accident during the passing of the Fourth of July parade, he had decided to instruct the police to keep all spectators off the route from the beginning of the boulevard in Seventh avenue to a point apposite the West Penn hospital.

Along that stretch there is really no point where spectators can rest except along the guard wall on the north side of the wall. A fall over that means an awful plunge downward of a hundred feet or more to the Pennsylvania railroad tracks. On the other side of the boulevard there is a sheer bluff rising up to Cliff street.

Knox Dinner to Be a Social Affair.

Attorney General P. C. Knox remained in the city yesterday and held brief conferences with Chairman A. J. Logan, George T. Oliver, chairman of the reception committee, and others connected with the general committee. He is satisfied that no detail is being overlooked and is well pleased with the manner in which plans for the entertainment of the president are being carried out.

Incidentally Mr. Knox was also busy planning for the dinner he is to give in honor of the president at the Hotel Schenley. This dinner has no political significance whatsoever. It is to be purely a social affair, at which the president will be given an opportunity to meet some of the men of affairs in Pittsburgh who have been closely identified with Mr. Knox in a business and social way for many years.

The presidential train, which will leave Washington over the Pennsylvania railroad on the evening of July 3, will be composed of a baggage car, a coach and the president's private car. On the car with the president will be the Hon. George B. Cortelyou, secretary to the president; Dr. John F. Urie, W. C. Latta, stenographer; Charles A. Cotterill, representing the Associated Press; E. H. Hazard, representing the Scripps-McRea Press association, and Walter E. Clark, representing the New York Sun Press association.

Most of the distinguished guests of the day will arrive on the evening of July 3 and take up quarters at the Hotel Schenley, which will be the headquarters of the executive committee during the celebration.

Rehearsal of German Singers.

A mass rehearsal of all the singing societies that are to take part in the big chorus at Schenley park will be held at Old City hall next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock under the direction of J. S. Vogel. Badges will be given out on that day entitling the members of the chorus to a seat in the chorus stand and none without a badge will be permitted to take part. The societies that have already been enrolled are:

Eintracht, Helvetia (Swiss), Orpheus, Bloomfield Liedertafel, Franz Abt, Liederkranz, Deutsch Ungarischer Verein, Frohsinn, Germania Liederkranz, Druiden Saengerbund, Braddock Turn and Gesang Verein, Cascella Maennerchor, Mt. Washington Maennerchor, Allentown Doppel quartette, Mt. Oliver, Beltzhoover Liederkranz, Odd Fellows' Liedertafel, Schillers' Glocke, South Side Turn Verein, Germania Saengerbund, Lorley Maennerchor, Duquesne Heights Maennerchor, Euterpia, McKees Rocks Maennerchor, St. Philomena Male chorus.

The Souvenir Program.

Vice Chairman William J. Diehl, of the executive committee in charge of the general arrangements for the coming Greater Pittsburgh Fourth of July celebration, will send the official program of the day's festivities to the printers today or tomorrow. This program will give the formation of the parade, the route to be passed over, the exercises at the president's stand in Schenley park, an outline of the various sports and events of the day as provided by the committee on amusements, and the program of the fireworks display in the evening. It will be a handsome souvenir of the occasion.

The latest additions to the celebration fund leave it just $22 10 short of $20,000, and $3,000 short of what is wanted. Yesterday's contributions were as follows:

ANOTHER WIFE KILLER HANGED FOR HIS CRIME

Charles Davis, a Brutal Negro, Was Executed at the County Jail Yesterday Morning.

Apparently unconcerned and without a trace of emotion, Charles Davis, the colored wife murderer, walked to the scaffold yesterday morning and paid the penalty of his crime in the Allegheny county jail. Sheriff William McKinley pulled the drop at 10:07 o'clock. Davis was pronounced dead nine minutes after and his body was lowered into a casket. Death was caused by strangulation. The murderer's remains were turned over to a boyhood friend and taken to the Highwood cemetery and buried in the afternoon.

Davis spent a sleepless night. Yesterday morning he was called at 6 o'clock and later he was given his breakfast, which was served from the warden's table. At 10 o'clock Sheriff McKinley went to the condemned man's cell and told him to prepare for the march to the gallows.

Davis said he was ready and Deputy Sheriff William German and one of the jail guards placed the straps about his arms. Davis walked through the jail corridor without showing any fear of his terrible end. He spoke to the guards and bade them goodbye. Deputy Sheriff German walked on one side of Davis and the Rev. Mr. Patterson on the other.

When the party emerged in the yard Davis looked at the jury and then turned his eye on the instrument of death. The faithful colored clergyman left him and Davis walked up the gallows steps unassisted. He reached the platform before Deputy Sheriff German and walked on the trap door. He turned around and the executioner placed the noose about his neck.

The black cap was drawn over his features and German gave the signal for the trap to be sprung. Sheriff McKinley pulled the lever and the strong frame of Davis shot through the air. He fell four feet.

Davis made a statement for his sister-in-law, Mrs. Murray, during the night which he gave to Deputy Sheriff German when on the scaffold. In it he informed her that he would die bravely; that he would soon be with his wife and that he was glad he was ready to die.

The crime for which Davis was executed was committed on December 21. After beating his wife, Birdie, into insensibility because she refused to live with him, he fired two shots into her body. She died instantly. Davis made his escape and was captured the next morning. He was tried during the February term of court. Davis was known to the police as a brutal character. He leaves a two-year-old daughter. This child is living with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Murray.

WAS A PROSPEROUS YEAR.

Splendid Financial Showing Made at Annual Meeting of Methodist Home Missionary Society.

The annual business meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the Pittsburgh conference, Methodist Episcopal church, was held yesterday afternoon in the chapel of the Methodist Publication building in Penn avenue. There was a large attendance, delegates being present from all the surrounding counties, Mrs. Charles W. Smith, president of the society, presided.

The annual reports showed that the past year has been one of the most prosperous in the society's history. The treasurer's report, presented by Miss Oleneada Ingram, showed receipts for the year of $12,419 from the different auxiliaries in the district. Mrs. Samuel Hay reported that $8,102 had been received from supplies. To sustain the deaconness' work $2,446 was received, and $214 was received from mite box contributions.

The election of officers resulted in most of last year's officers being re-elected for another term, as follows:

President, Mrs. Charles W. Smith; corresponding secretary, Miss E. A. Fowler; recording secretary, Mrs. W. R. Kunz; treasurer, Miss Oleneada Ingram. Pittsburgh district—Vice president, Mrs. Samuel Hamilton; secretary, Mrs. E. H. Utley. McKeesport district—Mrs. J. A. Ballentyne, vice president; secretary, Mrs. S. W. Davis. Washington district—Vice president, Mrs. J. T. Pare; secretary, Miss E. Brownlee. Blairsville district—Vice president, Mrs. J. E. T. Bell; secretary, Mrs. A. Fulton. Allegheny district—Vice president, Mrs. H. Radebaugh; secretary, Mrs. T. S. Sugden. Young peoples' work, Mrs. J. P. McDowell. Mite boxes, Mrs. Samuel Bailey. Supplies, Mrs. Samuel Hay. Literature, Miss Helen Pershing. Delegate to Kansas City convention, Mrs. S. W. Davis; alternate, Mrs. A. Radebaugh.

Deaf Mutes Gave a Reception.

The deaf mutes connected with the Calvary Episcopal church, East End, tendered a reception last night to the Rev. Dr. John C. Brown, in the parish house. The address of welcome was made in the sign language, and every member of the class showed, as best he could, how much Dr. Brown's work in their behalf was appreciated.

Dr. Brown was one of the foremost in the movement to establish the school for the deaf at Edgewood park. He is president of the board of trustees.

LOCAL NEWS OF ALL PITTSBURGH

THREE CITIES, FORTY-FIVE BOROUGHS, TWENTY-SIX TOWNSHIPS, FIFTH IN VOLUME OF BANK CLEARINGS, FOURTH IN RANK AMONG CITIES.

Yesterday's Health Report—The Pittsburgh bureau of health yesterday reported six new cases of typhoid fever, one new case of scarlet fever and one new case of diphtheria.

Hunting Missing Husband—Mrs. Carrie Loroskiof Utica, N. Y., with two small children, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday in search of her husband, who left Utica a year ago.

Stole Valuable Cows—William Siebert of Mathilda street, East End, yesterday notified the police that two Alderney cows had been stolen from his stable early yesterday morning.

Is Wanted in Washington—Frank Wright, a negro, wanted in Washington, D. C., on a charge of assault with attempt to kill, was arrested at Shady park yesterday by the Braddock police.

Mistake Proved Fatal—John McClafferty, a teamster, living at 15 Decatur street, died last night from a dose of carbolic acid taken, his family claims, through mistake. He had been ill for some time and had several bottles of medicines on a table.

Italian Badly Injured—Joseph Socouse, 28 years old, an Italian, had his back, two ribs, right arm and right leg broken yesterday while excavating for the new No. 5 engine house and patrol station in Preble avenue, Allegheny, by the bank caving in on him.

Are Buying Bonds—The Pittsburgh sinking fund commission is advertising for municipal, county and state bonds which the commission wishes to buy. It has about $500,000 to spend for bonds, but is limited to the character mentioned. So far about $110,000 worth have been purchased.

Oakland Kickers Win—The Pittsburgh Railways Company, beginning today, will give the residents of Oakland and the Atwood street districts a five-minute service. Heretofore the cars have been running 10 minutes apart, but with three additional cars on the line the time will be reduced five minutes.

To Ordain a New Preacher—A special meeting of the Allegheny presbytery of the United Presbyterian church will be held tonight in the Seventh church, Allegheny, for the ordination of J. A. Gregg. The Rev. J. W. Witherspoon will preach the sermon and the Rev. J. R. J. Milligan will address the candidate.

Driver Charged With Theft—John H. Evans of Frankstown avenue was arrested yesterday on information of Charles Stone of the Hardware Novelty Company works. Evans was employed as a driver and it is alleged that he collected $8, which he took for his own use. He is 48 years old and married.

Will Fight the Daughters—F. F. Nicola of the "warehouse syndicate" which asked for the vacation of Fort street, First ward, yesterday declared that the syndicate will appeal to the supreme court before accepting the decision handed down last Saturday, declaring the ordinance for the vacation of Fort street illegal.

Notice Sent to Shippers—Shippers and consignees of freight were notified yesterday by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad that the per diem system will be enforced on that road after July 1. As the railroad is responsible for the delivery of cars, the loading and unloading will hereafter have to be done as quickly as possible.

Another Slasher Arrested—Harry E. Wright, 23 years old, who claims Buffalo as his home, was yesterday held in $600 for court by Magistrate Henry Hunneshagen of Allegheny. Wright is a traveling salesman and on returning from a trip last Thursday went to the home of Miss Adams and cut her clothing into tatters.

Fund for a Cripple—A fund collected by Dr. H. D. Fulton, David Sheehan, James Montgomery and John Mellor for Irene Cornyn, who had her hands burned off last December while playing about a fire, now amounts to $1,451.24. The money will be turned over to Judge R. S. Frazer, the Rev. Father J. S. Doyle and Dr. Fulton, who will place the girl in a school.

Inquest in a Murder Case—The coroner's inquest into the murder of Donato Fuseri, an Italian, who was stabbed to death at a dance at Woodville station on the Panhandle railroad Sunday night, was held yesterday. Fred Thies, the murderer, is still at large. The jury returned a verdict holding him responsible for the crime. Fuseri was 32 years old, a coal miner and single.

Disabled Firemen Assisted—The firemen's disability board yesterday approved the following claims for loss of time by members of the bureau on account of injuries received while on duty or from sickness: William Miller, hook and ladder C, $111.43; Thomas J. Lewis, No. 14 engine company, $17.14; George Brenneman, engine company No. 3, $32.14, and Joseph R. Miller, hook and ladder E, $21.45.

Another "Jack" in Town—Another "Jack" has appeared in town. This time he claims to be "Jack the Gunner," but his career has been cut short, as he is held at Central station until an information can be made against him. He is J. C. Smith, a negro of Savannah, Ga., and was arrested by Policeman W. H. Weiss at No. 83 Congress street, where he insisted on going to bed in a room rented by another man.

Hold-Up in Ross Street—H. A. Cramblett, a paper hanger of No. 26 Boyd street, was held up and robbed of a gold watch and $1 in Ross street Wednesday night by four men. Police Lieutenant James McAvoy and Policeman John Kornbaur heard Cramblett's cry for help and arrested D. J. Good and Elmer Crocker, both claiming Johnstown as their home. The other two escaped. Both men were held for court.

Glass Company Censured—The coroner's jury yesterday concluded the inquest into the deaths of Adam Gesybowski of No. 913 Pine alley and Boleslaus Andewskienicz of No. 1000 Frederick street, South Side, who were killed in the gasoline explosion at the South Twelfth street factory of the United States Glass Company on May 19. The company was censured for not using greater precaution in the drainage of its tanks.

Strike in City Hall—The colored men employed to clean the walls and ceilings in municipal hall yesterday struck for an increase. They have been getting $1.50 per day and demanded $2. They are under the supervision of Janitor W. F. Reynolds and were referred to G. W. Moore, superintendent of city property. Mr. Moore explained that their wages were governed by a city ordinance, and after some talk the men returned to work.

Suspected House Closed—Joseph Gamble of McKeesport, William Hare of Wilkinsburg and William Price of Braddock will be given a hearing on Monday afternoon on a charge of keeping a gambling house and selling liquor without a license. The men were arrested in Braddock for keeping a house at the west side of the Braddock bridge. District Attorney John C. Haymaker ordered the arrests made some time ago. The men were each released on $1,000 bail.

Two Democratic Meetings—The Democrats of the Twentieth ward held two meetings last night at No. 5391 Center avenue. The first was the regular committee meeting and all of the 15 precincts were represented. R. W. Guthrie presided. After the delegates were instructed the meeting adjourned. Then there was another meeting, presided over by H. B. Godfrey, with J. B. McNulty as secretary. There were speeches by W. H. Murphy, T. C. Magee, M. M. McConnell, T. J. Purcell and others. The actions of the Erie convention and the committee of 10 were indorsed.

Bad Family Mix-Up—Frank Zarnock of No. 2316 Josephine street is the winner so far in the trouble between him and his stepdaughter, Rosalia. She is 17 and wanted to get married to Andrew Mickiewicz of No. 149 Mulberry alley, who, it is alleged, said the girl was 21 when he went after a marriage license, and was put in jail for perjury on a charge made by Zarnock. The girl yesterday charged her stepfather with cruelty to her, but he was discharged, and then he had her arrested and committed to jail on a charge of incorrigibility. The stepfather has a man picked out for her to marry, but she refuses.

SIXTEEN PAGES.

Change of Route Necessary.

Secretary Cortelyou's telegram insisting upon a shortening of the route of parade for the Fourth of July will inevitably cause a rearrangement of the committee's plans. The Allegheny end is quite certain to be cut out and for the remainder the procession may be compelled to take the nearest way to the park out Fifth avenue. This will be a disappointment in some quarters, of course, but will be very welcome in others. It will not in the least mar the observance of the day and in several particulars the Fifth avenue route is to be preferred to the Grant boulevard. Along the latter there are few windows and very few other points of vantage for viewing the pageant. The north or retaining wall side of the highway is, in fact, dangerous as a place of assemblage for a crowd.

Mr. Cortelyou does not assign any particular reason why President Roosevelt objects to such a long march, but it is not difficult to understand that it is not a good preparation for his exertions after the goal is reached. The reasons may be assumed to be sufficient and the president's wish cannot be denied.

High School Examinations.

There will be found in The Gazette this morning the lists of examinations of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny high schools. The lists are long and the percentage of successful candidates is unusually large. More than 1,000 passed in Pittsburgh alone. This is a magnificent showing for the growth of this community in population and in education. It is a trite saying that the high school is the college of the poor man's children, but there is a large element of truth in it. No mean college, either. Better still, it is the open road to college for many, giving them not merely the scholastic preparation for matriculation in the higher educational institutions, but the equipment that enables them to earn the means for the course.

These cities have reason to be proud of their schools—primary, industrial, grammar and high schools. They are efficient and doing a splendid work, as the rolls on other pages of this paper testify.

Victory for the Blue.

The Yale-Harvard boat races were rowed in good time yesterday, with honors fairly divided. Yale won the big event, with the crimson crowding pretty close behind. The four-oar race went to Harvard, and the freshmen crews made a dead heat. It was good, healthy sport, carried off in a spirit of good will. Yet it is a pity these great New England universities hold aloof from younger rivals. Pennsylvania, Cornell and Columbia turn out eight-oar crews of good metal, and even Wisconsin has sent men to the Hudson who were worthy of praise. Of course the Yale-Harvard race has long been an event by itself and should not be abandoned, but it would be wholly in keeping with the broad spirit of Americanism for the two old colleges to send crews to compete in the more democratic regatta.

June as the Month of Marriages.

A far more intimate relation exists between the records of the marriage license courts and the social well-being of a community, state or nation, than most people understand. In a general way we all know that the orderly and peaceful pursuit of domestic happiness by two persons, mated for reasons of genuine affection and mutual esteem, contributes to the good of society as a whole, but we rarely ever turn to the records of the license court as a barometer for studying social conditions. June has long held the record as the great month of marriage and it is interesting to know that June, 1902, will doubtless break even the best past record for marriages in this month. The long lists of marriage licenses issued each day by the local court indicates that Pittsburgh is not going to be far behind in the race when the final returns are in next Monday night.

From Philadelphia comes the statement that 150 marriage licenses were issued by the clerk of the court in one day in that city, thus putting in the shade all previous records of the dispenser of permits for Cupid. In less degree this is the story that comes from every section of the country. Marriage is not unpopular, as so many suppose, and while the relation may not be so generally accepted nor yield so large a number of contented couples, there is enough evidence upon which to base the hope that as prosperity continues to be felt throughout the land the habit of marrying and being given in marriage will recover all of its old time enthusiasm and popularity.

Admiral Dewey's Testimony.

Admiral Dewey is the most important witness who has yet given testimony before the senate committee on the Philippines, for he was in Manila bay at the beginning of American connection with the archipelago, as everybody knows. His evidence is a valuable contribution to history, as well as a vindication of the American course of action, because anti-imperialists have repeatedly accused the admiral of breaking faith with Aguinaldo. Dewey has denied heretofore that there was any faith to break, but never has he had the opportunity to make so categorical a statement as that presented to the senatorial investigators yesterday.

The American admiral attached so little importance to Aguinaldo that he sailed from Hong Kong before the Filipino arrived, after granting permission for him to go to Manila with the American squadron. Promises of the great things the Filipinos were to do were not fulfilled. The governor general of Manila surrendered on May 1, a fact which very few persons were aware of until Dewey said so yesterday. It was not until July 15 that Aguinaldo issued a proclamation declaring the independence of the Philippines. He had not informed Dewey of his intention, and Dewey was surprised, because they were on good terms, the Filipino regarding him as the liberator who had whipped the tyrant Spaniards.

The facts being as stated, it is not likely that Dewey would recognize Aguinaldo's government or salute a flag which represented nothing. Dewey himself says the statement is ridiculous and his narration of the events as they occurred is ample proof that the charge of breaking faith has nothing whatever on which to rest. The American people will implicitly believe what Dewey says, regardless of what Aguinaldo and his supporters may say.

An Eastern Forest Reserve.

The senate has passed the bill creating the National Appalachian Forest Reserve, and the measure deserves to become a law. The proposition is to spend not more than $10,000,000 for 4,000,000 acres of forest land lying in the states of Tennessee, West Virginia, Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia and Alabama. It would be difficult to indicate a more promising investment for that much public money than this magnificent tract of primeval forest, about 150 miles in length and of varying breadth, described as holding the largest body of hardwood on the North American continent.

The purchase of the tract should not be delayed, for government experts report that at the present rate of activity of the lumberman, 10 years would suffice to destroy the timber growth, and thus put it beyond the power of the government to add this magnificent stretch of timbered land to the reserves and national parks, which, up to the present time are all in the far west.

Philippine Civil Government.

Democratic opposition to the civil government bill for the Philippines was carried to the last extremity, but the bill passed the house by a good majority. Doubtless the senate will readily agree to the house amendment providing for appeals from the court of last resort in the islands to the supreme court of the United States, and there should not be much difficulty over the other house amendment prohibiting corporations in the islands from owning the stocks of other corporations, so the bill may be considered as good as adopted by practically a party vote.

This is as it should be. The Philippines are ready for the application of civil government, and nothing will so speedily complete their pacification as the operation of a sensible system with a guarantee of permanence. The Democratic substitute for a temporary government was never meant in good faith. It was simply an expedient put forward by an irresponsible minority in the hope of making party capital. The Republicans are in control and responsible for results. It is gratifying to note they stood together, assumed the responsibility and adopted a sensible course.

Defining a Disease.

One outcome of the general discussion provoked by the illness and consequent surgical operation performed upon King Edward VII., will be to throw clearer light upon the origin, symptoms and progress of a disease that is imperfectly understood among laymen. Within recent years the general term, appendicitis, has become familiar enough as describing conditions of inflammation in the region of the vermiform appendix, including that organ itself about whose office in the anatomy there has always been much mystery. When it was first announced that the king was suffering from perityphlitis the ordinary lay mind was at sea as to the nature of the disease. But further explanation served to show that this is the favorite term among English practitioners for what is called in this country appendicitis. In the king's case the disease had progressed to a point where an abscess had been formed and it was to relieve this condition that the knife was resorted to.

If the discussion among medical and surgical specialists over the king's case shall result in some more general agreement as to the use of the knife in appendicitis and its allied forms of intestinal inflammation there will be a distinct gain recorded in behalf of the science of medicine and surgery. As in nearly all diseases where inflammation forms a serious phase of the case there are varying shades and degrees of disturbance. It is a disputed point with some of the best surgeons as to when, if at all, the knife should be used to remedy the evil.

The study of the present distinguished case and the various scientific discussions on the subject should help toward a more general understanding.

One Step of Progress.

Another step has been taken by the Pennsylvania Railroad toward removing the freight congestion in the Pittsburgh district. It is the creation of a "classification yard" at Brinton, where the tonnage to and from the Monongahela valley may be properly sorted out with reference to prompt delivery at its ultimate destination. Heretofore this work has been attempted in other yards. The result has been to clog them and in many cases to cause shipment beyond destination and back. Freights from the west have actually been carried through to Altoona and returned thence to the Monongahela valley, owing to lack of nearer yard facilities. The classification yard should put an end to that trouble. The new East End yard and connecting road will also assist in the free movement of cars.

While these improvements are under construction, however, the vexatious congestion continues, in modified form. Delays are frequent and provoking. Even after the projected yards and cut-off routes are complete there will remain the overcrowding in the city. Down town terminals are insufficient. The pressure upon them makes the Liberty street track more a nuisance and menace. No complete remedy is possible until that track shall have been removed to Duquesne Way, elevated and made tributary to a better system of team tracks.

Undesirable Immigrants.

At this time, when so many undesirable immigrants are coming to the United States, there is a certain degree of encouragement in the fact that all who come are not admitted. Thanks to the vigilance of the government officers who have the matter in charge, the deportations since May 1 of this year aggregate 1,742, considerably more than were turned back in May and June of 1901.

It is said that more than half of the immigrants now coming into the United States are unable to read and write, and therefore the necessity of the educational qualification is steadily becoming more apparent. The immigration question has been bandied about too long by congress, and something should be done promptly to remove the menace to the interests of this country and its wage earners. The bill now pending in the senate meets the requirements.

The number of people who are boasting of having received invitations to the coronation has grown amazingly since it was discovered there would be no coronation at this time.

Advices late last evening gave great delight to London crowds and comfort to other millions. King Edward's condition was very satisfactory to the surgeons.

If assimilation is found to affect all the Filipinos as it has seemed to affect Senor Buencamino there may be serious doubt as to its benevolence.

Mr. Bryan is coming out of the west. The weather man seizes the opportunity to say that a hot wave is coming from the same direction.

Along with the other woes we might at least have been spared that coronation poem by Laureate Austin since there was no occasion for it.

In view of their silence on national questions the campaign song of the state Democrats will likely be "Paddle Your Own Canoe."

The Cuban situation in the senate may in the end deprive several statesmen from that end of the capitol of a situation.

Philadelphia's Democracy at Erie shrank to almost the insignificance that it attains at home on election day.

Dr. Roosevelt might try his hand again on those balking senators now that he has a new degree to work under.

Now if Poet Austin will send along a diagram of his coronation ode the public will try and forgive him.

Perhaps the king saw a proof of Austin's poem, hence the serious breakdown in his health.

There seems to be very little information on the subject of the Nolan pedigree by his backers.

There was considerable rain, but from the riverman's point of view there is no water.

Mr. Kipling has kindly refrained from doing any Rudyarding upon the situation.

Venezuela is still able to sit up and talk revolution to its nurses and doctors.

EYE-OPENERS.

Love never laughs at goldsmiths.—Life.

I saw a strange thing yesterday. Bigtalk came down Vine street in his automobile with a girl beside him. They stopped in front of a 15-cent lunch room and got out and had dinner there!

That is strange, sure enough. I wonder where he got the 30 cents?—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

"Are you ready to live on my income?" he asked softly.

She looked up into his face trustingly.

"Certainly, mamma," she answered, "if—"

"If what?"

"Another?"

"Yes, another income."—Chicago Post.

"We must wage vigorous war on the mosquito" exclaimed the advanced legislator.

"I object to such a heartless argument," interrupted the anti-agitator. "Let us first determine whether or not the mosquito is capable of self government."

Next day countless copies of his speech were forwarded to New Jersey by the mosquito canopy trust.—Baltimore American.

Men of Gotham Clad in Superfine Raiment

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 26.

Haberdashers begin to feel nervous on account of the cool weather that has prevailed this month. After getting in large and expensive stocks of summer goods they must themselves waiting for customers and afraid they may not come at all. Outing shirts at $10 apiece are on view in a Broadway store, and neckties at $2 and $3, which on the surface do not appear any better than those which the ordinary man buys for 50 or 75 cents, are hung temptingly in the show windows. That men are as prone to extravagance in finery as women has long been admitted. Nowhere can one see this fact more forcibly exemplified than in the windows of uptown Broadway haberdashers. Men's fine silk outing shirts have been shown at prices all the way from $5 to $15, as delicate in tint and texture as anything that my lady could desire. Socks are displayed, too. The fad is for silk hosiery, and men buy socks that are fine enough to be drawn through a finger ring, to use the traditional assertion. They pay $3 a pair for them and buy them by the dozen pairs. So fragile are these silk hose that they will not last long, especially in the bathing season, when they get full of sand and are ground to pieces before their owner knows where he is. The colors of the shirts, neckties and hosiery exhibited in one of the swell Broadway establishments make the unaccustomed eye blink. One cannot help wondering what manner of men wear such gorgeous raiment. Most of the wealthy young fellows one sees at the hotels and clubs here look too healthy and redolent of outdoors to be inclined to silk socks and ultra-fine shirts. It is true that some of this class wear such things, but, according to a man in the trade, many of the finest garments go to sober, middle-aged business men who might be thought to be indifferent to such luxuries. The fad for very fine raiment prevails strongly in New York, however, and, if the retail storekeepers are to be believed, the men have it worse than the women.

A Little Hard Coal Left.

Hard coal continues to be found in some mysterious way by large concerns that are forbidden to burn bituminous coal unless they are prepared to pay enormous fines. The Manhattan "L" Company, which said weeks ago that it had no more hard coal, is finding enough for its present use. All the trains are running with the aid of anthracite, and there is no evidence that the fuel is scarce, save such as is conveyed in the statement of some of the officials, that the supply will run out by Saturday. This may be true. If it is, then the company will have to find some more, for the authorities declare there shall be no more soft coal burned on the "L," and the public takes the side of the authorities.

A Chance for Smoke-Consumers.

Talking about soft coal, the comptroller of the city of New York has made an announcement of his opinion that the law does not declare against soft coal so much as it does against the smoke. If it is possible to burn soft coal without its throwing out great clouds of black smoke, then let the soft coal go ahead. That is the sentiment, and it seems to open vast possibilities for patent smoke consumers if the miners' strike should last much longer.

Fashion Frowns on Tan Shoes.

Tan shoes are almost entirely out of date in New York. Particularly is noted the disappearance of the brown shoe in the "Oxford tie" shape. The black leather Oxford, and even at times patent leather, shoes are worn, but one rarely sees the old russets of other days. It is stated that Berry Wall has been seen to wear a pair of russet boots with white kid tops, but he prefers the black.

Good Templars Going Abroad.

The supreme lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars sailed from this port yesterday on the steamer Oscar II. for Stockholm, where some of the sessions of the supreme body will be held in the parliament house by permission of the king of Sweden.

Carnegie Buys Out Prying Eyes.

Here is a story about Andrew Carnegie's new mansion in Millionaires' row in upper Fifth avenue that I take from a New York paper. It may be true: Back of the new Carnegie mansion there is a row of flat houses. Now, everyone knows that, no matter how altogether attractive flat houses are in front, they are never quite as agreeable to have at one's back as private houses. There are, for one thing, so many more people occupying the houses, in proportion to the number of windows, that each of the latter becomes a human eye spying out into the world beyond. It is not altogether pleasant to have these numerous eyes for back-door neighbors, even when there are as spacious grounds protecting the mansion as there are around the Carnegie house. Anyway, whether that is true or not, Mr. Carnegie has obtained control of the flat house property, the houses are to come down, and within there is weeping and gnashing of teeth. "Sure," groaned one of the victims of the catastrophe the other day, "and is it that this Mr. Carnegie thinks no one loves their homes but himself?"

How a Harlem Girl Multiplies Flowers.

A Harlem girl who makes the best of things had four American Beauty roses in her parlor this afternoon. She looked at them lovingly for a time, and then said, thoughtfully: "I wish I had more of them, but I guess I'll have to get along with these. I'll make them look as if I had twice the number. That's the way I have of arranging my flowers. I just set the vase in front of a mirror and thus double the number. The real thing counts once and the reflection counts once again, and then, instead of four roses I have eight. It's a great scheme, and I don't see why all people who have to practice economy in the matter of flowers don't adopt it. The only drawback is the absence of scent in the reflection, which deprives it of half its value. Still, I am not particularly partial to strong odors, anyway; so I manage to overlook this deficiency, and get my pleasure out of looking at them." Is not this the right kind of girl, after all?

The Daughter of Her Father.

Ward McAllister is dead, but his love of the niceties of costume which were characteristic of him, survives in his daughter, Louise. Here is a description of Miss McAllister's costume, seen at a theater last night: She wore a black and white satin-striped organdie with a lavender flower design over it. The skirt was tucked in fine clusters. There was a flounce at the bottom, with a ruffle of white lace at its edge and the upper part of the applied flounce had large diamonds traced on the organdie and formed by crossing insertions of white lace, some three inches broad. The bodice had a large diamond in the center of the back formed by bands of the insertion running crosswise from shoulders to waist. There was a yoke of white organdie laid in vertical tucks and edged by frills of lace. In front, the waist bloused quite a bit. There was a ribbon girdle with short ends. The sleeves had frills of lace at the elbows and undersleeves of white organdie and lace that fitted closely from elbows to wrists. Miss McAllister's hat was a round one of fancy open-work, with straw edge with a band of black and decked with two black ostrich plumes and one white one. And very distingue Miss Louise Ward McAllister looked in all this.

June Walk on the Program.

Cake-walking is all very well in its way, but here is something more imposing that New York is about to employ. It is a "June walk," under the auspices of the members of the Miami club, which will take place on Saturday morning. The procession will start from the Miami clubhouse, Lexington avenue, led by James Frawley, the Democratic leader of the Thirty-second assembly district, and will proceed to Central park, where the day will be passed by the children of the district in merry-making. Refreshments will be served, and Mr. Frawley has instructed his captains and lieutenants to make certain that every child is well taken care of.

Miss Walch and Her New Play.

The latest Rialto gossip is that Blanche Walsh will be under new management next season. Messrs. Wagenhals & Kemper have just signed contracts for three years with Blanche Walsh, whose name is so familiar to Pittsburgh playgoers as to need no comment. Her first appearance under her new management will be in a new play from the pen of Stanislaus Stange, author of "Quo Vadis" and other novel successes. The play is founded on Flaubert's "Salammbo."

Dying Actresses' Costumes to be Sold.

It is announced that the costumes and household effects of Georgia Cayvan will be sold at auction next Monday at her old home in We One Hundred and Twenty-second street. She has been in a sanatorium at Astoria for some time. Besides Miss Cayvan's furniture, which is considered a marvel of handiwork, scores of souvenirs and the costumes she wore in the most famous work she did, will be put under the hammer. Among the many shoes on sale is a pair of Greek sandals that Miss Cayvan wore as Jocasta when she acted here five years ago with George Riddle in "Oedipus." An old-fashioned red wig and a poke bonnet remain from the revival of "Old Heads and Young Hearts," in which Miss Cayvan acted at the Lyceum theater. The once popular actress is slowly but surely dying. Her physicians say she cannot recover.

Benefit for the Immigrants' Home.

The young men's "Star of the Sea" society will give its twelfth annual festival tomorrow evening for the benefit of the Home for Irish Immigrant Girls. The entertainment will be held at Sulzer's Harlem River Park casino. A short description of this home was given in The Gazette last week.

Two Great Stores Nearing Completion.

They are roofing in the two immense store buildings in Herald square—Macy's and Sales & Co.'s. Workmen were balancing themselves on the narrow steel frame of skylights on the Macy edifice this afternoon in a teetering fashion that made the flesh "creep" of observers down on the sidewalks.

Trying to Get American Derby Winner

New York hopes to have Wyeth, the gifted animal that carried off the American derby in Chicago last week, running on a track within easy reach of Manhattan. The Brighton Beach officials are after H. John Roden, Jr., the secretary of the track, says that new overtures have been made to John Drake, owner of Wyeth, the American derby winner, to bring his horse east and meet Pentecost, Heno and Arsenal.

THE MAN UP A TREE

From a High Viewpoint.

GOOD morning! Have you sent your Panama hat to the laundry yet?

All's quiet once more along Erie's lake shore.

The rivers and the temperature are making a simultaneous rise.

Theodore Roosevelt continues to progress by degrees.

National issues are compelled to struggle along without any help from the Democrats of Pennsylvania.

It's a short time between hangings in Pittsburgh, but then murders have occurred rather frequently.

It has been discovered that Candidate Nolan has a barrel.

Canonsburg's centennial should have been marked by a salute of one hundred guns.

The coronation did not come off as arranged, but there was no postponing of Alfred Austin's coronation ode.

The laureate's poem adds to the gloom of the situation.

Dr. Hay, secretary of state, was by Dr. Roosevelt, president of the United States, when Harvard distributed her degrees.

Promoting Matrimony.

Rural editors do not receive the credit they deserve for their unremitting efforts to get the young folks married. Just see how hard these earnest workers are laboring:

The writer has been wishing for somebody to get married, as everything has been so quiet that news is scarce, but we noticed a very handsome young couple sitting in the door a few days since, engaged in earnest conversation, the young lady was fanning the young man in a very affectionate and winning manner and as they seemed to be in a very happy mood when they parted we think in the near future we will have a beautiful wedding scene to write about.—Burlington (N. C.) News.

There are two young men from the Spring city who make regular trips to our town every Sabbath evening to see a couple of our fairest damsels. Be it said to the shame of our aspiring young men and from the appearance of the young men and the turnouts they have, they are neither farmers nor laboring men, and hence we infer they are either bankers, brokers, bondholders, or professional gentlemen.—Newton (Iowa) Journal.

Last Day of School.

An Expensive Animal.

"Two years ago a man in Maine called another man a mule," said Westpark to Northside. "The other man did not like it and went to court about it."

"I shouldn't think that was actionable," commented Northside. "But proceed"

"Well, after two years' litigation the case was settled, although it cost about $2,400 in costs. What do you think of that?"

"I think that is the most expensive mule I ever heard of."

CONVENTION COMMENTS.

It must be painfully evident to "Boss" Guffey and his lieutenants that Candidate Pattison will have but little sympathy among the 150,000 coal miners of this state.—Erie Dispatch.

The Democrats of the state have at last sized up the Democrats of Philadelphia. The latter were given but 20 votes in the convention where they demanded 60. This is what has been earned by some years of misbehavior.—Philadelphia Press.

The platform of the Erie convention does not touch national questions even remotely. It expressly "waives all expression of opinion" on matters of national policy, and seeks to justify the omission by asserting that the inclusion of national issues might divert attention from state problems and "divide the army of reform."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Democratic state convention, as was expected, has nominated ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison as its candidate for governor. The Democrats probably have selected their strongest man. On the other hand, there are elements of weakness. For instance, it may be expected that the Gordonites will use their political knives pretty freely. But, after all, the great point of weakness lies in the fact that Mr. Pattison is a Democrat, while Pennsylvania is a Republican state. The Republican candidate, Judge Pennypacker, is also a man whose character cannot be questioned. The Republican administration at Washington looks to Pennsylvania for support, and it will get look in vain.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

OIL WORKERS ORGANIZE.

Movement of That Kind in the McDonald Fields Results in Some Discharges.

A meeting of workmen employed in the McDonald oil fields has been called for tomorrow evening for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization among the oil drillers, pumpers and all others employed in the oil fields. The new organization will be established by Jay H. Mullen, secretary-treasurer of the National Union of Oil and Gas Workers, and will be known as lodge No. 57.

The first meeting of the McDonald oil men was held last Saturday and W. G. Bishop was elected president. The other officers elected were Jerry Connor, Michael Austin, Gideon Bouchard and Hugh Vermillion.

The men in the McDonald field are all employed by the Forest Oil Company and as soon as the company received information that the men were organizing Bishop and the other officers of the new organization were discharged. A notice was also posted that if any of the men employed by the company joined the new lodge they also would be discharged.

Mullen was immediately sent for and after a conference with the men it was decided that in company with Mullen the officers of the new lodge would come to Pittsburgh today to confer with officials of the Forest company.

The men employed in the McDonald field number nearly 500. The men who favor the new organization claim that at least 200 will be charter members.

SHOPPERS IN A RUNAWAY.

Wife and Relatives of a Steel Company President Get a Fright.

NEW YORK, June 26.—(Special.)—There was an exciting runaway this afternoon in Twenty-third street, in the heart of the shopping district. In a carriage were Mrs. Robert E. Jennings, wife of the president of the Crucible Steel Company, and her nieces, Gertrude and Marie Jennings. A westbound cross-town car came along at a rapid rate, and the pole of the carriage struck the car, breaking every window. The pole of the carriage was broken and the horses were frightened. The coachman was hurled from his seat, and the horses dashed into the sidewalk, making straight toward the large plate glass windows of a department store.

Detective Sergeants Day, Bradley and McNaught were standing nearby. Bradley and McNaught each jumped for a horse's head, while Day, seeing that the women in the carriage were preparing to jump, leaped into the vehicle and restrained them. For about 100 feet Bradley and McNaught were dragged by the frightened animals, the crowd of shoppers scattering in alarm. Mr. Jennings was summoned. He took the women home in a cab, badly frightened but unhurt.

Bryan Explains His Soreness.

LINCOLN, NEB., June 26.—W. J. Bryan this evening made the announcement that he was not invited to the Tilden club banquet in New York, adding that if he had been "he would have responded, explaining why he would not attend a political banquet given in honor of one who twice opposed the Democratic ticket and has never since announced his intention to return to the party."

PERSONALS

"The most amusing incident I have run across in my travels for a long time," remarked C. M. Collins, consulting engineer of the Dodge Manufacturing Company of Mishawaka, Ind., at the Hotel Henry last night, "occurred on a train of the Michigan Central railroad which pulled out of Chicago at 8 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. A few minutes before the train left Chicago a newly-wedded couple boarded it amid a shower of rice and old shoes. Of course, the noise of tin horns and jingling bells attracted all the other passengers and there was a smothered roar of laughter throughout the train. When the train pulled into Kalamazoo there were more tin horns, rice and shoes, and a blushing bride and her hubby quickly hurried into the sleeper. A fast run was made to Jackson, and you may not believe it, but I am only stating facts when I tell you that the train again ran into the same old shower of rice, jingling bells and braying horns. This time the entire crew and passengers disembarked and received the third wedded couple with cheers and laughter.

"But the surprise of the trip was yet to come. When the train slowed up at a station heads were craned out of windows, but the brides appeared to be all gathered in. As the train was nearing Chelsea, Mich., pandemonium suddenly broke loose. A country band had taken up position near the station and was playing in wheezy strains "See the Conquering Hero Comes." A rapidly-driven carriage pulled into the station as the train stopped, and the fourth bride and groom quickly came forth and rushed for the shelter of the train. To say that a yell went up from the passengers is weak description. This last couple had not got settled comfortably in the Pullman, when a young man entered the train. He carried a small satchel and commenced to distribute cards to the passengers. One of these cards I have with me."

Mr. Collins then produced the following card: "Dear Public—This card, presented to the happy couple, is good for one introduction to Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Welsh. Just Married. Please make it Pleasant For Them."

Excursion travel was very heavy on the different railroads out of Pittsburgh yesterday morning. The Pennsylvania railroad ran its first special of the year to Atlantic City. The train consisted of two parlor cars, four coaches and a baggage car. In the evening another special train of eight coaches carried more Atlantic City excursionists. The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie carried 2,782 passengers to Cascade park. It was the occasion of the celebration of the Sons of St. George. The Baltimore & Ohio took the Third ward schools of Allegheny, numbering 1,404 in all, to Olympia park, Versailles, and the Pittsburgh & Western 474 excursionists to the Orphans' home in Zelienople for an annual picnic. The Pennsylvania lines also had special excursions to Rock Springs for one of the schools, and two special trains took the children of the O'Hara school to Rock Point. This morning the Baltimore & Ohio will take 2,500 children of the Bennett schools to Olympia park, and tomorrow 500 children of the Eighth ward schools, Allegheny, to the same picnic grounds at Versailles.

Emanuel De Roy, who has been in the jewelry and pawnbroking business in Smithfield street since 1852, has sold out. Mr. De Roy left the city last night for Newark, N. J., where he will engage in the manufacture of gold and silver jewelry. "I am very sorry to leave Pittsburgh," he said, "where I have been engaged in business for 50 years." Mr. De Roy was accompanied to Newark by his wife. Mr. De Roy's son, Benjamin E., graduated from Franklin college, Athens, O., on Wednesday. He took second honors, receiving the degree of Batchior of Philosophey.

"The new passenger station of the Wabash railroad, which will be erected at Ferry and Liberty streets, will be completed by February 1," said C. C. Crane, general passenger agent of the Wabash, last night. "Work will be started in a short time and will be rushed through." Mr. Crane was going to his home in St. Louis, after a stay of two days in Pittsburgh.

L. J. Johnston, an iron broker of New York, passed through Pittsburgh to Chicago last night. "The strike in the anthracite coal country is beginning to affect the mills. There is great uncertainty about the iron market, and little material is being bought."

Attached to the first section of No. 5 last night were three private cars for Indianapolis. The only passengers on them were Joseph Wood, second vice president; J. J. Brooks, general counsel, and Ralph Peters, general superintendent of the Southwest system of the Pennsylvania lines.

The Rev. Dr. H. W. Temple, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of Washington, Pa., and who also occupies the chair of political economy in Washington and Jefferson college, went to New York last night, from where he sails on the Columbia for Europe tomorrow. He expects to be absent for three months. Dr. Temple said last night that he was recently called to the presidency of Monmouth college, Illinois, but had refused to accept it.

Robert D. Layton, immigrant inspector, returned from New York yesterday. "White hats are not in style in New York now," he remarked, "and the women are discarding their white waists. Soft coal is responsible for this change in the summer styles in the metropolis."

FIRE AT GALLITZIN.

Five Thousand Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed by Flames.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., June 26.—(Special.)—Fire did $5,000 damage to residence and business property in Gallitzin, this county, today. The restaurant of Edward Parrish was destroyed with a loss of $1,500. The homes of Mrs. Jane Stevens and Mrs. P. H. Burns were badly damaged. The home of Engineer George Treese was damaged to the extent of $4,000.

There is no fire company at Gallitzin and a bucket brigade fought the flames. Assistance from Altoona was asked, but the volunteers finally succeeded in stopping the flames.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Charles Hoffman.

Charles Hoffman, for 25 years an employe of the city of Pittsburgh, died at 9 o'clock on Wednesday night at Marshalsea. Charles Hoffman, called "Cully" by all who knew him, was born on the South Side 48 years ago. In 1877, when No. 17 engine company was organized, he was appointed a member of the company. Six months later he was transferred to No. 11 company. Later he was appointed captain and filled that position for nearly 10 years. He was for some time building inspector and until six months ago an inspector under J. O. Brown. His health began to fail a year ago and he had been gradually going down. A month ago his mind failed and he was sent to Marshalsea. The remains will be taken this morning to the residence of his brother-in-law, Dr. Ingham Donnan, No. 1013 Carson street. Charles Hoffman is survived by two sisters, one the wife of Dr. Donnan and the other the wife of J. M. Schaeffer. His only brother, Andrew, is a member of No. 12 engine company.

SENATE WILL YIELD ON THE PHILIPPINES

ADJOURN BY WEDNESDAY

Rival Measures Differ Particularly in Constitution of Legislature and in Money Standard and Other Financial Features.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 503 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.

By almost a party vote the house today passed the Philippine civil government bill as amended by the house committee having it in charge. The only member who broke out of party lines was Mr. McCall, Republican, of Massachusetts. The vote was 141 to 97.

The minority substitute, for the establishment of a temporary government in the islands and their permanent independence as soon as a stable government could be established, was defeated by 25 to 136.

The adoption of the Panama canal conference report leaves only the Philippine bill in dispute between the two houses. The differences between the house and senate upon this measure are very acute. Several interesting sessions of the conferees are expected with considerable debate in both houses.

A canvass among the leaders tonight reveals unmistakably that the senate will agree to the house position. This makes it practically certain that the details of the session may be cleared up so that congress can adjourn sine die not later than Wednesday, and it may adjourn late Tuesday night.

Amendments Turned Down.

The Democrats today offered a multitude of amendments, but all were voted down, including one offered by Mr. Patterson of Tennessee to prohibit slavery or involuntary servitude in the islands. The greatest interest attached to an amendment offered by Mr. McCall to the end of the bill to declare the policy of the United States to be to develop the capacity of the Filipinos for self-government and pledging the faith of the United States to grant them self-government. He supported the amendment in an eloquent speech.

Mr. Grosvenor and Mr. Cooper said it would be unwise to mortgage the future by making such a declaration now, and Cooper quoted Gov. Taft as saying that such a promise now would tend to prevent the pacification of the islands. The amendment was lost, 89 to 128. It was a strictly party vote, except for Mr. McCall and Mr. Littlefield of Maine, who voted with the Democrats for the amendment.

Points of Difference.

The substitute for the senate Philippine civil government bill differs from the bill as it passed the senate in many minor particulars, but particularly in the following: The house substitute provides for a complete system of civil government, with a legislature to consist of two houses, one of which shall be a popular assembly elected by the Filipino people. The senate bill contained no such provision. The legislature is to be chosen after the existing insurrection in the Philippines shall have ceased and complete peace shall have been established therein and the fact certified to the president by the Philippine commission.

The house substitute also amplifies the "bill of rights" enumerated in the senate measure, and adds to the number of issues which can be appealed to the supreme court of the United States.

The house measure defines with greater detail than the senate the rights of citizenship of those residing in the islands, and provides that all residents shall receive the same protection from the United States in respect to their relation with foreign governments as is accorded to citizens of the United States.

Gold vs. Silver Standard.

One of the most important differences between the senate and house bills is that relating to coinage. The senate provided a silver standard somewhat in extension and perfection of that now in existence. The house measure provides a gold standard system, with the gold dollar of the United States as the standard unit of value for the islands. The main coin is to be the peso, made in silver, but of a gold value, and this is to be divided into subsidiary pieces of money bearing devices emblematic of American sovereignty. Provision is made for a system of paper currency, banks and for a complete financial system, the details being different from those in the senate measure, although following the same general lines.

In dealing with the grant of franchises the house bill places many more restrictions on such grants than the senate bill. In this respect the restrictions provided by the house follow the lines of those provided for Porto Rico.

Both bills provide for acquiring friar lands, and for the issue of bonds sufficient to pay for these lands, the senate provision making the interest rate 4½ per cent and the house 5 per cent. Both measures contain extended provisions relative to timber lands, harbor and internal improvements, and for two delegate commissioners chosen by the Filipinos to represent them in Washington and have the privileges of the floor of the house.

AYME TELLS HIS STORY.

Shows Plainly the Physical Effects of His Work in Martinique and Will Take a Rest.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—United States Consul Ayme, in company with Prof. Hill, called by appointment upon Acting Secretary of State Hill today and recited the tragic events in Martinique connected with the volcano outbreak. He had no complaint to make in connection with the distribution of United States stores by island authorities.

Mr. Ayme shows plainly the effect of the intense physical and mental strain he was under during the first days of his voluntary labors in Martinique. He is technically on leave of absence and will remain for about a week in Washington, where he is being entertained by the scientific circle. Probably he will go to Chicago for a month's rest.

COMING TO CELEBRATE.

Congress Will Contribute Many Statesmen to Our Fourth.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—(Special.)—If congress adjourns by next Wednesday there will be a large attendance of members of the Pennsylvania delegation in Pittsburgh on the Fourth of July. Representatives Dalzell, Graham, Acheson, Jack, Sibley and Bates already have signified their intention to be present, and Senator Quay said tonight the chances were that he also would be present, as he expected to be in Western Pennsylvania at that time.

The members of the delegation have been invited to the dinner that Attorney General Knox is to give in Pittsburgh on Thursday night in honor of the president, and nearly all of the western contingent, including Senator Quay, expect to be present.

THE PENSION ROLL.

Pennsylvania—William D. Taggart, Girard, $8; Thomas Drayton, Russell, $8; John T. Carnaugh, Sharon, $6; William A. Corbet, Carlisle, $14; Walter R. Collins, Braddock, $10; William Richardson, Gallery, $12; James M. Crawford, Jeansburg, $10; Mary C. Haverfield, Carlisle, $8.

Ohio—Edward P. Kervin, Ashtabula, $12; Milton Eckley, Malvern, $12; William P. Molvane, Newcomerstown, $8; Henry Staufen, Canton, $12; Lawrence Criswell, Canton, $17; Samuel H. Dailey, Fowera, $10; Alfred S. Wood, Marietta, $12.

West Virginia—Samuel Sampson, Blue Creek, $8; John Keifer, Yolandale, $8; James H. Marcum, Huntington, $8; Hannah Davis, Lone Cedar, $8.

POSTAL MATTERS.

Free Rural Delivery Routes for Ohio and Some New Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—Ohio rural free delivery routes will be established August 1 as follows: At Caldwell, Noble county, one additional route; at Cutler, Washington county, one route. The postoffice at Haga will be supplied by rural carrier from Caldwell.

Soldiers Raid a Saloon.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—James Geary's saloon, at Roslyn, Va., has been wrecked and the place riddled with bullets from carbines and revolvers, by a crowd of 150 soldiers from Fort Myer, Va., who conducted an apparently organized attack, presumably in revenge for the shooting of one of their comrades. One man was wounded in the raid.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

The labor committee of the house is at work on the bill to create a national board of arbitration.

The White House clerical force moved into the new quarters pending repairs on the executive mansion.

The senate passed a bill authorizing the West Elizabeth and Dravosburg Bridge Company to construct a bridge over the Monongahela.

The record of the court-martial in the case of Maj. J. W. T. Waller, who was acquitted of the charge of illegally killing Filipino prisoners, has been received at the war department.

Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee says no action relative to adjournment of congress will be taken until it has appeared how much time will be required to secure a conference agreement on the Philippine civil government bill.

Confessed Attempted Blackmail.

COLUMBUS, O., June 26.—(Special.)—Charles J. Ross and Ellen Manard, alias Ross, alias Fisher, were arrested today charged with attempting to blackmail the wife of Alderman H. F. Liphardt of Detroit out of $1,000, by threatening to expose acts of her in Detroit.

Ross confessed that he wrote a threatening letter to Mrs. Liphardt.

A Summer Trip Unsurpassed on the Continent.

The trip to Salt Lake City or to the Pacific coast, via that point, over the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western, is the most beautiful in America. No European trip of equal length can compare with it in grandeur of scenery or wealth of novel interest. Then Salt Lake City itself is a most quaint and picturesque place and well worth the journey. Its Mormon temple, tabernacle, tithing office and church institutions; its hot sulphur springs within the city limits; its delightful temperature, sunny climate and its Great Salt lake—deader and denser than the Dead sea in Palestine—are but a few features of Salt Lake City's countless attractions. There are parks, drives, canyons and beautiful outlying mountain and lake resorts. Imagine, if you may, a bath in salt water a mile above sea level and in water in which the human body cannot sink. Inquire of your nearest ticket agent for low tourist rates to Salt Lake City, or write for information and copy of "Salt Lake City, the City of the Saints," to S. K. Hooper, general passenger agent, Denver, Col.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 26.—Four hits, one of which was for a brace of bases, was all that Chesbro allowed Chicago this afternoon, and as a result the Orphans again went down to defeat. Two of the singles came in the first inning and resulted in one tally. It was the only score for the home team during the game. It was an easy victory for the leaders of the national league, they scoring eight tallies in the contest.

"Jocko" Menefee did the twirling for the Orphans, and he was touched at will throughout the game. Twelve times did the Pirates connect safely with his drops and curves. Two of these hits were for three bases, and three of them for two-baggers. Menefee had poor control. On the other hand, Chesbro held the locals safe. He gave two hits in the first, but in the eight that followed only two more safeties were obtained, and these counted for naught.

Pirates Got a Good Start.

The champions clinched the game in the first inning, when two hits, combined with an error, scored two runs. Davis, the first man up, found the first ball pitched by Menefee for a single to center. He stole second and after Clarke's out scored on Beaumont's shoot to left. Beaumont reached third through Slagle's fumble of Wagner's fly and came home on Bransfield's out to left field territory.

For Chicago Slagle and Jones found the ball for singles. With two men on bases and none out things looked bright, but Chesbro settled down and no more safe drives. The next three batters were easy outs, but Slagle managed to cross the home plate before the side was retired. The Pirates scored their runs in pairs. Following their tallying in the first inning two players crossed the home plate through Leach's drive to left field for three bases and Davis' double to the same region.

Two more were garnered in the sixth through a succession of singles and Zimmer's connecting with the ball for three bases. The last pair was brought in the ninth through Clarke's double, Beaumont's choice and Wagner's single to right. Pittsburgh played championship ball throughout, not an error being scored against the Pirates. Chesbro's delivery hardly ever was batted outside the diamond, and in most instances the Orphans went out in one, two, three order.

Some Notes of the Game.

Eddie Glenn, hailing from Cincinnati, played at short in place of Joe Tinker. The Orphans were robbed of an opportunity to score in the sixth. Jones was on third and Kling on first; Williams found the ball for what seemed to be good for a double between third and short, but Wagner made a circus leap and speared it. The German was loudly applauded for the feat.

Congalton was given 10 days' notice of his release. It is expected he will join the New York club. Menefee was "socked" twice by Chesbro, and his third time at bat secured a base on balls.

Harry Pulliam, the Pittsburgh advance agent of good clothes and Dreyfussian prosperity, says his club is willing to play a post-season series with Comiskey's White Sox—providing both win the pennants of their respective leagues. Score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Happy Jack Chesbro was in rare form and besides holding Chicago down to four hits he struck out five batsmen.

Jesse Tannehill had better keep an eye on that boy Beaumont, as Harry seems bent on leading his team in the batting line. He had three sacrifices yesterday.

The champions will play an exhibition game at Decatur, Ill., today, then move to Cincinnati for games on Saturday and Sunday, and then home for a string of games with the eastern teams.

A huge steam roller was at work packing down the dirt on Exposition field yesterday and when the team returns home on Monday the playing field will be as solid and level as the top of a billiard table.

Wid Conroy has not yet reported at local headquarters and it is thought that the suggested shortstop went up to Milwaukee in order to show his best girl who lives up there that he was not disfigured in that Chicago brawl.

The lumber for the Fourth of July emergency bleachers arrived at Exposition park yesterday and the carpenters will start work on them today. The contractor says he will have the bleachers ready by Tuesday at the very latest.

It was Jock Menefee who gave the Pirates their first shut-out of the season in the afternoon game on Decoration day, but the champions got even with the pride of Monessen yesterday when they batted his curves all over the Chicago lot.

Rube Waddell's first appearance as an American league pitcher was not such a howling success after all. Ex-Pirate Jack Cronin outpitched him down at Baltimore yesterday. Still at that the Butler county boy did not put up such a bad article of twirling.

Chief Zimmer got another three-bagger in yesterday's game, and when the news reached Jack O'Connor, Bowdle will hurry back to the train and chase the chief to the bench. The batting rivalry between that pair of veterans is greater than that between any young bloods.

Lefty Davis was there again with two hits yesterday. It might be well for Manager Clarke to give some of his other players a chance to rest up for a few days and it would help their batting eyes. A three-days' rest for Lefty will do the good. Davis also scored a run and was the only Pirate to steal a base.

Deacon Phillippe, who pitched the 15-inning game at Chicago last Sunday, arrived home yesterday. The Deacon was sent on in advance that he might get a little rest and be ready for the eastern series, who start coming next week. Manager Clarke will use Doheny or Tannehill and Leever in the games at Cincinnati tomorrow and on Sunday.

Buck Washer, the Akron, O., boy who pitched clever ball for the West Virginia university team, was a caller at the Pirates' headquarters yesterday and spent some time in conference with President Dreyfuss. The Pittsburg owner was never in favor of signing Washer as a pitcher for the Pittsburgh club. It is likely the young man will try and secure a position on a good minor league team, as he needs experience before trying for the big league.

PITTINGER POUNDED.

Brooklyn Got Hits and Runs in Bunches.

BOSTON, MASS., June 26.—Brooklyn hit Pittinger in costly bunches today and won easily. Newton held the locals to one single for six innings, but was batted in the seventh and eighth innings. Carney pitched the last two innings for Boston and did well. Attendance, 2,100. Score:

SAVED A SHUTOUT.

Giants Managed to Get a Run in Ninth Inning.

PHILADELPHIA, June 26.—Up to the ninth inning today Philadelphia had the New York team shut out, then a single, a base on balls and a wild pitch gave the visitors their only tally. The Giants fielded miserably and the Phillies won handily. Attendance, 1,564. Score:

GREAT SALE OF JERSEYS.

Was Largest and Best That Has Been Held for Years.

At the recent auction sale at Hood Farm, Lowell, Mass., there was disposed of 154 Jerseys to breeders and farmers from all over the country. It was the largest and most successful sale of American bred Jerseys held in years.

The 48 cows sold brought $9,165, an average of $190, 67 heifers and calves sold for $5,282, and 39 bulls and bull calves brought $2,805. Thirty head by the great show bull Hood Farm Pogis 99th sold for $3,810, 19 by Toronto for $2,907; 10 by Sophie's Germenton, for $2,200, an average of $287.8 by Brown Bessie's Son, for $1,000, and 8 by Chromo, $824. Three young heifers by Hood Farm Pogis 9th, brought $655, an average of $218.

The remarkably good prices brought by the young heifers of Hood Farm Pogis 9th show that breeders appreciate the great breeding represented in this young bull and its progeny. None of these heifers are in milk, their average age being about 11 months. One of them brought $380, this being the highest price paid for any female not in milk. Hood Farm Pogis 9th is retained at the head of the Hood farm herd. He is a son of the famous cow Pogis, by the great show bull Hood Farm Pogis 99th. Piggis herself was the great plum of the sale and was bought by the well-known banker and copper magnate, Mr. Thomas W. Lawson of Boston. The price paid was $850.

ELKS HELD RACES.

Monongahela City Had a Holiday and Everybody Turned Out.

MONONGAHELA CITY, PA., June 26.—(Special.)—At 12 o'clock today every place of business in this city was closed and the people turned out en masse to attend the matinee given by the lodge of Elks at the driving park. The weather was faultless, the arrangements perfect. Despite the heavy rain of last night the race track was in fine condition for the races. In the free-for-all race Success, owned by Ross of East End, Pittsburgh, came out winner. Celesta M., owned by D. Darragh of Finleyville, second. In the 2:35 race Sindik of Monessen, Pa., owned by Harry Thompson, won. Civil, owned by S. Smith of California, Pa., second. In the green race Fannie Russell, owned by John Colvin of Monongahela City, won. Weshod, owned by Edward Kern of Pittsburgh, was second. More than 3,000 people passed through the gates and the committee in charge felt highly elated over the success of their first matinee.

WESTERN PLAYERS WON.

Took Semi-Finals in Metropolitan Tennis Tourney.

NEW YORK, June 26.—The semi-final rounds of the Metropolitan tennis championship were contested on the courts of the West Side Tennis club today and Senco Russ of San Antonio and H. H. Hackett were the victors. Russ beat C. S. Kelly in straight sets and Hackett defeated S. C. Millette in two straight sets. Russ and Hackett will meet in the final round tomorrow and the winner will play R. D. Little, holder of the Metropolitan trophy and present champion, for the championship of the year on Saturday.

TWO DAYS' SHOOT.

Trap Experts Will Have Fun at Beaver Falls.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., June 26.—(Special.)—The third annual shoot of the Recreation Rod and Gun club of this place will take place at their club grounds at Morado park on July 4 and 5, and the prospects are, judging from the number of entries already in, that it will be the most successful shoot the club has held yet. There will be 12 events each day, at 10, 15 or 20 live rocks. Interstate rules will govern and the shoot is open to all amateurs; shooters having an average of 25 per cent or over will be handicapped. The money will be divided by the usual system, and several prizes will be offered. The grounds have a clay background, all events will be at unknown angles, and the shoot will take place, rain or shine.

The Greensburg Matinee.

GREENSBURG, PA., June 26.—(Special.)—Four excellent events with the possibility of several specials and exhibitions have been arranged by the race committee for the third matinee of the Greensburg Driving club on Saturday afternoon. A number of new horses will appear.

Chautauqua Lake Sleeping Car Serv. Ice Pennsylvania Railroad, Buffalo & Allegheny Valley Division.

Beginning Saturday, June 28, a Pullman sleeping car will run daily between Pittsburgh and Mayville, N. Y. (Chautauqua lake), leaving Pittsburgh on train No. 3 at 10:45 p. m. Returning, sleeping car will leave Mayville daily, on train No. 4, at 12:55 a. m., arriving Pittsburgh, 7:30 a. m.

ANOTHER COLLEGE TEAM.

Westminster Athletes Will Compete at Schenley Park.

Another college team is in line for the president's meet at Schenley park. R. G. Deevers, the sprinter and captain of the Westminster college athletic team, entered himself, J. Armor Vance and R. W. Yourd. Hugh Lamble will enter tomorrow. Another entry received yesterday was that of E. L. Ohle of Case school, Cleveland. So far the following institutions of learning are represented in the list of entries: Princeton, Western university, State college, Westminster and Case school. The list will close Saturday at midnight as the executive committee, which is publishing the program this year, demands the entry list by Monday morning.

NO DECISION REACHED.

A. C. Dinkey Says Homestead People Have Not Given Up Football.

A. C. Dinkey, general manager of the Homestead steel works and one of the backers of the H. L. A. C. football team, said yesterday that none of the backers of the team had given out the story that there would be no football team this season. He said he was well aware that the story had been circulated but stated that actually no decision has yet been made as to what will be done.

was a trifle slow in leaving her boat house, and Referee Melkleham notified the Ells a second time. By 6:07 both crews were at their stake boats. Enthusiasm on the observation train was so great that the referee had to signal to the crowd to keep quiet so that the crews might hear the pistol shot.

At 6:09 the pistol was fired and the two big shells leaped away from their stake boats. Harvard got the best of the start and in 10 strokes had the nose of her shell a quarter of a length ahead of the blue's boat. The crimson's eight had the best water over the first quarter of a mile and her men made all out of it that they possibly could.

Yale Holds to Her Stroke.

Harvard started at 36 strokes to the minute, Yale at 32. By the end of the first half mile, Harvard had dropped her stroke to 34, while Yale still held her's at 32. At the half mile flag the boats were almost even. The watches on the referee's boat recorded Yale's time for this half mile at 2:29½, Harvard at 2:28¾. Yale had cut down Harvard's lead while rowing from two to four less strokes to the minute. Over the next half mile the race was a desperate struggle between two powerful crews. The boats zigzagged for a minute and a half and then the blue shell began to creep ahead.

Yale reached the first mile flag in 5:04, two seconds before Harvard. The Ells were two-thirds of a length ahead. Yale had dropped her stroke to 31 per minute and Harvard had let her's down to 32. It had been a terrible fight, but Yale had finally gotten the lead.

From the end of the first mile to the mile and a half flag the boats scarcely changed positions. Harvard raised her stroke one point and so did Yale. The blue shell finished the mile and a half in 7:37, Harvard in 7:39½. Over this distance Yale had gained but half a second. On toward the two mile flag the powerful eights swung with mechanical precision at the pace of giants. Harvard dropped her stroke back to 32, and now the two strokes swung in exact unison. But all the while the Yale shell kept creeping a little bit ahead.

Yale Four Seconds to the Good.

At the two-mile flag, Yale was leading Harvard by four seconds. Yale's time was 10:11; Harvard's, 10:15. Whistles and sirens at the navy yard shrieked out a welcome to the oarsmen as they swung down the next half mile. The revenue cutter Gresham, in the excitement of the moment, lifted her anchor and started to follow the crews, despite the entreaties of the referee and the regatta committee to keep back. Yale eased up a bit on her stroke and dropped it down to 31. Harvard seeing Yale relax jumped her's up to 34. But despite this spurt, Yale picked up another second between the two mile and the two and a half mile flag. Yale's time for the two and a half miles was 12:42, Harvard's 12:47.

Over the next half mile the blue's crew picked up just another second in the struggle for supremacy. At the three-mile Yale led by two good lengths, her time being 15:10, and Harvard's 15:16. Then Yale raised her stroke up to 32 and Harvard, in a desperate effort to hold her own, kept her's at 34.

Now for the Finishing Sport.

The crews entered the long avenue of yachts in grand style. Harvard's coxswain dashed a little water in the face of McGraw, who was rowing up to the limit of his power. Although there was still another mile to go it was now plain that Yale had more strength left than Harvard, and that barring an accident the victory would be for the blues. Little by little Yale increased her lead until at the three and a half mile flagship was nine full seconds ahead of Harvard, which means practically three full boat lengths. Yale's time was 17:40, Harvard's 17:49.

It was now a spurt for the last half-mile of the race. Yale raised her stroke to 33, then to 34. Harvard held hers at 34 for a minute, but had to drop it at last to 32.

The Harvard coxswain made a bad mess of his steering over this last mile of the race. Long before the crews reached the three and a half mile flag it was apparent that Jackson steered his eight almost squarely into the flagpost, so that the oars banged against it and the boat lost the benefit of two or three seconds of time. Harvard was plucky, despite the fact that she was far behind, and gradually her men struck their pace again and rowed it out. McGraw was steering his boat and Jackson again and again dashed water in his face. It was only a question of how many lengths Yale would have at the finish.

Suddenly the flag dropped for Yale. The blue's time was 20:20, just 10 seconds slower than the record made by the famous Yale crew of 1888.

Daly in Distress.

Harvard's time was 20:33, which gave to Yale the victory by four good boat lengths. Just as the finish flag fell and Yale's men stopped rowing Daly, the bow in the Yale boat, dropped limp over the side of the shell. It looked as though he would fall overboard before Waterman, at No. 2, could throw water on him and revive him. He finally got into his seat and rowed over to the launch with the rest of the men. Harvard's oarsmen were all literally pumped out at the finish.

The story of the freshman race is easily told for the first mile. The Yale eight got away at 34 strokes to the minute, Harvard at 36. The Yale boys got the best of the start and held it, Yale first in the first half-mile in 1:55, Harvard in 1:57.

Yale eased her stroke down to 30 and Harvard made hers 32. The New Haven freshmen finished the mile in 4:49, just one length ahead of their Harvard cousins, who finished in 4:52. Harvard still held her stroke at 32 and Yale at 30. Just beyond the mile flag the Harvard boys began to spurt. Little by little they cut down Yale's lead until at the mile and a half flag they were leading Yale. Harvard's time for the mile and a half was 7:27, Yale's 7:29. Harvard was now almost a length ahead.

Lads Make Great Finish.

The crimson's eight put their stroke up to 34, but the Yale boys still held theirs at 30. The boats zigzagged between the strokes for the next minute until they were almost even. Then Yale weakened a little, but soon she regained control of her boat and once more the shells were practically even.

The Harvard boys put their stroke up to 36 and Yale raised hers to 32 in one of the grandest fights ever seen on any river between freshmen crews. The flags at the finish dropped and no one could tell which had dropped first. The watches made it a dead heat in 10:13, and a moment later the judges announced that the race was a draw. The Yale freshmen had rowed the two miles in just two seconds slower time than the Yale 'varsity.

The four-oared race was a victory for Harvard from the very start. The Harvard four got the lead at the crack of the pistol and never lost it. At the end of the half-mile Harvard was leading Yale one length and at the mile there was open water between the boats. Harvard's time for the mile, 5:45; Yale's, 5:49. At the end of the mile and a half Harvard was a length and a quarter ahead; her time was 8:32, Yale's 8:36. The Harvard four spurted and increased this lead to a trifle over two lengths at the finish. Harvard's time was 11:19½, Yale's 11:25½.

ONE HOT TIP FAILED TO PAN AT SHEEPSHEAD

Hindred Was Heavily Backed by Knowing Ones, but Failed to Land.

SERGEANT WON BIG STAKES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 26.—Three favorites and three second choices were successful at Sheepshead Bay today. The Pansy selling stakes for 2-year-olds, 6 furlongs on turf, brought out a fairly representative field, and was won easily by the 2 to 5 favorite, Sergeant. Squid, at 100 to 1, finished second.

Ranald, favorite, won the Spindrift stakes for 3-year-olds, one mile and a furlong. In this race Hindred was a hot up and carried a big stable commission, but failed to show speed and finished next to last. Arsenal, the defeated American Derby candidate, made his appearance and ran very poorly, finishing away back. The weather was warm and the track slow. Summary:

Pretorius Took First Race.

First race, 6 furlongs on main track—Pretorius, 105, Burns, 5 to 1 and even, won; The Musketeer, 128, J. Martin, 8 to 5 and 3 to 5, second; Sadducee, 115, Bergen, 12 to 1 and 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:14 4-5. Coburg and Honolulu also ran.

Second race, for 2-year-olds, last 5½ furlongs of Futurity course—Alsono, 109, Odom, 12 to 1 and 3 to 5, won; Jack Chesbro, 96, Walsh, 8 to 1, second; Annie Thompson, 97, Helgeson, 30 to 1, third. Time, 1:47

BUSY DAYS FOR AMATEURS

GREAT BATTLE IS LOOKED FOR AT HOMESTEAD

Altoona Team Is Due Tomorrow and Rival Nines Will Make Warm Fight.

RISHER TRIES AT WIRLER

His Name Is McClintock and He Shut the Francis A. C. Out Without a Hit or Run—Only One Player Got Past First Base.

On Saturday afternoon Greek will meet Greek at Steel Works park, Homestead, and what promises to be one of the hottest games of the season will be played between the H. L. A. C. aggregation and that from Altoona. The contest has been awaited with interest by the fans in this section, for the Mountain City boys have been making a clean sweep of their games, and it will be their first appearance of the season in the extreme western end of the state. They are very strong and Risher will have to get a good team at Homestead to make it interesting for them.

Homestead will be strengthened considerably for the game and their men are confident that they will be able to land a victory. Edmundson, who has been playing for Indiana, and Pitcher Williams of the same team, will report this afternoon and will be in the game tomorrow. Climer reported last evening and will be in left field against Altoona. The rest of the team is in good shape and every one of them is fit to play the game of his life.

The Francis A. C. of Pittsburgh was defeated in a game at Homestead yesterday with the H. L. A. C. in a contest that was a farce. The Homestead players won with ridiculous ease, and only on one occasion did a Francis player get past first base. Manager Risher tried a new pitcher, McClintock, who did so well that not a hit was made from his delivery. Score:

ARMOUR WINS SUIT.

St. Louis Owner Must Pay for Pitcher Wicker.

CINCINNATI, June 26.—In the case of Manager Wm. Armour of the Cleveland American league baseball club against the St. Louis National league club for payment for the release of Pitcher Bob Wicker, Judge Smith today decided in favor of Armour. He instructed the jury to return a verdict for Armour for $1,500, with interest from August, 1901, to April, 1902.

Wicker's release was bought by St. Louis from Armour, while the latter was manager of the Dayton, O., baseball club. The release price was $1,500, of which $750 was paid down and the balance promised in two months. Wicker's arm went wrong after signing with St. Louis, and the second $750 was not paid. Judge Smith decided that the $1,500 was to be paid for the release of Wicker by Armour; that the pitcher could not have been compelled to sign with St. Louis, and that his consequent inability had nothing to do with the case, and that a man could not be sold as a chattel.

UNCLE SAM WAS FIRST.

Stars and Stripes Were First to Cross the Line.

KIEL, June 26.—The American yacht Uncle Sam, owned by Francis R. Riggs of New York, won the first of the international special class races here today, the Stars and Stripes crossing the line eight minutes ahead of all other yachts.

All-College Team Wants Games.

The All-College baseball team is composed of the following college players: McLaughlin of Pittsburgh Law school, catcher; Reilly of Fordham college, catcher; Totten of Notre Dame college, pitcher; J. McKenna of P. A. C., pitcher; Lewis of Cornell, first; Dunn of Pittsburgh college, second; Ferguson of Cornell, short; Hanlon of Pittsburgh college, third; F. McKenna, Pittsburgh Law school, middle; Dunlevy of Fordham college, left; Wall and Dillon, Pittsburgh college, right. The team would like to hear from Monessen, Rochester, Charleroi, Altoona, Johnstown, Beaver Falls, Mayer, Wilmerding, Homestead, for Saturday and July 4. For games address Manager, 1107 Forbes street, Pittsburg.

Bridgeville Won a Close Game.

CANONSBURG, PA., June 26.—(Special.)—Bridgeville, in spite of the fact that they have been charged with never getting farther away than their own grounds, came to Canonsburg today and put up a lively game. Only six innings were played, but they were full of interest. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Canonsburg ....0 0 0 1 0 0 1—2 7 2

Altoona Defeated York's Team.

ALTOONA, PA., June 26.—(Special.)—The Penn Park team of York made its first appearance here today and met with defeat at the hands of the local nine. The six runs scored by the local team in the first inning were too much for the visitors to overcome. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Altoona ....0 6 0 0 0 0 0 0 *—6 7 11 2

Leander Defeated King.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—At the Coliseum bicycle track tonight George Leander of Chicago defeated William King of Atlantic city in two straight heats of a 10-mile motor-paced race. Time, 15:29 and 15:23 2-5.

Old Man Convicted of Murder.

RAVENNA, O., June 26.—(Special.)—Wesley Bancroft, aged 70 years, with hair white as snow, was today convicted of murder in the first degre, but the jury recommended mercy, thus permitting him to spend the rest of his days in the penitentiary. Bancroft killed Chauncey Hudson, a farmer living near Garrettsville, March 17. Bancroft was a hired man and knew Hickox had money, which was the motive.

Automobile Driver Fined.

GREENVILLE, PA., June 26.—(Special.)—W. P. Tillotson, son of Councilman N. E. Tillotson, was arrested today for driving an automobile in a fast and reckless manner. He was taken before a justice and fined $25.

LAWSON WILL NOT BE ABLE TO RIDE

WESTERN PACE FOLLOWER WAS INJURED AT BALTIMORE.

Came Pretty Close to Being Killed. Manager Hurst Has Secured George Leander of Chicago to Meet Benny Monroe on Monday Night.

A telegram was received here yesterday stating that Gus Lawson, who was matched to meet Benny Monroe in a 30-mile motor-paced race at the Colosseum in Allegheny next Monday night, was so badly injured in his spill during the race at Baltimore the other night, that he will not be able to ride for several weeks. Manager Hurst of the Colosseum is at present in the east, and upon receiving word of Lawson's injuries, at once set about to arrange another match. He wired to Pittsburgh last night that he had secured George Leander, the speedy Chicago professional, for Monday night. Leander has ridden on all the big tracks, and has a good record.

Lawson narrowly escaped being fatally hurt by his fall. It was in the second heat of his race with William King that the accident occurred. Lawson started off with a spurt, and on the second lap his tire exploded, and the front wheel of his machine went to pieces. He was thrown heavily, and was unconscious for some time. Besides a long cut on the scalp, he had a number of other wounds on different parts of his body.

The entries for the amateur events for Monday night, the one-third mile handicap and the one-mile handicap, close promptly at 6 o'clock tomorrow evening, and all riders wishing to compete should get their names in as early as possible.

Manager Hurst, who has spent the week in New York, has already made contracts with some of the speediest riders now on the tracks to race at the Colosseum during the next few weeks.

AMONG THE AMATEURS.

Our Boys desire a game with a good out-of-town team for July 5. Address Gus Kamnorer, manager Our Boys, Etna.

The Columbia A. C. would like to hear from all 10 to 11-year-old teams. For games address John Thompson, Greentree avenue, Allegheny.

Porter A. C. is without a game for Saturday. Any team having grounds can secure this game. Address J. G. Matthews, 5407 Broad street, city.

The Carnegie Juniors would like to hear from all 16 or 17-year-old teams for evenings after 6:30 o'clock. For games address Albert Phillip, Carnegie building, city.

Swissvale A. C. has signed two new pitchers, Stewart of Turtle Creek and Donaldson of Wilkinsburg. Stewart will pitch against the Our Boys in Saturday's game.

Manager Kammerer of the North End baseball team would like to arrange a game with the Oakmont Reserves on the Fourth of July. Telephone 574-J North, Allegheny, Pa.

Cottage will play the Verners at Friendship park next Saturday, June 28. Battery for Cottage will be Edwards or Irwin and Craig. Loy will likely do the pitching for Verners.

The East Liberty team wants a game for Saturday, June 28, with some strong team having grounds. Address Louis Seibel, box 62, station A, or call up telephone 1251-J East, between 1:00 and 2 o'clock today.

The Millvale Juniors would like to arrange games with all 13 or 14-year-old uniformed teams. The St. Clair, J. C. Donnellys, National Second team and Willnerding Juniors. Address D. Houlahan, box 1003, city.

The Olympia Juniors wish to arrange games with any nine to ten-year-old teams in Pittsburgh or Allegheny. Their record up to date is 10 games won and none lost. Address Clarence Wright, 957 Logan street, Allegheny.

The Mawhinney Baseball club will cross bats with the Duquesne A. C. on the Denny grounds Saturday and a good game is expected. The Mawhinneys would like to hear from all 12 and 13-year-old teams. For games address J. L. Krumenacker, Jr., Elliott postoffice.

The undefeated C. H. S. C. would like to arrange games with the following teams: South Side high school second team, Coral A. C., Coraopolis Juniors, Geneva Independents and the Millvale Juniors preferred. Address Charles Somerholder, 5100 Breeds Hill street, Pittsburgh.

The Francis Juniors have still a few open dates and would like to arrange games with the following teams: Hill Top A. C. of Mt. Washington, J. E. Goulds, Millvale Juniors, Cottage Second, Company G Second and Bellfield Second. For games address Oliver Brashear, 852 Herron avenue, Pittsburgh.

The Century Athletics will play Etna A. C. tomorrow at Etna. Grush will pitch for E. A. C., while Dyke will twirl for Century. The following players are requested to report at Elm house, Etna, at 2 o'clock: Hacnal, Thompson, Dyke, Nix, Brown, Young, Clark, J. Stauffer, C. Stauffer, Tillman and Shaffer. Take Millvale and Etna car.

The Pittsburgh Drygoods team last evening kept up the good work by defeating the J. M. Gusky team by the score of 29 to 8, this being their third successive victory. The battery was Black and Clark. They would like to hear from all store and office teams for Saturday afternoons and evening games. Address A. W. Allen, care Pittsburgh Drygoods Company.

Allentowns reorganized team will play a practice game with the Excelsiors of Allentown Friday evening at Baileys field at 6:30 p. m. The following players are earnestly requested to be present: Deemer, Rollins, Ott, Quinn, Cromer, Burtt, Thomas, Wilhelm, Greenewald, Tragesser, Hanlon, Burkhart, Ihrig, O'Donnell. A business meeting will be held preceding the practice.

The Woodlake A. C. plays the strong Lafayette team on Saturday on the Woodlake grounds. All of the Woodlake A. C. players must report Friday evening for practice. Paul Horan and Bill Nagler are especially requested to put in appearance. Teams desiring games with Woodlake A. C. should address Manager Frank J. Buerger, 186 Mayflower street, East End, city.

The Shetland A. C. contradict the Millvale Juniors' statement that Shetland A. C. refused to play a game with Millvale Juniors. The Millvale Juniors can have a game any time after July 12. If the Millvale Juniors refuse to play the Shetland A. C. again the Shetland A. C. will claim the 13 and 14-year-old championship of Western Pennsylvania. All teams desiring games address Edward Leech, 260 Shetland avenue, East End.

The McKees Rocks A. C. of McKees Rocks would like to arrange games for July 5, 12, 19 and 26 with any of the following teams: J. M. Weiss, Shaffers of Etna, Braddock high school, Fayette A. C., Lowell A. C., Lamont A. C. and Sewickley high school. Will pay full expenses to winning or half expenses to losing teams. Address L. A. Hay, care American Bridge Company, 31st and Butler streets, city.

Wilkinsburg high school will play the Electric club of Westinghouse on July 4 at the latter's grounds at Wilkinsburg. A good game is expected as high school has been strengthened since its defeat by the Electric club earlier in the season and will try hard to get even by winning on the fourth. High school would like to hear from good amateur teams for games during July, August and September. Address letters to Robert W. Russell, Duff's college, city.

The following players of Hazelwood L. A. C. are requested to report for practice Friday evening: Delaney, Murray, Hopkins, Roeper, Powell, Tafel, May, Barnes, Joyce and Cullan. Owing to Decoration of Braddock cancelling the Hazelwood L. A. C. are without a game for the Fourth of July. They would like to arrange two games with any strong amateur team in Pennsylvania. The following teams preferred: Woodlakes, Canonsburg, Evans City A. C. and Beaver Falls. Address Manager Conrad Roeper, Lowry street, Hazelwood.

The J. C. McCullough Panhandle railroad team will play at Bridgeville Saturday. Would like to hear from all strong teams with enclosed grounds in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio. Have a two-legged game with Cincinnati, Zanesville and Columbus. Players, Lindsay, second base; McShane, third base; Calahan, left field; Keenan, shortstop; Hopkins, catcher; Mohl, first base; Parson, right field; J. Bildenbook, center field; Neil and Loy pitchers. Address communications to T. J. Naughton, Sheridanville, Allegheny county, P. O. box 76.

The old Allentown A. C. was given a shaking up the past week by Manager Wannaman and a lot of the old material was dropped. Up to the reorganization of this team they were not playing half satisfactory to the fans of Allentown and consequently could not get their support. The new team will still be known as the Allentowns and is now able to meet any of the fast amateur teams in this vicinity. Among the new players secured by the management are Quinn, formerly of the Duquesnes; Rollins of the Winters, Cromer of the Winters, Walsh of the old Avalons, Burkhart, who pitched winning ball for the Eureka of Allentown last year; Wilhelm, middle fielder of this year's St. Vituses team. The management is trying to get old Bailey's park for grounds, which has not been in use since the old Allentown team headed by Ab Starr vacated it. They would like to hear from any amateur team for games, such as the Sofels, New Brighton, New Castle Athletics, Lousdale, Freedom, Verona. Address J. H. Wanneman, manager, care American Tin Plate Company, Star Works, city.

CHADWICK PLACE PLAN OF LOTS

FIRST PUBLIC SALE OCCURS

TO-MORROW, JUNE 28th.

Investors have coined money on East Liberty and Squirrel Hill realty in faster time than print can tell it! Yet of all the profit-guaranteeing opportunities that mortal beings can take advantage of with a small outlay of money, this one unquestionably stands by itself, irresistible to the man who is posted, for the reason that he has seen undeveloped acreage that was in no sense finer than this property sell at enormously higher prices!

Why is this true? Why has such stirring building operations started on this property before the promoters have had time to organize a sale? Why are nearly a hundred magnificent, colonial-style residences going up all over the plan ahead of the day scheduled for putting the property on the market? How do so many people hear about a thing before it happens? They don't. Only a few do, but those who do, buy! That's the secret! The quality and location of Chadwick Place is an argument that makes folks open their pocketbooks.

Property in towns built up by the founding of gigantic industries appeals to men because they know that wherever employment is established population is sure to come. But here is a property, refined, picturesque, level, commanding a view of Highland Park and Herron Hill, on the choice part of Lincoln Avenue, in the 21st ward, sharing all the city conveniences, but a stone's throw from Silver Lake, nestled in the heart of valuable frontage selling for five times the money, that you can buy by paying $15 to $50 down and hold with a monthly outlay not exceeding $5 to $12.

Ponder awhile on this! Remember where the property is! Bear in mind the building restrictions! Take into consideration who your neighbors are. That improvements which they make will keep your property bounding up in value even if you yourself do not turn a hand.

The city is built up solidly with fine homes for three-quarters of a mile beyond this plan, and frontage farther out not equal to Chadwick Place, has sold at $35 to $40 a foot, while Lincoln Avenue frontage verging on the plan, on the very corner of the property, brought in a cash deal recently $80 a foot. In less than a year nearly 400 modern homes have been erected in this locality and the increase in inhabitants has reached 5,000.

No other community on earth can begin to show such an increase either in population or property values—all due to the fact that Chadwick Place and neighboring realty is advanced by the natural, tremendous, expanding wealth of Greater Pittsburgh, as well as to the fact that it lies in the very choicest spot of Greater Pittsburgh, where vast railroad and traction improvements are being pushed to completion for the purpose of opening up miles and miles of rich residential land extending to the Allegheny River.

THE STREETS OF CHADWICK PLACE

The first thing that will impress you when you visit Chadwick Place is the way the streets are laid out, and the diversity of architectural beauty revealed by the handsome residences planted here and there all over the plan.

The fine pillared porch reception-hall houses on Lemington Avenue, built of German mottled brick, vitrified buff brick, and red wire-cut repressed brick (complete sewerage, water, electric lights and both gases) are without a doubt the finest houses that any investor ever bought at $4,000. Men who own these houses wouldn't begin to part with them today for the amount paid, and it's a question whether any of the lots in this section of the plan will remain unsold after the early hours of next Saturday's Big Sale.

The lots on Lemington Avenue, Somerset Street, Oberlin, Westmoreland and Gladefield Streets will be picked first, principally on account of the remarkably fine views they command. You can stand anywhere on Somerset Street and see for miles in all directions. The reservoirs and driveways in Highland Park, lying to the northwest, can be seen distinctly, and Westinghouse Park, where $200 to $400 a foot is being asked for property, is directly south.

The grades on Lemington Avenue, Somerset Street, Gladefield Street and Grotto Street have been established, and the property has good walks, and arc street lights, with traction cars within one to five minutes' walk of every lot.

Lincoln Avenue is the western boundary, and Brushton Avenue the eastern. Belmar is on the south and Arlington Place and Lincoln Park on the north, distinguishing Chadwick Place as the very cream and geographical center of all the picturesque and level highlands lying between Lincoln and Frankstown Avenues.

WILL COST MILLIONS OF DOLLARS

More than $400,000 has been expended already in buying the right of way for the new P. R. R. railroad that will pass Chadwick Place. The expenditure will be $10,000,000 before the work is completed. The massive bridge to span Silver Lake will alone cause an immense expenditure, and the passenger station to be erected for the convenience of families living in Chadwick Place and the neighboring properties will possibly be the finest ever put up in a residential district.

The new railroad will open up a district which will extend beyond Chadwick Place, and in making Chadwick Place the practical entrance to all this rich territory cannot other than prove a mighty factor in pushing up the value of every lot in the plan.

An old resident in summing up the future said: "I have watched the matchless march of progress in this district for thirty-five years. I remember Silver Lake when everybody out here used to call it Findley's Pond. I have seen real estate which you could have bought at one time for $90,000 built up and increased in value until the actual assessment on it today is $11,000,000. This one piece of property has made nearly 200 men wealthy and more than 500 others well-to-do. I can see, however, that all the past accumulation of wealth made from property out this way will be as nothing compared with what the same or adjoining real estate will earn in the future. There was not the spirit of industrial expansion years ago that there is today! The United States was not the master-captain of the world's commerce then like it is now! Pittsburgh was not leading all other cities then in great business operations as it is today! The investor of today can't help making his fortune if he 'can see right.' The future is plainly visible. We have arrived at the money age—the fast age—an age that never existed before."

If you have been following the railroad news in the newspapers no doubt you are cognizant of the fact that many of the passenger trains on the Allegheny Valley System will cease running through Lawrenceville after the completion of the new line described above, which will leave the Pennsylvania Main Line at Fifth Avenue Station, better known to old Pittsburghers as Point Breeze, and tap the old Allegheny Valley Line at Brilliant.

CHADWICK PLACE PROPERTY IS AN INVESTMENT!

The lowest-priced desirable lots in the surrounding districts are bringing $1,200 to $1,500. $80 to $120 a foot for corner realty has been asked with more than a few transactions closed. Neighboring property (on the market at $1,800 to $2,400 a lot) is not in the cream location in which you find Chadwick Place, nor did it sell at any higher figures than Chadwick Place when it was opened. The immense amount of building following its sale sent it up in value, just as the even more marvelous building activity will make Chadwick Place Property mount higher and higher in value. The truth is Chadwick Place property will be offered in this great sale at prices 33 per cent beneath its natural market value. The Company's Board of Directors have twice considered the question of raising present prices, but the men who are in control want to make a quick turn. For this reason there will be no advance made by the company until after the sale, or until the Lincoln Bridge has been finished. This decision was made chiefly to give the tremendous building boom now on an even more powerful impetus.

The experience of investors is that they can rent or sell a house in Chadwick Place before the plaster is dry. Many houses now in a half-finished condition have been sold or leased. Heads of good family are visiting the plan daily watching for the first opportunity that may open. This is not a piece of unwarranted real estate enthusiasm, but a fact that you can verify by talking to the families who live in this locality.

Not less than 100 handsome residences will be built on the plan during the summer and early autumn. The style of these houses will vary—there will be no sameness. A pleasing contrast in design that adds to a property's quality will be maintained. If you consider only the building operations carried on up to this date, you will learn that Chadwick Place has been improved in the short period of six months more than any other Pittsburgh property was ever improved in two years.

$250 - $260 - $275
$300 - $325 - $350
$375 - $400 - $425
$450 - and - $500

There will be no lots offered at this sale at a higher price than $500, and there will be plenty of lots at all of the above prices for investors who are on the grounds early.

THE TERMS ARE:

10 Per Cent Down;
Balance $5 to $12 a Month.
10 Per Cent Discount for Cash.

The title is perfect, having been examined and guaranteed by the Fidelity Title & Trust Company of Pittsburgh.

Remember that the prices and terms are exactly as stated. We do not resort to the practice of advertising lower prices than we have, nor quoting catchy prices on only a few lots. Attractive prices are on all the lots. How long figures so marvelously beneath regular market value will remain on these lots we are unable to promise, except that the figures will not be changed during the progress of the present remarkable sale.

Read These Directions Before Starting For Chadwick Place!

You can take traction cars at the corner of Wood street and Fifth avenue and get to the property in 28 minutes. The cars marked "Lincoln and Liberty Avenues" and cars bearing signs reading "East Liberty via Center Avenue" run direct to the plan without transfer. If you take cars marked "Penn Avenue via Frankstown" you can transfer at Lincoln avenue. Wilkinsburg people can also transfer at this point.

When the great Lincoln Avenue Bridge over Silver Lake and the Boulevard is finished the roadbed to and through Chadwick Place Plan of Lots will be double-tracked for a mile beyond the property, the same as it is now almost to the property. You will see the hand of progress pushing everything out this direction. $2,000,000 will be expended on improvements in less than four months.

Until the grand new Lincoln Avenue Bridge is finished passengers on the car line will have to transfer at bridge to cars in waiting at other end. The bridge is rapidly being pushed to completion; the American Bridge Company will have the structural steel work ready for erection as soon as the abutments are up.

DEWEY REVEALS SECRETS OF THE MANILA FIGHTS

Gave Committee Unwritten History That He Had Intended to Write.

THE LAST BATTLE A SHAM

City Had Surrendered to Him on the Day That He Sank the Spanish Fleet—Never Recognized Aguinaldo's Government.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 26.—It is Admiral Dewey's intention to write a history of his campaign in Manila bay. This intention he confided to the Senate Philippine committee today, and he gave that committee some startling facts never before printed, which, he said, he had been reserving for publication in his book.

One of these facts was that the city of Manila was surrendered to him on the day when he sank the Spanish fleet before Cavite. He did not accept the surrender then because there was no American land force to garrison the town; but when the city was finally given up to the Americans at the close of the war, it was in pursuance of a definite understanding with the Spanish governor general. The battle which accompanied the storming of the town was only a sham fight.

Sailed Without Aguinaldo.

"The day before we left Hongkong," said the admiral, "I received a telegram from Consul General Pratt at Singapore, saying that Aguinaldo was at Singapore and would join me at Hongkong. I replied, 'All right, tell him to come aboard,' but I attached so little importance to the message that I sailed without Aguinaldo and before he arrived.

"There were then many promises as to what the Filipinos would do, but I did not depend upon them. Consul Williams assured me that upon our arrival and the firing of the first gun 50,000 Filipinos would rise. None did arise and I frequently joked him on this point."

In explanation of his statement that the city of Manila had surrendered on the day of the destruction of the Spanish fleet, Admiral Dewey said that during the naval engagement several guns had been fired at him from the shore batteries, and that as soon as the Spanish squadron was destroyed he steamed toward the city, sending word to the governor that if another shot was fired from the shore he would fire upon the city.

City Raised the White Flag.

"The governor replied," the admiral went on, "that if I did not fire on the city the shore batteries would remain silent. The Spanish flag was not taken down, but white flags were raised. It was a surrender, and if I had had with me 5,000 troops with which to occupy the city I could have taken it and held it. I anchored my ships under his guns, 2,000 yards away, and lay there 24 hours. During that time the governor general sent word to me several times that he wanted to surrender to me—to the navy. I could not entertain his proposition of a formal surrender because of the lack of troops to take possession of the city."

The admiral said that after Aguinaldo got his forces organized he occupied Cavite, but when he (Dewey) learned that American troops were expected to arrive soon he asked the Filipinos to retire. They at first demurred, but ultimately consented. It was after this time, on July 15, that Aguinaldo sent to him from Dagcoor his first proclamation of the independence of the Philippines.

Thought Lightly of Independence.

"That proclamation," said the admiral, "was the first intimation I had ever received of the aspiration of the Philippine people for an independent government. Aguinaldo had never told me that the independence of his people was his aim, but when the proclamation came I thought nothing of it. Indeed, I attached so little importance to it that I did not cable it to Washington, but left its transmittal to the mails."

When Senator Lodge asked the admiral, "Did you recognize the Philippine republic?" he replied:

"I did not. I never gave it the slightest recognition. I had no authority to do so, and, beside, did not consider it an organized government. There was a reign of terror, and the Philippine forces were riding rough-shod over the community, committing many acts of cruelty. I sent word to Aguinaldo that he must treat his prisoners kindly, and he replied that he would."

"What would have been the effect of permitting the Philippine forces to enter Manila when our troops entered?"

"The Spanish were very fearful of the result of such a course, and, therefore, they surrendered to me in advance. That was all arranged, and there was no need for the loss of a man in the capture of the city.

Sacrificed Lives to Honor.

"It was to be done at a signal, and no gun need have been fired by us, but for the desire of the governor general, who demanded that a few shots should be fired, so that I had to fire and kill a few people, but the Spaniards did not fire, because of my warning that it would be disastrous to the city for them to do so. They had in the city 15,000 troops and 47 rifle guns."

Admiral Dewey added that he was pleased to supply the committee with this history, which he had been reserving for his own story. He had copies of some of the communications received by him made because of this purpose, but none of these from Consul General Pratt, as he regarded that official as a busybody, devoting much time to interfering with the business of other people.

"He was consul general for the United States," Mr. Patterson suggested, and the witness replied:

"Yes; but he had nothing to do with the attack on Manila."

Returning to his departure from Hongkong, Admiral Dewey repeated that he had left for Manila without Aguinaldo, saying he had left as early as he did largely because he wanted to get rid of him and the other "little brown" men, many of whom were constantly coming aboard the flagship.

Filipinos in the Way.

"I was very busy," he said, "getting ready for battle, and they were after me constantly, taking up much of my time. None of them went with me to Mirz bay, for various reasons. One of them failed to do so because he didn't have his tooth brush with him."

The Hongkong Filipinos had not, he added, told him of any insurrection in the Philippines, and he said he had consented to see them on the same principle that one gives money to a man often to get rid of him. Indeed, he had himself given Aguinaldo the first information Aguinaldo had received that the Filipinos were assembling near Manila.

When asked in cross-examination if he had ever repeated his original statement to the navy department, that the Filipinos were more capable of self-government than the Cubans, Admiral Dewey replied affirmatively, saying:

"I did, and I still think so."

Senator Carmack called Admiral Dewey's attention to the fact that he had given arms to Aguinaldo notwithstanding the governor-general had told him he would surrender the city at any time, and asked why he had done so in the face of that understanding. The reply was that he considered it a proper military act.

"The Filipinos were our friends," he said, "and they were doing our work. I believed that they were so delighted to get rid of the Spaniards that they would accept us with open arms. Even," he added, "when Aguinaldo was at the height of his power at Malolos, Admiral Seymour of the British navy had told Aguinaldo that he should tie to the Americans, as they were their best friends.

"The Filipinos then were our friends, and were helping us. We had no troops to land, and I know that the more closely the city was invested the easier it would be to take it when our own troops should arrive. Still, I think we could have gotten on as well without them. It was their own idea. We all know that hindsight is better than foresight. Looking back, I wouldn't have had the Filipinos join me. But I thought they would be friendly, and I think it very ungrateful in them to have turned against us.

"When I permitted Aguinaldo to go ashore I did not know that any United States troops would be sent to the Philippines. I was a long way from home; there were no cables, and I was meeting emergencies as they arose. Whatever I did, I did according to my best judgment at the time.

Dewey's Wisest Saying.

"Later I said to Aguinaldo: 'There is the enemy; you pursue your course and we will pursue ours.' I think that is the wisest thing I ever said. They were assisting us, and at the same time fighting their own battle.

"I had in mind in dealing with the Filipinos the assistance that the negroes had given the federal forces during the civil war. We availed ourselves of that assistance, and I thought we could accept the aid of the Filipinos in the same way. Their one idea was to get rid of the Spaniard, and I believe that if on May 1, before the insurrection was organized, we had had there a few American troops the Filipinos would have accepted us and that they would have remained loyal."

His reason for taking possession of Subig bay was because he "didn't want any other power to interfere." The admiral was still on the stand when the committee adjourned until tomorrow.

BUTLER GIRL WAS COMMITTED TO JAIL

She Is Accused of Buying Whisky and Wine Under False Pretenses.

Lillian Walford, 20 years old, of Millerstown, Butler county, was committed to the Allegheny county jail last night on a charge of false pretense by Alderman William F. Walsh on the information of William Manning of McKees Rocks. It is alleged that the girl went to a wholesale liquor store in McKees Rocks and bought a quantity of wine and whisky and had them charged to William Manning, in whose family she is employed as a domestic.

The bill was sent to Manning and he spoke to his wife about the account and she denied all knowledge of it. Manning flew into a rage and went to Alderman William F. Walsh and made information against the girl. She was arrested and brought to the alderman's office and sent to jail to await a hearing.

The young girl was astounded at being taken into custody. At the alderman's office she said that Mrs. Manning had sent her to the store to buy spirits and told her to have them charged to her husband. She said that she heard Manning speak to his wife about the bill and Mrs. Manning denied all knowledge of it. Before making the information against the girl Manning accused her of having obtained the wine and whisky on false representation.

The girl said that she came from Millerstown to work for Manning about three months ago. As she had no friends in the city she was compelled to stay in jail last night for a hearing today. Word has been sent to the young girl's parents in Millerstown.

When taken to jail last night she broke down and cried and said that she had only carried out the orders of Mrs. Manning in buying the whisky and wine. Alderman Walsh said last night that he was compelled to commit the girl to jail on the evidence produced. Mr. Manning will be summoned to the hearing today.

ALL TAKE STOCK.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 26.—Formal announcement of the organization of the American steel foundries under a New Jersey charter, with an authorized capital stock of $40,000,000, half 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock and half common, was made today.

The new corporation acquires these plants and properties: American Steel Castings Company of New Jersey, Reliance Steel Castings Company, Limited, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Leighton and Howard Steel Company of St. Louis, Mo.; Franklin Steel Castings Company of Franklin, Pa.; the Sargent Company of Chicago, Ill., and American Steel Foundry Company of St. Louis, Mo.

It will issue against them and for additional working capital $15,000,000 in 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock and the same amount of common stock. The balance will remain in the corporation's treasury for future purposes, not to be issued save for actual cash or property of actual cash value at par. Control of the companies named is to be taken over not later than July 15.

The statement is made that the owners of the constituent companies declined to accept any cash payment, but took stock instead, thus reducing the cash requirements very considerably. These were guaranteed by Charles M. Schwab and Elbert H. Gary, president and chairman respectively of the United States Steel Corporation, and Max Bam. It is also stated that no underwriting fees or privileges were exacted.

The American Steel Casting Company of New Jersey is combination in itself. Its authorized capital is $2,750,000 preferred and $1,450,000 common and it has large plants in Thurlow, Sharon and Norristown, Pa., and Alliance, O. The company was formed 10 years ago and has paid regular dividends of 7 per cent a year on the preferred stock since then. On the common 6 per cent a year has been paid since 1898.

For the last 12 months the earnings of the subsidiary companies of the Steel Foundries Company have been at the rate of 8 per cent on the preferred stock and more than 6 per cent on the common stock. The business of all the plants is steadily growing, and it is expected that before the company has been in business a year dividends on the common stock will be warranted. The company will be closely allied with the Atlantic steamship combination, as well as the United States Ship Building Company. It manufactures practically all the big steel castings used in the construction of vessels.

ORDERS FOR CAMP.

Official Plans for Care of Staff Officers at Gettysburg.

A circular letter has just been sent from Harrisburg for the guidance of the staff of the commander-in-chief of the National guard during the encampment at Gettysburg. The officers of the staff will report for duty in camp not later than noon of July 12. Dress uniforms will not be required and the officers will be assigned to quarters by the assistant adjutant general. The general commanding's staff will be assigned to their respective departments upon their arrival.

All mail for the general headquarters should be addressed to the Governor's headquarters, near the High Water Mark, Gettysburg. Upon arrival in camp officers of the governor's staff will be assigned to quarters by Col. E. H. Ripple, assistant adjutant general. This has been done to relieve all congestion of travel by the incoming troops.

Husband Was Sentenced to Two Years for Working the Badger Game.

MISS SANDERS SHOT RIVAL

A. S. Stine Was Acquitted of a Manslaughter Charge, Having Wounded Alfred Champion in Self-Defense—Then Took Him to Hospital.

Lillian Harris was placed on trial in criminal court yesterday afternoon for the larceny of a watch and chain valued at $200, and $15 in cash from Louis Good. The theft was alleged to have been committed in a room on Smithfield street on May 15, the result of working the badger game.

On June 18 the defendant and her husband, Richard Harris, both pleaded guilty of working the badger game, but denied all knowledge of the theft. Judge Evans immediately sentenced Harris to the workhouse for two years. When sentence was pronounced Mrs. Harris fainted in the court room. She was restored and, upon the advice of her attorney, withdrew her plea of guilty and decided to stand trial.

Considerable time was consumed in selecting a jury. No testimony was taken and the case will be continued this morning.

Sanders Woman Sentenced.

Anna Sanders pleaded guilty to a charge of felonious assault and battery and was sentenced to the Western Penitentiary for two years and six months. She was charged with shooting Virgie Richards in the left shoulder in a house in Lemon alley on June 6. Trouble is said to have arisen over the harboring of the defendant's beau by the Richards woman. On the night of the shooting the defendant called upon Virgie and trouble followed, during which the shooting took place.

Ernest Dickson pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery and was sentenced to the workhouse for 15 months. It was alleged that on May 11 he had trouble with Edith Reynolds of No. 4 First avenue and severely beat her.

A. S. Stine was acquitted of a charge of involuntary manslaughter for the shooting of Alfred Champion on April 12 last.

Stine Acted in Self-Defense.

The men became involved in a quarrel over a trunk and some words were had, during which, it was alleged, Champion attacked Stine with a large wrench. Stine drew his revolver and shot him in the left thigh, shattering the thigh bone. Stine brought Champion to Pittsburgh the day after the shooting and was arrested by Inspector William McShane and Captain Charles Gallant. Champion was taken to the Homeopathic hospital, where he died from blood poisoning on May 12.

John Szotowicz was acquitted of a charge of embezzling $224.36 from the St. Michael's Ritters, No. 1, of Pittsburgh. The charge was preferred by John A. Marohn, who alleged the defendant appropriated the money to his own use when treasurer of the lodge.

DENY BANK'S RIGHT.

C. C. Mellor & Co. File a Bill in Equity Against Farmers Deposit National Bank.

C. C. Mellor & Co. yesterday filed a bill in equity against the Farmers Deposit National bank, in common pleas court No. 3, asking that the defendant be restrained from interfering with the property of the plaintiff on Fifth avenue, adjoining the defendant's new business block.

It is stated the defendant has threatened to take a portion of the Mellor property for the purpose of erecting a party wall, and has entered upon the premises for that purpose without authority or right. An injunction is asked to restrain the bank and the contractor from doing this.

Hamilton Sues for Insurance.

Samuel Hamilton, county superintendent of schools, yesterday sued the Great Eastern Casualty & Indemnity Company of New York for $5,000, upon an accident policy. On January 15, 1902, Mr. Hamilton was struck by a train at Braddock and both his feet were cut off. He claims the company has refused to pay him.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Anna M. B. Call of Waynesburg asked that the petition in bankruptcy against her be dismissed, as she has paid all of her debts.

The Fidelity Title & Trust Co. took out letters of administration upon the $40,000 estate of William J. Rush. The heirs are a widow and three children.

Margaret F. Morris wants $3,000 damages from Timothy Griffin. It is said the defendant damaged the plaintiff's property on Oliva street by changing a drain.

Executions were issued as follows: Catherine Hita vs. William H. Rummel et al., $87.60; C. J. & R. Vincent, jr., vs. Ambrose Kane, $102; E. A. Brooks vs. Lindeblatt et al., $723.

The General Electric Company filed a bill vs. Frederick C. Sutter and R. V. Bierau, as the Pittsburgh Transfer Company, alleging an infringement of a patent device.

John Jellbek entered suit against the Rev. H. A. Schauffler of Brookline for $5,000 for alleged slander. It is said the defendant remarked that the plaintiff was on friendly terms with Anna Rolesar. A capias was issued for the defendant.

Judge Harrington ordered E. O. Kemmer, trustee in the bankruptcy case of Gerringer & Weiler of Wilkinsburg, to show cause why he should not be held in contempt for refusing to pay Mabel Weiler $1,204 80. A hearing will be held July 15.

By agreement of counsel, an opinion was handed down in common pleas court No. 3, refusing an injunction in the case of William B. Neal and others against the Steel Mining Company and others. It was asked that the defendants be restrained from disposing of land in Jasper county, Mo., and that a receiver be named for the concern.

News of the Rivers.

Capt. R. W. Wise is entertaining his brother, John Wise, of St. Louis, for a few days.

The only boat that ever had but two letters in her name was the Jo, built here in 1829.

An effort is being made to put locks in Bayou Lafourche. This would give steamboats water to run in all the year round.

The towboat Gleaner will go to New Orleans for C. Juttz & Co. in the event of there being coalboat water in the near future.

Capt. James Koger, of the St. Louis & Tennessee river line, visited Howard's to look after the building of his two new boats. One will be finished soon.

The rise in the river may enable the towboats Exporter, Joseph B. Williams, Harry Brown, Enterprise, Cruiser and John A. Wood to come into port from below.

The lower guide wall at Davis Island dam, which is being built of concrete, will be finished August 1. The work on the upper wall will be rushed along while good weather lasts.

Theodore Poe, the weather prophet of the Pittsburgh & Cincinnati Packet line, says that if Wednesday night's rain does not produce a shipping stage there is no use of it raining.

The Beaumont Oil King says: "Coal must go. Oil is fast taking the place of coal as fuel in the south on steamboats, ships and railroads." At Pittsburgh rivermen are waiting for it to go—south.

The steamer Liberty, in charge of Capt. E. M. Dewly, has arrived at Evansville from Wheeling and will enter the Green river trade. She will make trips between Morgantown and upper Green river points.

A texas cabin will be built on the steamer Elizabeth just as soon as the carpenters get through with the Gleaner. The Elizabeth yesterday took out of Pittsburgh the best trip of freight she has yet carried.

The steamer Queen City is at Wheeling, and if there is assurance of good water, Capt. James A. Henderson will order the boat here to leave Saturday. Capt. Henderson was not enthusiastic over conditions last night.

Johnston Bros., owners of the towboat C. J. Reynolds, have had several offers lately to charter the boat, but are not satisfied with them. The owners are considering the advisability of going into the railroad business.

The towboat Oakland, which has been aground for a month at the Trap at Sewickley, will be floated, it is thought, on this rise. The boat will come to Pittsburgh to receive a new set of boilers and it will be 30 days before she is ready to navigate.

The bill authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Monongahela river from Homestead to Elizabeth has passed in the senate. The building of it will not be objected to by the rivermen, provided it meets with the requirements of navigation.

S. W. Carpenter, the diver, expects to leave for Cincinnati in a few days. He goes there for the purpose of buying the steamer Bellevue, if he can make terms with the owner. He wants a boat for light towing and is of the opinion that the Bellevue is about what he needs.

BARGE WATER FAILS.

Eight-Foot Stage Predicted by Weather Bureau Will Not Come.

Late river reports received yesterday put a damper on hopes for the barge stage of water predicted by the weather bureau, and the rivermen say the weather officials made a bad mess of it. Yesterday the bureau sent out reports that there would be 8 feet or over, of water at the Davis Island dam; it is doubtful if there will be enough of a rise to permit the shipment of 5-foot barges of coal.

If a light barge stage develops the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company will send from 50 to 75 barges. Just where the rain which fell went to is a mystery. It was much lighter rainfall of June 25, 1890, when a boat as heavy rain fell, so the gauge the rivermen, who ordered steam on their boats when there was only a 4.1 foot stage of water at the Davis Island dam, but the river did not rise an inch and kept on falling. The Ohio, however, did better than this yesterday, and rose over one foot.

The total rainfall at 13 weather stations in both valleys on June 25, 1890, totaled 12.66 inches, against 14.87 inches reported yesterday. Just where this water went to is a mystery, as the precipitation amounted to over an inch at each station reporting. Less rain than this fell one week ago and caused more of a rise than Wednesday's rains did.

WILL INSIST ON A FERRY.

South Side People Want Means to Transfer While Bridge Is Down.

South Side people are urging the finance committee of Pittsburgh councils to report out a resolution providing for a ferryboat to ply across the Monongahela river at or near the site of the old Tenth Street bridge. This resolution was offered several weeks ago by Councilman Joseph G. Armstrong, and by its terms it directed the director of public works and the city recorder to hire a steamboat to transport people across the river.

The argument used by Councilman Armstrong and his friends is that because the bridge has been torn down there ought to be some means for the South Side people who are employed in the East End, Hazelwood, Glenwood, etc., to get across the river without coming down to Smithfield street and crossing the bridge there.

The finance committee is deterred by the question of expense, but it is probable that such a demonstration will be made by the South Side delegation in councils that the committee will be compelled to do something.

STONE REFUSES TO DISCUSS LOCAL POLITICAL AFFAIRS

Claims That He Is Not Responsible for Changes Made in Allegheny.

MURPHY'S OWN ACTIONS

Governor Says He Has Been Invited to Pittsburgh July 4 and Will Take Part in Exercises—Sees Victory in Coming Election.

"I do not know anything about local politics except what I read in the newspapers. I do not care to and will not discuss any local politics." These were the answers of Gov. William A. Stone to queries made last night as to his view of the Allegheny county political situation.

Gov. Stone slipped into Pittsburgh very quietly last evening. He left Harrisburg in the afternoon and arrived at the East Liberty station at 7.15 p. m. He was met at the station by his son, Stephen Stone, and escorted to the latter's home at No. 5544 Baywood street, East End.

After dinner Governor Stone and his son went for a drive and returned about 10 o'clock. The governor appeared to be in a very affable mood and said, when a party of newspaper reporters approached him, that he thought he had got into town undiscovered. He will remain in Pittsburgh until Saturday evening, when he leaves for Harrisburg.

It is the governor's intention to return to Pittsburgh next Thursday night, and to ride in the parade of the Fourth of July demonstration next Friday.

"Will there be any more changes in the Allegheny city government?" was asked his excellency.

"No; none that I know of," he replied.

Denied Responsibility.

"I did not know of the recent changes until after they had been made. Every change in local politics is attributed to me. I tell you I did not have a hand in the Allegheny changes and did not know Director McAfee had been removed and the resignation of Market Clerk Francies had been asked for until I read it in the newspapers. Recorder Murphy is responsible."

"What do you think of the Citizens movement in Allegheny county, governor?"

"I don't know anything about it, and am not particularly anxious to know about it. As I told you before, I refuse to discuss local politics."

"Will you take the stump during the coming campaign?"

"Yes; I believe I will. I may make a few speeches in different parts of the state."

"Will you speak in Pittsburgh?"

"I don't know."

"Has the Republican state committee made any plans for the coming campaign?"

"I don't know."

"Will Attorney General Elkin take the stump?"

"Yes; he has already arranged to do so."

"Do you expect a visit from Senator Quay next week to talk over the coming campaign?"

"Yes, I believe the senator will arrive in Harrisburg about the middle of the week, when I expect to have a long conference with him. He is very busy in Washington now and I suppose he will just drop off to see me en route to his fishing quarters."

"Governor, is the story true that has been in circulation that Senator Quay will ask Senator Penrose to step aside and allow John P. Elkin to be the candidate for United States senator?"

"What will be the issues in this fall's campaign, governor?"

"Well, the battle this fall will be fought out on party principles. There will be no special issues that I know of. It will be Democrats against Republicans in a finish fight."

"Will the state fight be fought out on national lines?"

"No, cannot say that it will. The Republican party has practically been in power since 1896. Its government has been a wise one. The business men of the United States have unlimited confidence in the party principles and they do not want a change."

"Governor, what do you think of the Democratic state ticket?"

"It is unquestionably a strong one. It is the best that could possibly have been got together from the Democrats of Pennsylvania. Gov. Pattison is an exceptionally strong candidate and so is George W. Guthrie."

"Do you believe Mr. Guthrie will get a great many Republican votes in Allegheny county?"

Second Place Doesn't Count.

"I am sure I cannot answer as to that. Mr. Guthrie, I understand, has quite a following here and undoubtedly he will get a number of Republican votes. But that does not count. Mr. Guthrie's office is only a complimentary one. It is the head of the ticket that counts."

"Which ticket will win at the coming election?"

"The Republican ticket, of course. Judge Pennypacker and ex-State Senator Brown are far stronger than the Democratic nominees and they will have no trouble in securing an overwhelming victory."

"Do you think ex-Gov. Pattison's part played in the Homestead strike in ordering out the troops to quell disturbances 10 years ago will have any effect on his candidacy?"

"That I cannot tell. I see the newspapers today say the labor organizations, especially in this section, will refuse to support him. I do not think that statement has much weight, for it is unofficial. As I told you before, ex-Gov. Pattison is a hard man to defeat. He has demonstrated that fact thoroughly. There is one certainty. If ex-Gov. Pattison is successful in the coming campaign he will be the next Democratic candidate for the presidency."

RESULT OF THE EXAMINATIONS IS MADE KNOWN

OVER 1,000 IN PITTSBURGH

Twentieth Ward Is the Banner One of All and Nineteenth Ward Produces the Prodigies—Appeals of the Failures to Be Heard Monday.

The board of examiners, which has been passing upon the papers of public school children who are applying for admission to the Pittsburgh High schools from the ward schools completed its work last night. There was a large class of candidates, and for the first time in 10 years each of the 39 sub-districts in the city sent up a delegation for examination. Altogether there were 1,151 pupils on examination. Of these 1,065 passed, 81 failed, 14 are entitled to re-examination by reason of having failed in only one study, while still making the required average, and eight did not complete the examination.

Many of the schools passed all the candidates sent up, the big Liberty sub-district, Twentieth ward, carrying off the honors in this respect. This school sent up 109 pupils, and all went through. The Hiland sub-district, Nineteenth ward, has 60 successful candidates, neither of them is yet 12 years of age.

Latest News of Society and Gossip of the Home.

THE chief social event of yesterday was the lawn party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Warren Card, Penn avenue, Homewood, which was given by their little daughter, Miss Ruth Card, assisted by Louise McCutcheon, Elizabeth Woodwell, Harriet Moore, Elizabeth Holmes, Jane Lazear, Ruth Phelps, Alice Orr and a few other friends of the little hostess.

The entertainment was promoted by these very young ladies for the benefit of the vacation schools and the summer playground fund, and eventually they enlisted not only all their young friends, but their parents and the friends of their parents also. Consequently the affair was attended by both young and old in large numbers, who contributed liberally to the cause at the various booths.

The beautiful grounds and broad porches surrounding the Card home were crowded with children and grown-up people all afternoon, and the amusements arranged for the entertainment of the children furnished much pleasure, apparently, to their elders. In addition to the usual fancy work, candy and ice cream booths, there were a number of interesting features in the donkey carts, ponies and automobiles for those who wished to ride, and several large "Jack Horner" pies, filled with prizes, for those who were of a speculative mind. Ices and other refreshments were served on the lawn, and all were liberally patronized.

In the evening Mrs. Card entertained the older people and a supper was served on the piazzas at small tables. In this she was assisted by Mrs. D. A. Moore, Mr. Card's sister, who has recently returned from an extended visit in California; Mrs. Rock, Mrs. Helen Rook Carroll, Mrs. Wilcox, Mrs. Thomas M. Armstrong, Mrs. Frank Moore, Mrs. Jesse Lazear, Mrs. William Erastus McKelvy, Mrs. Charles L. Woolrich and a few others.

Coursin—Larimer.

Miss Augusta Louise Coursin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Henry Coursin of Coursin Station, above McKeesport, and William Gray Larimer of Braddock, were married yesterday morning at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in the presence of the family and a few intimate friends. The service was performed by the Rev. Edwin M. Bowman, pastor of the Calvary Presbyterian church, Braddock. The bride wore a modish gown of white satin and carried bride's roses. She was attended by one bridesmaid, Miss Sarah Coursin, a younger sister, who wore white and carried pink roses. Eugene Pierce of Hawkins was the best man. Mr. and Mrs. Larimer left almost immediately after the ceremony for New York, and on Saturday they will sail on the Umbria for Liverpool.

The families of the bride and groom are widely known in society circles throughout the Monongahela and Turtle Creek valleys. The bride has been the instructor of physical culture in the Braddock, Swissvale, Oakmont and Turtle Creek schools for several years, and is a graduate of the Moravian seminary at Schlehem, Pa. She has also been prominently identified with church work in McKeesport. The groom is connected with the Westinghouse company, and is sent from the mechanical department of the Westinghouse Machine Company's plant at East Pittsburgh, to take a position with the British Westinghouse Company at Manchester, Eng., where he will make his home in future.

A Japanese Tea.

Miss Sarah Hillman of Shady avenue, East End, carried out a novel and unique idea yesterday afternoon in giving a tea of the real Japanese order at 4 o'clock, in honor of Miss Nellie Rowe of Titusville, inasmuch as each one of the 40 guests, as she arrived, was quickly attired in a "kimona," the Japanese house dress, and her hair was rearranged after the manner of the women of Japan. Miss Hillman was the founder of Bucknell university, at Lewisburg, Pa. Miss Bucknell made her debut several seasons ago after completing her education abroad. Dr. Judd is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. They are both very prominent in Philadelphia society circles and have an extended acquaintance throughout the state.

Mrs. Blair's Card Party.

A card party was given last night at the home of Mrs. H. L. Howard Blair of Bank street, Sewickley, by Miss Jane Blair, in honor of her house guests who have been extensively entertained in the valley during the last week. The game was six-hand euchre and 14 tables were used. One hundred guests were present from the East End and the valley. The house decorations were daisies and palms, the handsome porches being decorated as well.

Lawn Fete Postponed.

Owing to the rainstorm of Wednesday the parish of the Sacred Heart Catholic church, Emsworth, was obliged to postpone its lawn fete. Father Theophilus Meyer, C. S. Sp., pastor of the church, announces that it will now be held on Tuesday, July 1, from noon until late in the evening. It will be held, as originally intended, on the lawn near the Emsworth school. In case of rain then, the Odd Fellows' hall has been secured.

NOTES OF SOCIETY.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Simpson, of Ivy street, East End, have returned from Atlantic City, after a visit of several weeks.

Mrs. Wilson H. Campbell of Trenton avenue, Wilkinsburg, entertained at luncheon yesterday in honor of her guest, Mrs. Samuel P. Smith, of Altoona.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stewart and family left for York Harbor, Me., on Monday. They have taken a cottage there for the summer and will probably not return before October.

Miss Lulu Mary Utts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mitford S. Utts, was married last evening at 8 o'clock to William Charles Walters in the East End Presbyterian church, Wilkinsburg.

The invitations were issued yesterday for the garden party to be given by Mrs. Thaw at "Lyndhurst" next Wednesday afternoon in honor of the visiting members of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

A small 4 o'clock tea was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Louis Whitney at her home in Grant street, Sewickley, in honor of Mrs. John T. R. Bowen, who recently moved to the valley from Chicago. Tea was served on the lawn. Mrs. Whitney was unassisted.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Donnell, of Sharpsburg, entertained some 250 friends and relatives on Wednesday evening at their home at Eighth and Main streets, to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. They were married in Scotland and came to this country in 1851.

Miss Agnes Fulton Greer, daughter of W. P. Greer, of No. 429 Dennison avenue, East End, will sail on Saturday from New York on the Bohemian for an extensive trip through Europe with Mrs. Kraft of Brooklyn. They expect to visit England, France, Germany, Italy and Spain entirely for pleasure and they will probably not return until late in the fall.

Mrs. Frank C. Gerlach, who commanded Company F, Eighth regiment, O. N. G., in Cuba, with distinction, and recently elected major of the Third battalion of the regiment, was married last evening at Wooster, O., to Miss Florence M. McClarran, at the home of the bride, in the presence of a few friends and relatives.

The wedding of Miss Helen Cordelia Heasley and Thomas Ford of Allegheny took place last evening at 6 o'clock at the residence of the bride, No. 4 Meade street, in the presence of a few relatives and friends. The service was read by N. S. Lossard of Rochester. Mrs J. C. Umstead, a sister of the bride, was the matron of honor, and James Ford, a brother of the groom, was best man.

In Everybody's Pocket

there's a hole—a large one—right at the top, through which money slips very easily. It's a poor place to deposit your earnings if you want to keep anything. Better open a savings account with the Pennsylvania Trust Company of Pittsburgh, 410 Smithfield street, where your money will be safe and earn 4 per cent compound interest.

A Double Wedding.

A pretty dual wedding of last evening occurred at the home of Burgess and Mrs. F. C. Duerr of Freedom, Pa., when their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, was married to George B. Brubaker, of Canonsburg, and another daughter, Lillian E., to William P. Shriver of New Castle. The ceremonies were performed by the Rev. J. K. Howe of the Methodist Episcopal church of Freedom in the presence of a large gathering. The bride were gowned alike in white mousseline and carried shower bouquets of white roses. After a wedding trip to the west, via the great lakes, Mr. and Mrs. Shriver will make their home in New Castle. Mr. and Mrs. Brubaker will spend their honeymoon at Atlantic City and later will reside at Canonsburg.

A Philadelphia Engagement.

The engagement of Miss Gertrude Bucknell and Dr. C. Hollister Judd of Philadelphia, has been announced, and the wedding is to take place at Mrs. Bucknell's Adirondack home, Pine Point lodge, July 31. Miss Bucknell is the daughter of Mrs. William Bucknell and her father was the founder of Bucknell university, at Lewisburg, Pa. Miss Bucknell made her debut several seasons ago after completing her education abroad. Dr. Judd is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. They are both very prominent in Philadelphia society circles and have an extended acquaintance throughout the state.

THE DUCHESSE WAIST.

It is claimed that the Duchess of Marlborough has ordered from her American house of supply several waists in various colored embroidered materials made like this picture. The New York house that produced them has named them the Duchess waist. The richly embroidered collar, the artistic blouse front, the tucked gulmpe and the neatly corded sleeves are certainly simple and tasteful.

LIBERTY'S GREAT CLASS.

Banner High School Class of the City Holds Commencement Exercises of Its Own.

The closing exercises of the High school class of the schools of Liberty subdistrict were held last night in the Friendship school house. The class is the largest in the history of the Twentieth ward, containing 109 pupils, and everyone passed the High school examination. The honor member of the class is John G. Buchanan, the smallest and youngest pupil in it.

The exercises opened with prayer by the Rev. R. I. McKee and during the evening the Rev. L. W. Mason and the Rev. D. H. Geissinger delivered addresses. The class sang several choruses, and in the "Star-Spangled Banner" Sadie Price sang the verses and the class the refrain. The following pupils took part in the exercises, giving either an original reading or declamation:

Helen Radcliffe, Edna Simpson, Elizabeth Jackson, Templeton Smith, Mary Miller, Henry Bowen, Edna Probst, Theresa Worrell, Blanche Smith, Justine Wade, Lola Cunningham, James Sprague, Mary Kimball, Perry Warwick, Bessie Geddis, Edna Bartley, Norman Brown, Elizabeth McCracken, Grace McConnel, Marjorie Thompson, Elsa Carnegie, Ralph Disque, Margaret Miller, Margaret Geissinger, Irene Thompson, Hollie Reed, Nova Michael, Martha Bell, Robert Showalter.

Lucretia Singer, Mabel Rigdon and Pauline Diamondstone played piano solos, and Morris Goldsmith gave a violin solo, which was so well received that he was obliged to respond to an encore. The farewell address on behalf of the class was made by John G. Buchanan.

At the conclusion of the exercises J. A. Reed, secretary of the board, read out the names of the winners of the Kirk LeMoyne $5 gold pieces for improvement in penmanship—Perry R. Warwick and Margaret M. Gray.

Tonight the closing exercises and annual jubilee of the Liberty school subdistrict will be held on the lawn at the Liberty school house on Ellsworth avenue. The lawn will be illuminated with Japanese lanterns and on a platform the pupils of the schools will give a program of songs and recitations. Two more of the LeMoyne prizes and six prizes of $5 each from the school board will be awarded.

RAMSEY HERE AGAIN.

President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash railroad, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday, on his way from New York to St. Louis. Mr. Ramsey at once went into consultation with Chief Engineer J. W. Patterson, and nearly all of his time, until he leaves tonight, will be taken up with Engineer Patterson, and the plans he has prepared.

Plans for the passenger station at Liberty and Ferry streets are still in St. Louis, and as yet President Ramsey has not had sufficient time to consider them. He will endeavor to take the necessary time as soon as he reaches his home office.

There are numerous other plans and matters in connection with the road and its entrance into Pittsburgh, besides the station plans, that Mr. Ramsey has to consider, and many of these are in the hands of Mr. Patterson.

All of the contracts for work on this end of the line have been let, and the work is progressing nicely, to the satisfaction of both Mr. Patterson and the contractors.

Mr. Ramsey, if time can be found today, may look at the progress of work on Mt. Washington and Greentree tunnels, but it will be more a matter of curiosity than a necessity for him to do so. It is reported that there are some pieces of property in the neighborhood of the new depot that are yet to be purchased.

NEW RUMP COMMITTEE.

A Meeting Called for Today to Consider Ordinances for Park Improvements.

President John S. Lambie's rump committee on parks is expected to organize at 3 o'clock this afternoon. This is a new committee, the members having been appointed after the last special meeting of the upper branch of councils. President Lambie excuses this action on the ground that the old committee would not meet. The members of the old rump committee were reform councilmen, and they did not meet and organize the committee for the reason that they knew it was illegal.

The members of the new committee are machine men, and can be depended upon to meet or do anything else wanted by the combine. The immediate business which the committee has before it is the ordinances authorizing the expenditure of about $125,000 for park improvements. Director J. Guy McCandless is very anxious that the ordinances be passed, as he wants to give the parks the improvements they need.

The rump committee on finance is also expected to hold a meeting today. This committee has been a brilliant success. Its success has not consisted in reporting out ordinances, but in tying them up. The committee has a great deal of business before it today.

The joint committee on surveys is called to meet today, and the rump committee on surveys is also billed for a meeting. Several sub-committees are also called.

It is not likely that the salary revision committee or the "yellow book" committee will have any meetings until after July 4. Both committees have adjourned to meet at the call of the chair.

NEW LEADING LADY.

Miss Eva Taylor Will Come from Boston to the Grand Opera House.

A dispatch from Boston says that Miss Eva Taylor of the Castle Square theater stock company there announced last night that she had concluded a contract to become the leading lady of the Pittsburgh Grand Opera house stock company. She says the contract was signed some days ago.

The necessity of obtaining a new leading woman for the Grand Opera house company arose from the fact that Miss Sarah Truax will star next season in J. I. C. Clarke's play "Lady Godiva," which has been performed at the Grand. More than a month ago the stage manager of the house, J. C. Huffman, went to Philadelphia, New York and Boston in search of an actress to take Miss Truax's place.

Lizzie Hudson Collier, who was popular as leading lady several seasons, was mentioned in connection with the place, but it is believed that she had already signed contracts which put her out of the running. It was said that Henrietta Crosman had been approached on the subject.

Miss Truax will leave with the best wishes of the Pittsburgh public for her success. She is extremely popular with Pittsburgh's theater-going public, and, in the estimation of competent critics, the play of "Lady Godiva," when shaped according to the ideas of the author and theatrical managers, with a view to making it more effective and eliminating dragging portions, will be a vehicle through which Miss Truax ought to gain fame and fortune.

DORMAN TO THE PEN.

Murderer and Burglar Who Turned State's Evidence Goes Behind the Bars Forever Today.

Walter Dorman, the murderer and burglar, will be taken from the Allegheny county jail this afternoon to the Western penitentiary, where he will spend the rest of his life.

Dorman will be taken to the penitentiary by Deputy Sheriff James Haggerty. He will be handcuffed to the officer and taken to the Woods Run institution in a street car. This will be the last time that he will see the light of day outside of the penal institution. It is said that Dorman will be given out-door work to do, as his health is greatly impaired by reason of his confinement in the Allegheny county jail. Dorman fears the contempt that will be shown him by the other inmates because of his having saved his neck by turning state's evidence against partners in crime, the Biddles.

SCHWAB IN CHICAGO.

Will Not at Present Indicate His Choice of Site for the Proposed $5,000,000 Tube Works.

CHICAGO, June 26.—(Special.)—President Charles M. Schwab and 17 heads of departments of the United States Steel Corporation, have inspected proposed sites at both Chicago and Lorain for the erection of a $5,000,000 tube works. While President Schwab would not indicate any preference for a location, it is understood that the two towns mentioned and McKeesport are the only ones considered so far. The party looked over the plants at Joliet this afternoon and Mr. Schwab said extensive improvements would be made there, but of what nature he was not prepared to say.

The tour is being made in a luxurious private car costing $50,000.

CARLSBAD SPRINGS

acknowledged by the medical faculty to be the best and most effective specific for all ailments of the liver, catarrhal affections of the stomach, bile, bile pigment, gallstones, temporary and habitual constipation, etc.

The Carlsbad Sprudel Salt is obtained by evaporation from the waters of the Springs of Carlsbad and contains the same curative properties that made the spring famous.

OATMEAL MUSH AND DIABETES.

Dr. Pavy of England has shown that diabetes is due to an imperfect digestion of starch and its absorbtion in the blood. It is impossible for the stomach to digest cereal foods taken in the form of mush, in which the starch is less than half cooked. This is one of the reasons why diabetes is becoming so common in this country and British Islands. French physicians long ago discovered that toasted bread or dextrinized starch is an excellent remedy in diabetes. The best dextrinized food, however, is known to be Toasted Wheat Flakes, sweetened with Malt Honey, made by the Battle Creek Sanitarium Food Co. These flakes are thin, thoroughly cooked and browned. They are very appetizing, partly pre-digested and quickly assimilable.

ANTHRACITE MEN TIRE OF STRIKE AND SEEK WORK

OTHERS MAKING CLAIMS

President Mitchell Confers With Leaders from Michigan and Ohio Latter Said to Oppose Strike in Bituminous Field.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 26.—The officials of the several large coal companies in this region are authority for the statement that men are applying to them daily for employment of any kind. Among the applicants are nearly all classes of workers, including miners, and it is said that nearly all the companies have more men to draw on than they can possibly need during the progress of the strike.

The majority of the companies that are compelled to pump water from their mines are working their engines and other machinery full handed, according to statements made by the superintendents, but some of the men are not as capable as those on strike. The most capable of those that are now applying for work are taken on, while the others are placed on the waiting list.

"Most of the men applying to us for work are members of the union," said one superintendent today. "They come to our offices daily and beg for something to do, saying they are tired of the idleness. We hear from these men that some of the strikers are practically out of funds, and rather than ask relief they would prefer to return to work, but hesitate to do so for fear they will be harmed or their families will be boycotted and otherwise annoyed.

Pumps Are Working.

"Our engines and pumps are running as satisfactorily as can be expected under the circumstances, and I think the same is true of other companies. There is no fear of squeezee at this time as a result of the scarcity of timbermen. This work is looked after by our foremen and fire bosses, all of whom understand the work."

At Hazleton, A. Pardee & Co., announce that some of their striking employes, formerly pump runners have asked to be taken back at the Cranberry colliery. Mr. Pardee declines to give the exact number. One striking engineer and two firemen are said to have applied for reinstatement at the Drifton colliery of Coxe Brothers & Co.

The Michigan delegation of miners and operators' representatives concluded their conferences with Mitchell today without coming to an agreement. They left for the west. The Michigan miners have been on strike since April 1, because they cannot come to an agreement with their employers on a new wage scale.

Radical Steps Not Expected.

District President Williams of Michigan said today he was inclined to think that the special national convention at Indianapolis next month will not take a radical step. He says that Michigan will do whatever President Mitchell thinks is best for the organization, and he felt sure the other states would do the same thing. As far as he knows all the soft coal miners want to give the anthracite workers all the help they can.

President Haskins, Vice President Sullivan and Secretary Savage of the Ohio miners, who came east to hold a conference with their chief, spent the day in Scranton and returned here tonight. They will also visit the other anthracite districts. The Buckeye state miners continue their silence as to the nature of their visit, beyond the statement that they are in this field merely to look over the situation. There is a persistent rumor here that the Ohio miners will consent to any attempt to curtail or entirely stop the production of coal in their state.

Thomas Barthwick, an engineer of the Pennsylvania Coal Company, who brought suits in the Lackawanna county courts at Scranton yesterday, against four men alleged to have publicly ridiculed him and contrived to injure his good name by charging him in effigy because he would not strike, began suits against seven men in the Luzerne county court here today. He asks for $1,000 damages from each. The alleged affair took place at the county line.

MITCHELL'S STOP ORDER.

If One Was Sent to Pittsburg District It Is Being Ignored.

If President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers has issued an order to the miners of the Pittsburgh district to curtail soft coal production it has been ignored, for all the mines are working.

The order Mitchell sent to the miners of the Central Pennsylvania district has not been obeyed, according to reports. President Patrick Dolan of the Pittsburgh district refused yesterday to say whether he had received a similar order.

NEW GARBAGE IDEA.

Suggestion to Be Made at a Meeting Tonight That the Collecting Be Done at Night.

At a meeting of the Pittsburgh councils committee on health and sanitation, to be held this evening, the idea of having garbage collections made during the night will be presented in the report of sub-committee appointed some time ago, of which Christ. F. Eckert, jr., is chairman. The committee has conferred the matter with Director A. H. Lesley of the department of public safety, and Supt. A. J. Pitcairn of the bureau of health.

The sub-committee suggested to Director Leslie the drafting of an ordinance which would require the collection of garbage at night, and which would also require householders to leave garbage to contact with only from the street. Director Leslie demurred, saying he would like to learn first what the custom is in other cities. It was evident that Director Leslie did not want to break a precedent.

The consent of the Pittsburgh Reduction Company will be required before the hours for collection of the garbage can be changed. The contract this company now has requires that garbage be collected in the day time. The contract expires, however, on July 1, 1902, and in view of the fact that the Pittsburgh Reduction Company wants the contract for another term of years, it may feel disposed to agree to anything within reason that councils might ask.

Under the new garbage contract ordinance, which is now in the hands of the committee on finance, there will be a number of bidders. The contract will not be awarded, however, until after the passage of the annual appropriation ordinance in February, as it is contrary to the new charter to award a contract for which the money has not been appropriated.

"The Bath," a beautiful picture ready for framing, and "Mary's Goat," a unique cut-out booklet for children, will be the two supplements of next Sunday's Gazette.

THE increase yesterday in Gazette Want Columns over the corresponding day last year was 103%. The next highest among the other local morning papers was 11%. This shows how advertisers measure their value.

MIXED OPINION ON THE DEFENSE OF BOND SCHEME

$80,000,000 STOCK DEAL

Sold That Value of Preferred Shares to Themselves at 94—Dividends Almost Absolutely Assured for a Long Time Ahead.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 26.—Wall street opinion on the statements submitted yesterday in behalf of the United States Steel Corporation in appeal proceedings, defending the conversion scheme against which a New Jersey injunction now lies, is rather badly mixed. It is felt by friends of the combine that the statements contained in appellant counsel's argument put a somewhat different light upon the underwriting contract.

The chances the underwriting syndicate is represented as having undertaken seem to make $10,000,000 commission a pretty reasonable sum to be paid for the guaranteeing of the financial success of the $250,000,000 issue. But, on the other hand, it was strongly suspected that those chances were mainly "paper" chances. It is represented by counsel that "if the preferred stockholders of the United States Steel Corporation declined to retire their stock, the bankers would be compelled to purchase $10,000,000 of preferred stock, which would undoubtedly greatly raise the market value thereof, and to cover this risk $80,000,000 of preferred stock was purchased and deposited by the syndicate, and at that time the market value of the preferred stock was 94 per cent of par." The suggestion here undoubtedly is that in order to prevent a miscarriage of its guarantee the members of the underwriting syndicate bought $80,000,000 worth of United States Steel preferred in the open market and paid for it.

Sold Stock to Themselves.

There has been nothing in the stock market to indicate that the accumulation of such an amount of stock was in progress. If, indeed, the syndicate purchased the stock in the open market at an average of 94, it is certainly a remarkable circumstance that the United States Steel preferred should have so persistently declined from around 94 to the extreme low price of 87½ since this conversion scheme was first broached. In a word, it is regarded in Wall street as extremely improbable that the underwriting syndicate has been a purchaser of any considerable amount of United States Steel preferred in the open market. It is very generally believed that the members of this syndicate, who, by the way, are also members of the original United States Steel underwriting syndicate, and who are or have been very heavy holders of the stock, pooled between them $80,000,000 worth of their own United States Steel preferred and then sold it to themselves at a valuation of 94.

This, of course, has nothing to do with the merits of the case. There is no law or any moral code that forbids a man to sell himself what he already owns. Taking something from one pocket and putting it into another, perhaps, never before was done on such a magnificent scale as this; but it is an ancient and honorable financial process.

Sure of Dividends.

Your correspondent is able to present the views of a gentleman who has been closely familiar with the financial affairs of the United States Steel Corporation from the inception of the combine. He says he has made a close study of the whole business, and is firmly persuaded, on his own account, that the dividends on United States Steel preferred are absolutely sure for as long a period of time as the ordinary investor cares to look ahead, and that dividends on the common stock are sure, except in such periods of industrial depression as cannot now be foreseen. He says that when the United States Steel Corporation cannot pay dividends on the preferred stock, conditions will be such that the Pennsylvania railroad and others of its class will be hustling desperately for freight enough to pay expenses.

Our authority is partial to the view that the proposed conversion of $200,000,000 worth of preferred stock into bonds is a means for greatly reducing the enormous capitalization of United States Steel Corporation. The bonds, be it remembered, are to be automatically redeemed out of a sinking fund within 40 years. The maintenance of the sinking fund for this purpose is made an absolute obligation. The ultimate result of the bond issue will be to reduce the capitalization of the United States Steel Corporation by $200,000,000.

College Professors Answered.

To the objection that it is unsound finance to substitute the fixed charges of a bond issue for the passable dividends of preferred stock, this gentleman submits that the consequences of passing the preferred stock dividends would be morally and actually as disastrous as the forfeiture of interest on the bonds. This observation he makes for the benefit of certain college professors and editors who have sought to impress upon the public mind the fact that the bond issue as proposed would increase the fixed charges of the combine.

The gentleman whose words are paraphrased here, admits that it is impossible to avoid the conclusion that the underwriting syndicate simply bought $80,000,000 of the preferred stock already owned by its members, but this he dismisses as a technical matter only. He points out that the prosperity of the United States Steel Corporation cannot be disentangled from that of the railroads. The United States Steel Corporation is today the largest patron of the railroad systems, and when its incoming and outgoing freight begins to fall off, the earnings of the railroads infallibly will show it.

Wire Nail Mills Won't Be Idle.

The demand for wire nails is becoming less pronounced, a common occurrence at this time of the year. A manufacturer said today:

"When the demand for wire nails begins to show any material falling off, we will devote our wire nail mills to the production of classes of steel for which there is a better market. Other companies will do the same in this respect. None of the departments of steel mills will get much rest during the next 12 or 18 months."

E. W. HARDEN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, shows: Available cash balance, $264,808,718; gold, $140,751,285; silver, $24,133,018; United States notes, $10,199,269; treasury notes of 1890 $128,884; national bank notes, $8,347,870; total receipts this day $2,691,868; total receipts this month, $41,525,503; total receipts this year, $355,253,222; total expenditures this day, $599,000; total expenditures this month, $31,500,000; total expenditures this year, $408,630,197; deposits in national banks, $126,850,332.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 26.—An Oregon correspondent writes that the Yellow Daisy, in Red District, has been sold for $20,000. The group has ten distinct ledges, several of which present the finest tunnel proposition in the district. Work has begun on the North Pole extension, which was acquired recently by Salt Lake and Philadelphia persons, and the season's development has begun on the Belcher, near Alamo. Assays from the new chute in Granite mountain, adjoining the California, average over $32 gold.

The Philadelphia Chloride, Ariz., is nearing completion and will be blown in early in July. A prospector has opened a fine vein of copper ore three miles from the Needles.

Late advices from Dawson note a stampede to Scroggy creek, a tributary of the Lower Stewart. Fully 200 claims already have been staked. On Sixty Pup, where development has been made to bed rock, the pay streak is from two to four feet thick, and the gravel runs from 3 cents to $1 a pan. Gold also has been struck at the mouth of the Mariposa. Some of the dirt panned up to $10.

Leadville is gradually getting back to its old rate of production. Number of mines whose output was carried last winter now are shipping to their full capacity. At the low tide of production, only 15,000 to 1,000 tons were shipped daily; now the output is 2,000 tons a day, with indications for further improvement during the season.

A syndicate of 25 union printers of Denver has bought a group of claims in Santa Fe mountain, Clear Creek county, Col., and is pushing development with great vigor.

The old Liverpool and Washington mine at Lump district, Mono, which has produced upward of $600,000 in high grade silver and lead ore, is to be again re-opened on a big scale. The company has been reorganized and new capital brought in. Illinois men are the leading officials.

A dispatch from Ketchum, Ida., says recent rich discoveries in Stanley basin have caused excitement in mining circles, and that negotiations on several valuable claims are afoot.

Colorado capitalists have secured a bond on the Daisy group at Black Lake, in the Seven Devils district, Ida. The group is an extension of the Summit ledge, which has been traced for 2,000 feet. The bond is for $45,000.

In the Parnell group at Bingham, Utah, belonging to the Highland Boy Consolidated Company, a fine body of ore carrying $100 gold to the ton has been encountered between the 700 and 800-foot levels.

The Metal Market.

The day was observed as a holiday in the London metal market. The New York market for tin was easy in tone, but not quotably changed, with spot standing at 28¼@28½c. There was a sale of 5 tons for July delivery at 27.67½c. Copper was also easy. A sale of 250,000 pounds electrolytic for August delivery was made at 12¼c. Closing prices were 11.90c@11.85c for casting, spot to August, 12.00@12.25c for Lake, 11.90@12.10c for electrolytic and 11.85@12.00c for casting. Lead was steady at 4½c. Spelter was a shade higher, closing at 5c for prime Western. Dullness Continues in Wall Street Market

ST. PAUL STOCKS THE SUSTAINING MARKET FACTOR

There Was Also Considerable Activity in Missouri Pacific and Amalgamated.

ANXIETY FELT FOR TODAY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 26.—Today's market was still duller than that of yesterday, and except for the large dealings in St. Paul and the considerable activity in Missouri Pacific and Amalgamated there was almost nothing worthy of note. The approach of the month's end, which is also the end of the fiscal year for many corporations, and the extra requirements upon the money market incident to the period, were undoubtedly important factors in repressing activity. The stock exchange custom is for loans made on Friday to carry over until Monday, so that tomorrow is looked forward to with some solicitude. The call money market was quite active today, but was free from flurry, and, what was regarded with still greater satisfaction, foreign exchange receded a fraction. Bankers' loan bills were in the market, thus replenishing the supply, while the holiday in London and the cessation of the dribbling liquidation of stocks from that source lightened the demand for exchange. The fear of gold withdrawals this week was thus removed.

News from King Encouraging.

Although the London market was closed, the encouraging news regarding the condition of the king of England had some influence in keeping the local market firm. The feature of the day was the demand for St. Paul, resulting in an extreme rise of nearly two points. The movement was ostensibly based upon the good reports of spring wheat prospects. The buying was attributed to the western speculative element, which has led all recent movements, but there were indications of some further diversity in the sources of the buying. The fact that a full supply of preliminary literature was in circulation this morning indicated that the movement was under professional guidance. St. Paul was the real sustaining force of the market, although there was a collateral movement in Missouri Pacific. The announcement of the contract between the Pennsylvania railroad and the Postal Telegraph Company for the use of the former's rights of way seemed to have a depressing effect on some of the Gould stocks in sympathy with the decline of 1¾ in Western Union.

Copper Strangely Strong.

There was some strength in Amalgamated Copper without any news bearing on trade conditions to explain the buying. The dealers were almost entirely neglected and Reading closed the day with a small loss. The usual operators gave decided denials to rumors of measures of conciliation with the miners and of arrangements for the early reopening of the mines. The order for the curtailment of mining in the Western Pennsylvania bituminous mines was reported in force today. The May statement of earnings of Erie and New York, Ontario & Western showed the effects of the strike in large decreases in earnings. The Chesapeake & Ohio statement for the third week in June showed the same force at work to lessen the earning power of the Virginia and West Virginia soft coal carriers. The market closed dull and heavy, but generally higher than last night.

The bond market was firm. Total sales, par value, $2,070,000. United States 3s declined ¼ per cent on the last call.

THE NEWSBOYS' BAND.

A Chicago Organization Entertained at Schenley Park.

The large crowd that greeted the Chicago Newsboys' band at Schenley park last night proved that when a good attraction is at one of the city's pleasure grounds, cool, sweeping breezes and threatening clouds cannot keep those who like good music away.

These boys are a remarkable aggregation, 30 in all, and show what good training will do with a lot of youngsters. Their music was very good, as was evidenced by the liberal applause with which their efforts were received, and there certainly are some "commers" among them. They are booked for Oakwood for the rest of this week, having left there to play at Schenley for last night only.

MEET AT COLUMBUS NEXT.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 26.—At the last day of the Knights of St. John convention the following officers were elected: President, Henry J. Fries, Erie, Pa., re-elected; first vice president, Thomas McFarland, Philadelphia; second vice president, Edward C. Gansler, Reading, Pa.; secretary, M. J. Kane, editor of Knights of St. John, Buffalo, N. Y., for the tenth consecutive year; treasurer, Casper H. Schulte, Detroit; supreme trustees, Thomas J. Lally, Cleveland, and John P. Smith, Rochester; spiritual adviser, Bishop Henri L. Moeller, Columbus.

Like "Mary's Little Lamb," "Mary's Goat" also made its appearance in school. The children will be interested in next Sunday's Gazette without booklet. Don't miss the beautiful picture.

Credit Balances Advance Two Cents

After remaining at $1 20 for more than two months, the credit balance market got a lift at the opening yesterday morning, making the quotation $1 22 for Pennsylvania, North Lima, Somerset and South Lima and Indiana, $8c.

On the east side of the new Gordon sand development, near Folsom, Wetzel county, Miller Bros. have drilled in a test well on the E. A. Talkington farm and have a good producer. When a few feet in the sand the well began to flow at the rate of 15 barrels an hour, and the first 24 hours placed more than 300 barrels to its credit. This well is located in the same part of the development in which the South Penn Oil Company has been getting some fine producers.

On Bonsol creek, Ritchie county, Spence, Smith & Co.'s No. 1 on the T. E. Dye farm is producing 40 barrels a day and has not been drilled through the sand.

Will Drill a Wildcat.

In Freemans creek district, Lewis county, J. M. Guffey & Co. have completed the rig for a test well on the John Fallon farm.

At the mouth of Butchers run, Center district, Gilmer county, Tomkins & Poole have completed their test well on the Samuel Burk farm. They drilled to a depth of nearly 2,000 feet, and having found nothing in any of the regular gas sands, decided to pull the casing and abandon the hole.

Southeastern Ohio.

On the Ohio side, three-fourths of a mile northeast of the new Keener sand pool in Monroe county, the Ohio Oil company has developed a new feature at its test well on the G. W. Eaton farm. When it drilled into the Big lime, which lies about 30 feet above the Keener sand, a good show of oil was developed and the well is estimated to be good for 10 or 15 barrels a day from that level.

A Good Producer.

Near Germantown, Washington county, some good wells are being completed in the Machesburg 500-foot sand. Stephens, Boss & Co. have just drilled in their No. 3 on the James Jackson farm and have a show for a 125-barrel producer in that formation. In the same district Cowan, Fear & Graham has completed their No. 4 on the C. Hendershot farm and has a duster. In the Highland district, J. M. Guffey & Co. have completed No. 2 on the J. A. Holstein farm and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper in the Big Injun sand.

In the Bricker district, Harrison county, the J. F. Wilson Oil Company has completed its No. 5 on the A. J. Clifford farm and has a 5-barrel pumper.

Local Developments.

In the Smiths Ferry development, in Beaver county, John C. Royal has completed a test well on the Craig heirs' farm and has a duster.

The May report of Wheeling & Lake Erie shows an increase in net earnings of $40,023.

Earnings Norfolk & Western the third week of June increased $1,3585; from July 1 increased $1,245,992.

Southern Railway the third week in June increased gross $74,087, and for May increased net $57,592.

The Erie statement for May shows a decrease in gross earnings of $320,264 and an increase in net of $85,816.

The American Railways Company in a statement just reported showed net earnings of $368,243 for the 10 months to April 30. Surplus was $97,180, and the present total surplus is $303,483.

The annual report of the American Car and Foundry Company for the year ended April 30 shows gross earnings $8,503,928, increase, $368,535; net earnings, $4,266,092, increase, $229,775; surplus after dividends, $1,656,602, increase, $219,800.

Across the Beaver county line, in the Carson pool in Hancock county, E. A. Freshwater & Sons have completed a test well on the J. Cunningham farm and have a 5-barrel pumper. The aggregate daily output of the wells in this pool is now 1,000 barrels.

In the Speechley sand district in Butler county, the Southern Oil Company has drilled in No. 2 on the Mary Walker farm and No. 3 on the Wm. Stahl farm and has a show for a 3 and 5-barrel pumper.

In the Montgomery field, near the Allegheny and Butler county line, Eisler, O'Brien & Co. drilled their test on the Samuel Schwab farm deeper and got a second pay and now have a 40-barrel producer. In the same district, Mellon & Speer's No. 2 on the Samuel Fammas farm, which came in a fair gasser two weeks ago, has blown out and is a failure.

Local Stocks Still Very Dull and Quite Easy in Tone

MOST ACTIVE ISSUES WERE OFF IN PRICE

WINDOW GLASS DECLINED

River Coal and Philadelphia Company Common Were Fairly Active but Lower—Steel Issues Were Very Dull—Bonds Were Dull but Firm.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was again very dull and uninteresting, the total sales being but one share larger than those for Wednesday, when 2,984 changed hands. As a whole the tone was easy and the most active issues of the day generally closed fractionally off in price. Probably the most prominent features were in the banking group, and in this respect Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company was the leader, opening at 215, a drop of $12 from the last previous sale, and $45 below the high point of last May, when the stock was bid up to $260, $60 above the subscription price. Over 100 shares changed hands at that price when a rally occurred, the figure going up to $218 bid. Later it jumped to $220, and a sale of 10 shares at 221½ closed the day's market, with a loss of but 5¾ points. The decline was probably due to the efforts of speculators to realize profits on their subscriptions. Colonial Trust Company sold 70 shares and advanced $1 to 283, closing firm at that figure bid. Street and floor gossip was to the effect that the company will begin dividends on the stock at the rate of 12 per cent, payable quarterly, July 1. The bank owns practically all of the stock of the Freehold bank and of the City Trust Company. The latter declared 5 per cent semi-annually and a dividend would be due July 1, while the Freehold bank declared its regular quarterly dividend of 6 per cent April 1, after having been taken over by the Colonial, and another dividend is due July 1. The capital of the City Trust Company was $500,000, and the capital of the Freehold bank is $200,000, regular dividends on which will net the Colonial nearly $37,000. North American Savings Company was also firmer and advanced $2 to 92, being in fair demand. Traders and Mechanics' bank lost $1 at 87, and Real Estate Trust was firm and unchanged at 286. There are persistent rumors to the effect that the Real Estate Trust Company is shortly to get control of a downtown national bank, and despite emphatic official denials, bets were offered yesterday that official confirmation of the reports would be made within the next few weeks. In the general list there was but little of interest. Window Glass common was dull and ⅝ lower at 64⅝, while the steel shares were almost ignored. River Coal common at 12⅝ and Philadelphia Company common at 49 were both fairly active, but fractionally lower. Fire Proofing common and Pittsburgh Coal common both gained a fraction on small dealings. Bonds were dull, but firm and unchanged.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers.

FINANCIAL DRIFT.

The first sale of the day was 5 Crucible Steel common at 22⅝.

The New York stock exchange will be closed Friday and Saturday, July 4 and 5.

It is said that Clark, Dodge & Co. have bought 40,000 St. Paul in the past few days.

The approach of the Louisville & Nashville dividend meeting and rumors of an increase draw attention to the stock.

It is claimed that the bullish manipulation in Brooklyn Rapid Transit is intended to facilitate the sale of the new bonds.

It is stated positively by those in a position to know that the St. Paul dividend to be declared in September will be raised to a 7 per cent basis.

The London market in accordance with the arrangements made prior to the postponement of the coronation, will be closed for the rest of the week.

Shortly after 2 o'clock Masten offered 500 River Coal common at 12¾, and just before the close he sold it at 12⅝ to Hill & Co.; later Hill got 100 more at the same price.

The mayor of Philadelphia announces that sealed bids will be received until July 28, 12 m., for the purchase of $1,400,000 3½ per cent public improvement bonds of that city.

The real manipulating Chicago & Eastern Illinois in Wall street endeavored to take some of their profits and found so limited a market that they were only able to dispose of a few hundred shares.

Between 10:30 and 12:30 there were but 19 separate trades yesterday, against 27 the day before. Between 12:30 and 2 p. m. eight trades were posted, with a total of 500 shares, against nothing Wednesday.

The buying of St. Paul has pretty well cleaned up the floating supply of stock. The manipulation is attributed to the Gates crowd by some and by others it is thought to be the Rock Island crowd buying.

The members of the Pittsburgh stock exchange will vote this morning on a proposition to close the exchange from Thursday, July 3, at 2 p. m. to Monday, July 7, at 10 a. m., the New York stock exchange having already taken such action.

Commonwealth Real Estate & Trust Company sold at 215 near the opening, the lowest price for record for the stock. Lawrence sold 70 and Wilson 10 at that figure. Speed took 10 and Reed 25. The close was at 221½ for 10 shares, which Mr. Harbaugh bought.

The strength displayed by Amalgamated Copper was on alleged buying by Boston interests and the impression was current that the action of the next dividend might not only not prove a disappointment, but would actually be an agreeable surprise. Officials of the company had nothing to say on the subject.

Between the opening and 2 p. m. the heaviest trading was in Philadelphia Company common, 500 shares selling at 49; Dilworth, Lake & Moore and Morris & Brown each sold 200, while Robinson Bros. got 300 and Sproul & Co. and Holmes 100 each; later Morris & Brown and Holmes & Sons each sold 100 to Crawford & Eberman.

The capital stock of the United States Shipbuilding Company, which now stands at $10,000,000 common and $10,000,000 preferred, will be increased to $25,000,000 common and $20,000,000 preferred. The new capital is to be used mostly for the acquisition of Bethlehem Steel Company. The company is said to have on hand sufficient business to guarantee preferred dividends for several years.

I have just had a talk with a very conservative commission house principal who does business for the biggest people in the street. He says in his opinion and from what he is told and sees that both St. Paul and Illinois Central are cheap over all present figures and with make big money for those who buy them now. I agree with him, but would not buy all I wanted at present prices, preferring to average it if declines before it advances.—Sloan.

The Union Trust Company of Clairton, Clairton, Pa., opened yesterday for business. The directors of the company are as follows: Reuben Miller, H. C. Frick, Wm. P. Snyder, Frank H. Brown, James H. Lane, Charles E. Clapp, H. C. Mellhenney, William A. Carr, George C. Thorp, A. G. Wilson and Peter Marron. The officers are: William A. Carr, president; Chas. E. Clapp, vice president; A. Will Taylor, secretary and treasurer. This now gives Clairton the banking facilities which it long needed.

An assessment was made in New York yesterday that the Bowery Savings bank and the Bank for Savings, two of the five institutions which paid 4 per cent dividends to depositors last year and on January 1, would distribute only a like per cent on July 1 next, from the earnings of the last six months. This leaves the Seaman's, the Broadway and the Irving the only 4 per cent institutions on Manhattan island. At least one of these banks is considering a reduction. Its president saying that it would probably be compelled to go to a 3½ per cent basis in December next, with the declaration of an occasional extra dividend according to circumstances. From that course, therefore, Wall street learns from New York: The dullness of the money market, due entirely to speculation, has largely prevented attention being called to the price of exchange, which is hovering on the verge of gold exports to Europe. In the comptroller's report, published several weeks ago, he stated that the surplus reserves of the banks of the country were nearly 2 per cent less than a year ago, and were only a little over 27 per cent. With such conditions while the volume of general business is as great as it is now the New York money market is not in a position to stand any heavy drain of gold, as we must expect around the first of September for money to move the crops to be used in moving crops. This is bound to cut a figure in any attempted bull speculation.

The story of "Mary's Gont" is told in catchy poetry. It will be one of next Sunday's Gazette supplements. The other will be a beautiful picture ready for framing.

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Yesterday was a day of very light receipts, only 10 cars arriving, none coming in over the Pennsylvania lines. All of these were hay with the exception of one car of oats. Another advance was made in quotations for oats, prices for No. 3 reaching 56 cents, with other grades proportionately strong. No other changes were made, although corn is holding very firm at prices quoted.

PUBLIC SALES OF TWO PROPERTIES IN ALLEGHENY

Frank Jones Secures the Residence at No. 823 Lincoln Avenue.

TWO DEALS IN EAST END

Woodlawn Cemetery Will Have 20 Trustees—Fine Houses Planned for Squirrel Hill—Homestead Syndicate Buys Property for $60,000.

Two of the best residence properties in Allegheny were offered at public sale yesterday to settle estates. Only one of them was sold, the property of the late George W. Hulley, at No. 823 Lincoln avenue, near Irwin avenue. This is a two-story and mansard dwelling, containing 12 rooms. It stands on a lot having a frontage of 50 feet, with an extreme depth of 132 feet to a paved alley. The auction was conducted by George Johnson and considerable interest was manifested among the 20 or more visitors. The property was finally knocked down for $12,650 to a bidder who secured the property for Frank Jones of the firm of Jones & Laughlins, limited.

The other property put on the block was the William Semple homestead, on the west side of Irwin avenue, near Beech street. The lot is 65x220 feet and the residence is a three-story brick dwelling. The highest bid received was $13,000, and the auctioneer, Samuel McClay, announced that the sale was off and that the property would be disposed of privately.

A $25,000 Sale in Wilkinsburg.

James White of Steubenville, O., has purchased from H. H. Freeman and Ira C. Ewing a three-story brick store and flat building in Wilkinsburg, for $25,000. The building occupies a lot 68x95 feet at the southeast corner of Swissvale and Penn avenues. It was built by Freeman & Turpit two years ago, and recently Mr. Ewing bought the Turpit interest. Besides the three store rooms on the first floor the building has six flats, each containing three rooms and a bath. The property was purchased for an investment.

Through the agency of Edsall & Hamm, C. F. Hamm has sold a fine residence property on the north side of Stanton avenue, just east of Portland place, Ninth ward, for $20,000. The residence is a new colonial brick house containing 12 rooms, provided with all the latest conveniences, and the lot measures 50x125 feet. The purchaser, whose name was withheld, is a South Side woman who bought the residence for a home.

Cemetery Project Has Good Backing.

That the success of the Woodlawn cemetery project being engineered by the Real Estate Trust Company is practically assured is proven by the support which it has enlisted from business and professional men. The location is considered an ideal one for burial purposes and the need of another cemetery in the East End district has enabled the promoters to secure the largest board of trustees of any cemetery in the county. The persons have agreed to serve in that capacity as soon as the cemetery company is fairly organized:

David P. Black, president Real Estate Trust Co.; Joseph Langfitt, president Federal National bank; Frederick Bausman, president Savings bank of Wilkinsburg; A. W. Dorr, president First National bank of Wilkinsburg; Samuel McKee, president Guarantee Title & Trust Co.; Thomas Peebles, vice president Bank; J. R. Paul, cashier Citizens Deposit bank, East Liberty; P. J. Pierce, cashier First National bank of Wilkinsburg; Frank Miller, cashier Central National bank of Wilkinsburg; James Ralph, attorney; S. B. Donaldson, attorney; W. C. Lyne, manager National Life Insurance Co.; Dr. J. E. Rigg, president Wilkinsburg board of health; Dr. Daniel Carhart, dean Western University of Pennsylvania; John Horman, president Wilkinsburg Electric Light Co.; John W. Beatty, director of Carnegie Art gallery; Arthur E. McNary; Col. A. J. Logan, president Chamber of Commerce. Charles D. Armstrong, Armstrong Cork Co.; the Hon. William P. Potter, judge of the supreme court of Pennsylvania; James M. Jarvis, trust officer Real Estate Trust Co.; F. B. Thomb, ex-burgess of Wilkinsburg; John E. Shaw, manager of the Penn building; David Lloyd, president People's Savings bank, and Henry J. Heinz, the pickle manufacturer.

Two Fine Residences for Squirrel Hill.

Architects Vrydaugh & Wolfe have let the contract for the A. M. Neeper residence, to be built in Woodland road, Squirrel hill, to Golden & Crick. This residence, which will cost $50,000, will be one of the finest adaptations of the old English manor house in this part of the country. The bids were very reasonable and no revision of plans to bring down the cost was necessary. Vrydaugh & Wolfe report that they have had very little trouble on account of high prices so far this year.

Another costly residence will soon be started in the Squirrel Hill district, the exact location being in Forbes street on the property adjoining the W. R. Mellon holdings. The owner of the new house will be Julian Kennedy and the architects Grow & Graham. They will receive bids on its erection next week. The residence will be a brownstone dwelling and will have 20 rooms.

Architect T. D. Evans is receiving estimates on the convent of St. Peter's Roman Catholic church, to be erected in Arch street, Allegheny, opposite the new high school building. The building will be of brick, three stories high, with dimensions 50x32 feet and a wing, 32x40 feet.

Building Outside of Pittsburgh.

Bids are being taken in the office of Architect Charles M. Robinson for a three-story brick addition to the city hospital at Altoona, to cost about $15,000. The same architect is taking bids on the three-story pressed brick building of the Citizens Trust Company as Latrobe, the estimated cost of which is the same. He is also receiving estimates on two Latrobe residences, one for Marcus Saxman, to cost $11,000, and the other for D. W. Jones, to cost $7,000. Another residence, to cost $8,000, is to be built by Mrs. A. A. Allison in Waynesburg, from plans being prepared in the same office.

Architect H. C. Bair is preparing plans for the new city hospital at Uniontown and bids for the excavation for the same have been let for $3,800. The hospital, Architect J. A. Miller has plans for an $8,500 brick residence for S. L. Gerberding, to be built in Kelly street.

Robert C. Newton of Chicago has sold to Edward F. Swift a property on the south side of Carson street, near Twenty-first street, for $3,800. The lot measures 24x100 feet, extending back to Carey alley, and is improved with a two-story brick building.

A number of Homestead men have completed the purchase of a tract of land in Munhall borough for a price approximating $50,000. The property formerly belonged to the Carnegie Land Company and extends from the Homestead Carnegie library to the Homestead borough line, and from Tenth to Thirteenth avenues. The names of the purchasing syndicate follow: Homestead Realty Company, Burgess J. C. Miller, Latham & Co., E. E. Baldwin, C. Hayden Sweadner, J. M. Molsmphy, Thomas L. Parry, H. P. Wiggins, L. L. Slocum, John O. Miller, Attorney J. M. Wright and Attorney J. G. Silveus.

Ground has been broken for a four-story addition to the Mercy hospital, the cut of which appeared in The Gazette several months ago. The new building will come down to the corner of Forbes and Pride streets. It is to be followed by another addition making the hospital the largest and best equipped in the city. Both additions were planned by Architect S. F. Heckert.

Pittsburgh building permits were issued yesterday to Meyer Glass, for a brick extension to a dwelling at No. 2019 Center avenue, to cost $4,500, and to Mc Clough, Dalzell & Co., for a brick extension to a store at Thirty-sixth street and the Allegheny Valley railroad, to cost $4,000.

Sale of a New House.

Through the agency of Ira M. Burchfield, H. H. Willock has sold to George T. Stephenson of the Safe Deposit & Trust Company a nine-room brick house on a lot, 50x150 feet, on the south side of Linden avenue, near Beechwood boulevard, Squirrel hill, for $9,000. This is the first one of the six new residences Mr. Willock built last year to be sold; it was finished in March.

Miss Mary Morehead has purchased from Fred Muller of Sewickley a farm of 150 acres, near Zelienople, Butler county, for a price approximating $10,000.

Apple avenue: The United Realty Trust Company sold to the Gorden estate to John Dole, a four-room house, lot 99x100 feet, in Apple avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $2,500.

Chancer street: Edsall & Hamm sold for John C. Knipp to Alexander F. McKee, a five-room frame house, Chancer street, Twenty-first ward, for $2,500. In part payment Mr. Knipp received three lots, 25x100 feet each, on the east side of Lemington avenue, Liberty View plan, which are valued at $1,500. Three frame houses, to cost $2,000 each, are to be built on the property at once.

East End Transfers.

BELIEVED THAT GUTHRIE WILL STAY ON TICKET

HOME FROM CONVENTION

Guffey and Guthrie Returned on the Same Train, but Did Not Occupy the Same Seat—Guffey Doesn't Know Guthrie's Plans.

Attorney George W. Guthrie will accept the Democratic nomination for the lieutenant governorship of Pennsylvania. Although Mr. Guthrie has made no public statement to this effect, it was reported that his intention was made known to his most intimate friends yesterday afternoon after he returned from the convention.

Mr. Guthrie has not yet been officially notified of his nomination. The committee appointed to notify the candidates of their nomination has neither communicated with nor called upon him, and until this notification is received he will neither accept nor decline the office.

George W. Guthrie returned home from the convention at Erie yesterday afternoon. He came in a special train, together with Col. James M. Guffey and several hundred Democratic citizens of Western Pennsylvania. En route to Pittsburgh Col. Guffey and Mr. Guthrie held no conference. They greeted each other pleasantly at the Erie railroad station, but did not sit in the same seat during any part of the journey home.

Awaiting Notification.

When Mr. Guthrie was seen at his East End home last night he refused to say whether or not he would accept the nomination. He thought it would be discourteous to speak of his nomination by the convention. He said:

"I have not yet been notified officially of my nomination and cannot tell just when I will be. It would not be the right thing at this time to discuss my nomination, and I do not care to do so. I am satisfied with the work of the Erie convention, and will work hard for the support of the Democratic state ticket this fall."

"Have you had a conference with Col. Guffey since returning to Pittsburgh?" was asked.

"Will you discuss any convention politics?"

"No, I have not the least desire to do so."

The intimate political friends and advisers of Mr. Guthrie stated positively yesterday afternoon that it was his intention to accept the nomination. Being a stanch supporter of the Democratic party, his friends reasoned that he could not turn down the office, especially when it was tendered to him by acclamation.

Says He Doesn't Know.

Col. James M. Guffey was at his office until late yesterday afternoon. When asked about the convention he stated that everything had gone well, but he was averse to discussing any politics at all.

"Will Mr. Guthrie accept the lieutenant governorship nomination?" was asked.

"Now, I do not know any of Mr. Guthrie's plans. You will have to ask him about that. He alone knows whether or not he will accept the nomination."

It was stated yesterday that Col. Guffey had been informed before the Pittsburgher was nominated for second place on the ticket that he would accept it. In case he had refused ex-Judge Reyburn would have received the nomination.

STRAWBRIDGE HAS DECLINED TO RUN

His Decision Is in the Hands of the Committee Which Meets Today.

When the sub-committee of the Citizens committee of 32, named to consider the protest against Attorney Ralph M. Strawbridge as a candidate for assembly from the Fifth district, meets this afternoon it will have little to do. Mr. Strawbridge has written a letter to the committee declining the nomination. This action will pacify the Democrats, who have insisted on getting Strawbridge off the ticket. Henry Nichols, common councilman from the Sixteenth ward, is a candidate for the nomination and may be placed on the ticket.

At a meeting of the general committee of the Citizens party, to be held in Stalwart Republican headquarters in Third avenue at 8 o'clock this afternoon, it may be decided what nominees for leading state offices are to be supported by the Citizens at the fall election. If George W. Guthrie had been nominated for governor the Citizens party would have supported him for the office, but the nomination of ex-Governor Pattison changes the situation materially.

The Citizens will, in all probability, decide to support Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker for governor and William M. Brown for lieutenant governor. If this is done there will probably be another column on the official election ballot at the coming election.

The Union party, it was understood yesterday, will indorse the nominations of ex-Governor Pattison and George W. Guthrie. At the Democratic primaries to be held next Tuesday the Citizens county ticket will be indorsed.

The Republicans of Allegheny county will have the privilege of supporting the state ticket and also of voting for the nominees of the Citizens party for all the county offices. The Democrats can vote for their nominated candidates for governor and lieutenant governor and also support the nominees of the Citizens county ticket. The Union party will support the Democratic nominees for the state offices and it is said to be their intention to support the Citizens county ticket.
